PLAN REOPENING OF STRIKEBOUND HARVESTER UNIT

AFL Ready to Pass CIO Picket Line.

On page 6 is a series of interviews with International Harvester company employes who have been thrown out of work by strikes.

Officials of the International Harvester company, in an all-day conference yesterday, formulated plans to reopen the company McCormick works in Chicago.

This plant, at Blue Island and Western avenues, has been shut down nearly three weeks by a strike of the Farm Equipment Workers' Organizing committee [CIO]. The company's nearby tractor works at 2600 West 31st street has been closed seven weeks by an FEWOC strike.

Police Protection Pledged.

Altho no official statement was made by the company after yesterday's meeting, it became known that the McCormick works would resume operations perhaps by the end of this week or early next week. Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police of Chicago, said that whenever the plant was ready to open adequate protection would be given to any employés who desired to return to work and that striking workers would not be permitted to interfere.

More than 1,000 members of the recently formed McCormick works AFL union attended a gathering at 25th street and Claremont avenue and cheered speeches by organizers who announced the union would go thru the CIO picket lines to work as soon as the plant is opened.

Other Locals May Picket.

Ernest Pugh, CIO regional director, said he has sent telegrams to 200 presidents of locals in the Chicago area, asking them to attend a meeting in the Midland hotel tonight to discuss ways to help the strikers.

"We will draw up some sort of plan," he said. "It may take the form of financial aid or it may mean that other CIO locals will help in the picketing."

At the Richmond, Ind., Harvester plant it was announced that arrangements for reopening would be made as soon as adequate protection could be furnished those employés willing to work. The Richmond plant also is shut down by CIO action, but it has been announced that more than 700 of the 1,164 workers have signed petitions asking that the plant reopen.

Peace Attempts Fail.

The FEWOC called its strike at the tractor works in Chicago on Jan. 29, seven weeks ago yesterday, and 6,500 workers there have been idle since. At this plant the CIO union is the legally designated bargaining agent.

Numerous attempts at negotiation have failed. Union demands are for a basic minimum wage of 75 cents an hour for men and 65 cents for women instead of the present 62½ cents; elimination of piece work and adjustment of wage inequalities, and payments to men in military service.

There has been no move to reopen the tractor plant. The situation there is somewhat different from that at McCormick. At the latter plant there has been no designated bargaining agent since the National Labor Relations board in early February dispossessed an independent union on the ground it was company dominated. [This is denied by the company.]

AFL Majority Claimed.

The McCormick employés continued to work until Feb. 28, when a detail of about 50 CIO men invaded the plant, called out their members, and forcibly ejected others. There were a few fights and the non-CIO forces refused to leave until the company, fearful of the disorders, shut off the plant power and requested that all the workers leave.

Harry O'Reilly and Irving Brown, AFL organizers, now claim a substantial majority of the McCormick workers, and their insistence on reopening has been a large factor in the company officials' decision. They have said repeatedly that their union has no complaint about wages and hours and that it wants to get its members back to earning. The 6,000 McCormick workers are losing about $200,000 in pay weekly, and the tractor workers are losing about the same amount.

The AFL has requested a plant election under NLRB supervision, but the CIO has refused to agree.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

LABOR, PUBLIC AND INDUSTRY REPRESENTED

President Acts to End Arms Tieup.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—President Roosevelt today appointed a super mediation board to settle labor disputes as a wave of strikes in armament industries and government projects put 40,000 workmen out of work and endangered the whole rearmament program.

Shortly before he left for a vacation cruise the President signed an executive order creating the National Defense Mediation board as an adjunct of the Office for Emergency Management, and appointed the new board's 11 members, headed by Clarence A. Dykstra, director of the national draft and president of the University of Wisconsin, who will be chairman.

The board is charged with mediating labor disputes in the armament industries or wherever production for the military and naval forces is imperiled. The board is to enter such controversies after the secretary of labor has certified that any dispute, excepting those coming under the railway labor act, cannot be adjusted by the labor department's conciliation service.

All Sides Represented.

In announcing the personnel of the new mediation board the President said that four members would represent labor, four represent management and three will represent the public. Those appointed were:

For the public—Dykstra, William H. Davis, New York patent lawyer, and Frank P. Graham, president of the University of North Carolina.

For labor—George Meany of New York, general secretary of the American Federation of Labor; George M. Harrison of Ohio, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks; Philip Murray of Pennsylvania, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and Thomas Kennedy of Pennsylvania, secretary treasurer of the CIO United Mine Workers.

For management: Walter C. Teagle of Connecticut, former president of Standard Oil company of New Jersey; Roger D. Lapham, California, president of the American-Hawaiian Steamship company; Eugene Meyer of Washington, D. C., publisher of the Washington Post, and Cyrus Ching, Pennsylvania, vice president of United States Rubber corporation.

Foe of Dies Investigation.

In connection with Dykstra's appointment it was recalled that the senate delayed confirmation of his appointment as draft director last fall when it was disclosed that he had signed a petition against continuation of the Dies committee investigation of un-American activities. He signed as a member of the "American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom," a majority of whose members belong to communist front organizations, according to Dies committee records.

Each member of the board will receive necessary traveling expenses and those not already in government service will receive $25 a day. The board was authorized to:

1. Make every reasonable attempt to adjust and settle any controversy or dispute by assisting the parties involved to negotiate agreements for that purpose.

2. Afford means for voluntary arbitration with an agreement by the parties to abide by the decision arrived at upon such arbitration.

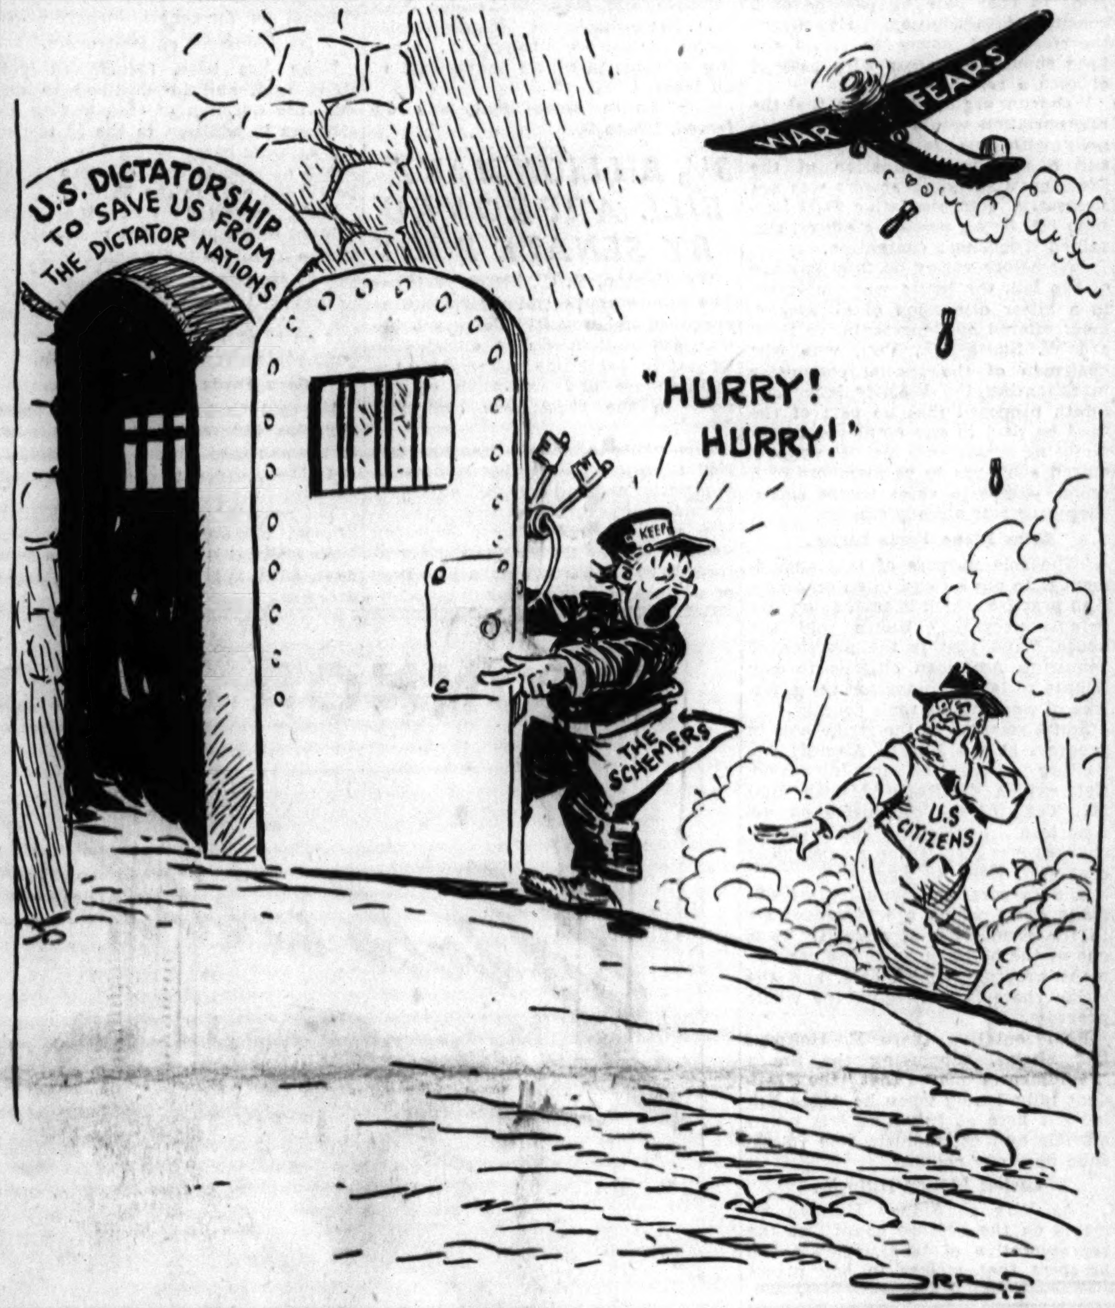
Can Investigate Issues.

3. Assist in establishing, when desired by the parties, methods of resolving future controversies or disputes between parties.

4. Investigate issues between employers and employés, and practices and activities with respect to such controversy or dispute.

While accepting the board as a step in the right direction, Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], exponent of legislation to deal with armament strikes, noted that the powers of the board were mostly of an advisory nature and dependent upon the wishes of the involved parties. What is needed, Hoffman said, is a law outlawing strikes at factories producing defense articles when the majority of the workers is against a walkout.

THE ONE WAY BOMBPROOF SHELTER



A SCREW DRIVER SOLVES A CRIME

Stolen Safe Recovered; Suspect Seized.

Police found no evidence but a screw driver when they investigated the theft of a safe from Dr. W. W. Tarr's dental office at 3954 North avenue on Monday. But last night they had Wilbert Tuffel in custody as a suspect, and they said that the print of one of his fingers had been found on the safe.

Tuffel is 20 years old. Police said that Judge John A. Sbarbaro placed him on probation last June 2 after Tuffel and a youthful gang had confessed burglaries in 45 homes.

Screw Driver on Floor.

Dr. Tarr's safe weighs more than 350 pounds, but it was taken last week-end from his office, with the $53 it contained and $35 worth of gold and several hundred dollars worth of bridgework. The office door evidently had been forced with a screw driver found on the floor. On its handle was stamped the name of E. Hinspater.

Guessing that this was the name of a mechanic who owned the screw driver, Sergt. Arthur Katt and Edward Waller of the detective bureau began a search for Hinspater. They found a William Hinspater at 5000 Wabansia avenue. He said he had a son, Emil, who was a tool and die maker living in Elmwood Park.

Trail Leads to Cicero.

The detectives telephoned the son, asking him what had become of his screw driver. He replied that he had left it in the tavern of his father-in-law, John Tuffel, at 5427 25th street, Cicero, after building an extension to the bar. The toolmaker said he knew because his wife's brother, Wilbert, had telephoned to say that he had found it and wanted to keep it.

The detectives questioned young Tuffel. He said he knew nothing of the screw driver except that it had disappeared from the tavern, and denied stealing the safe. But in the garage behind the tavern they found the safe—empty.

Young Tuffel was locked up. He still denied taking the safe last night after the detectives told him that the print of one of his fingers matched a print found on the safe.

CHAIRMAN MAKES A MOTION; VICTIM IS CARRIED OUT INSTEAD!

East St. Louis, Ill., March 19 [Special].—When the chairman banged his gavel for order it landed on the head of Jack Dougherty, a salesman for the Slack Furniture company, St. Louis. Dougherty was picked up from the floor and an ambulance took him to a hospital for emergency treatment.

The incident took place last night at a meeting of the East St. Louis Retail Clerks' union [AFL]. Dougherty made the mistake of standing too close to the presiding officer, Fred Thayer, the union president, while arguing over the issuance of permit cards to substitute clerks.

BRITAIN URGED TO BAN VOTE UNTIL 3 YEARS AFTER WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 19.—Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister, today declared it would not be right to have a general election in Great Britain until about three years after the war ends.

"Nobody can foretell what the time should be, but I am sure that three years is nearer the mark than three weeks or three months," he said. "A general election following closely upon an armistice would be disastrous."

Some quarters have protested against the so-called necessity of a democratic government entrenching itself in power without giving the people an opportunity to exercise their franchise.

The government has replied that the present political truce is necessary to prevent impairment of the war effort thru political conflicts. The reason given for prolonging the wartime parliament after the war is to assure the success of plans for reconstruction.

Dynamite Blast Behind Church Injures Fourteen

Lyons, Ind., March 19 (AP).—A stick of dynamite exploded mysteriously behind the Free Methodist church here tonight during a service and three women and a girl were cut and shaken and 10 other persons were injured slightly. Charles Blanton, Greene county sheriff, said several persons told of seeing a man carrying a bundle run from the back of the church. The Rev. R. C. Eastham, pastor, said he had no personal enemies.

AMERICA IN WAR, COMMONS TOLD

New Minister Will Seek Tighter Blockade.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 19.—"America is now in the war. She was slow to come to her decision, but when she did she moved with irresistible power."

A. Beverley Baxter, Conservative, made this statement in the house of commons today in scoffing at a demand that the house be given a chance to debate the bases-destroyers deal. This is the deal in which the United States gave 50 destroyers for air and naval base sites it is to get on British soil in the western hemisphere.

Minister to Push Blockade.

While commons was discussing the bases deal, Prof. Noel Hall, who will soon leave for Washington, D. C., to be minister in charge of economic warfare work in the British embassy, explained his mission to the press. He defined it thus: "To obtain American collaboration in maintaining the right form of pressure [blockade] on Europe."

It is a great humanitarian mission, he added, because it seeks to advance an alternative that would make unnecessary the killing of young man power on the battlefield.

In the discussion of the bases deal in commons Baxter, who is a native of Canada, former editor in chief of the Daily Express, and a world war army officer, declared the deal meant the "birth of a new Anglo-Saxon understanding," and asked: "At such a moment are we to say to America, 'Wait a moment; parliament wants to talk about the terms and who gets the contracts?'"

"Gestapo" Methods Charged.

Sir Archibald Southby, Conservative, had demanded a secret session to debate administration of the bases the United States is to receive.

R. R. Stokes, Laborite, said the British government was adopting "Gestapo [German secret police] methods" toward parliament.

On behalf of the government, Lord Privy Seal Clement Attlee said it would be impossible for him to promise commons a debate on the subject before the agreement was signed.

London Raided in Heaviest Attack of 1941

LONDON, March 20, Thursday (AP).—A great German air armada dropped thousands of bombs over a broad area of London in a six hour overnight raid, dealing death to uncounted numbers in the city's most thickly populated districts and reminding Londoners of last September's terrific raids. It was the heaviest raid of this year.

Rescue squads augmented by soldiers dug for hours to save persons trapped in new ruins as London once more took its turn in the Germans' city-a-night raid tactics.

Bombs Hit Four Hospitals.

A hotel was partly wrecked and many homes in several areas were destroyed. Four hospitals were hit.

Antiaircraft fire destroyed at least one raider, which fell in flames, adding to the glow of countless Nazi flares and the flashes of bomb blasts and gunfire. Some persons considered the antiaircraft barrage thrown up the heaviest of the war.

Observers said the attack, which began as soon as the stars came out and continued with increasing fury on past midnight, was a renewal of the concentrated and destructive assaults of last autumn.

Hull Cleans Up Wreckage.

German air activity during the daytime hours yesterday was light, but at Hull, English east coast city of 300,000 population, workers sought to clear the wreckage of one of the heaviest German night attacks on British provincial centers. Many persons were killed there Tuesday night.

Violent explosions and fires were started by the RAF on Tuesday night at the German naval bases of Kiel and Wilhelmshaven, the air ministry said.

Oil storage tanks at Rotterdam, the docks at Emden, Germany; "a target" at Texel, and two airdromes in Holland also were reported raided.

Animal Fable Arouses Axis to Angry Roar

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 19 (AP).—A simple tale told in bedtime story fashion blew up a furious diplomatic storm here tonight, particularly among the Italian and German diplomats seeking to woo Jugo-Slavia into the axis.

The Belgrade newspaper Pravda printed the story. Axis diplomats immediately expressed displeasure and admitted that only the delicacy of the negotiations with Jugo-Slavia prevented strong official protests—if not worse. Here's the story:

"In the forest one day the WOLF decided things were all wrong in the animal world. Some smaller animals were getting more to eat than they deserved. The LION was too completely master of the situation, so the WOLF decided something had to be done about it—only those of WOLF blood should be allowed to rule.

Gobbles Up the Beetles.

"The WOLF started out by gobbling up all the BEETLES in sight on the ground they lacked WOLF blood in their veins and were a nuisance anyway. Then he started swallowing a few smaller animals.

"The LION paid no attention to their pleas because he himself had eaten a few smaller animals in his day. But as the WOLF came nearer the LION'S den the LION got nervous and announced he would fight the WOLF.

"Then the HARE, admiring the WOLF, said he would like to become the WOLF'S ally.

"'You are a coward by nature,' the WOLF replied, 'but if you disguise yourself I will accept you.'

"The HARE agreed.

"The FOX, allied with the LION, at first pretended to fight the WOLF but soon gave up because he was old, worn out, and lazy. The HARE in disguise entered the battle just as it was ending, seizing the FOX'S tail as a trophy. Then, swelling with pride, the HARE began attacking the weakest animals — BIRDS, FISH, FROGS.

Flees Across Desert.

"But when the HARE heard the LION'S roar he started fleeing across the desert. Then his disguise fell off and other animals realized that altho he had taken on the teeth of a PANTHER he was no PANTHER, altho he could run backward like a DEER he was no DEER, altho he wore the EAGLE'S feathers he was no EAGLE.

"The WOLF finally told him, 'If only I had you as an enemy I could quickly dispose of you, but inasmuch as you are my ally I must protect you. The best I can say for you is you at least have a good ally.'"

HOUSE PASSES AID TO BRITAIN BILL BY 6 TO 1

Prowar Bloc Beats All Amendments.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—By a 6 to 1 vote the house tonight passed and sent to the senate the bill appropriating 7 billion dollars for President Roosevelt to spend under authority of the war dictatorship measure.

Senate approval is expected next week for the huge fund, which will be used to procure war materials and send them to Great Britain and other countries at war with the axis powers.

Recommittal Motion Loses.

The house voted 337 to 55 in favor of the appropriation. Earlier it had rejected, 258 to 132, a motion to recommit the measure in order to add a prohibition against expenditure of any part of the fund outside of the continental United States and a requirement for adequate collateral from nations receiving benefits.

Forty-five Republicans and six Democrats voted with three Progressives and one American-Laborite against the fund. The huge majority was made up of 232 Democrats, 104 Republicans, and one Farmer-Laborite.

Speed was the keynote of the latest congressional action on the "aid to Britain" program. The President sent to the house his request for 7 billions one week ago today, 24 hours after he had signed the dictator measure giving him unprecedented authority to help the enemies of Germany, Japan, and Italy.

Debate Totals 12 Hours.

After secret hearings which lasted two days, the house appropriations committee approved the full amount yesterday noon. Six hours of debate yesterday and another six hours devoted to amendments today was deemed by the Democratic majority to constitute sufficient consideration of the third greatest military spending bill in the nation's history.

[Twelve billion and seven and a half billion dollar war appropriation measures were approved by congress in 1917-'18.]

All amendments proposed to the measure were defeated. A group of Republicans fought fruitlessly to reduce the appropriation by 2 billion dollars and to insert other alterations intended to remove war implications from the measure. The Democratic majority, aided by a number of Republicans, functioned ruthlessly to beat down all proposed changes.

Fight Centers on War Aims.

The debate was fierce, centering mainly on President Roosevelt's war motives. As an instance of the administration's war aims, it was charged, denied, and later verified in the heated discussion that the United States fleet has ordered its warships painted the same dark gray as British warships in order that fighting ships of the two nations may be indistinguishable.

"This is a diabolical perversion of the art of camouflage," Representative Karl Mundt [R., S. D.] shouted at the Democratic majority. "Camouflage is supposed to decrease danger. This use of it increases the danger to our ships which now may not be distinguished from British ships by German submarines. It is clearly an attempt to increase the possibility of getting us into war."

Denial Later Is Upset.

Several Democrats arose to state that they did not believe that such an order had been issued to the fleet. Representative Frank E. Hook [D., Mich.] came rushing in to declare that he had just talked with Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and had been told there was no truth in the report.

There was applause from the majority, but a few minutes later Representative William E. Hess [R., O.] informed the house that he had just talked to Rear Admiral Alexander H. Van Keuren, assistant chief of the bureau of ships of the navy, who verified the story.

The incident caused some excitement. It moved Representative William P. Lambertson [R., Kas.] to assert that President Roosevelt was "almost tearfully joyful" at the prospect of becoming a war President.

Lambertson led the move to slash 2 billions from the bill's amount.

"This 7 billion total is greater than any member of this house anticipated

Administration Bloc Beats Off All Amendments.

when H. R. 1776 was passed," he declared. "Let us prove that we still hold the purse strings of the government. Certainly 5 billions is sufficient to start aid to Britain rolling, and if more is needed we will certainly be in session thruout this year to appropriate more.

"Great Britain hasn't acted in good faith in this matter. She is holding back assets."

Representative August H. Andresen [R., Minn.] supported the Lambertson amendment. He noted Britain has 2 billion 700 million dollars worth of war materials on order in the United States, including orders for 14,000 fighting planes of all types which have not yet been delivered.

Raises Production Question.

"Our first duty is to see that the weapons ordered by Britain are delivered," Andresen said. "Why doesn't the administration speed up production by stopping strikes at defense factories? We are passing this huge appropriation when we are in no position to deliver what Britain has already ordered."

Representative Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.], who piloted the measure, pleaded however that the bill would be "crippled" by any amendments. He urged adoption of the measure exactly as it was reported by the appropriations committee.

The Lambertson amendment was defeated, 162 to 63.

Ship Fund Cut Rejected.

Representative John M. Robsion [R., Ky.] then proposed that the 629 million dollars in the bill for the acquisition of ships for Britain be slashed to 300 millions.

"Let us remember," he said, "that this bill imposes a burden of $250 upon every family in America. Let us examine the needs of the British in the way of ships.

"According to a statement issued by Lloyd's, England had 21,000,000 tons of shipping at the outset of the war. She acquired 12,320,000 additional tons when France, Norway, Denmark, and other countries fell. She has lost 4 million tons in warfare. That still leaves her 8 million tons more than she had when war began, not counting the tonnage she has built since that time.

"Let us not make the American taxpayer put up 629 million dollars for Great Britain for ships when her necessity is not shown to be great."

Robsion's amendment was defeated, 96 to 42.

Port Restriction Beaten.

Representative Mundt proposed a provision that the President should not violate the act of Panama barring belligerent ships from ports in this hemisphere. It was beaten, 107 to 62.

Representative Everett M. Dirksen [R., Ill.] noted that the bill states that the 7 billion dollars shall be available to the President until June 30, 1943, when the dictatorship bill expires. He reminded the house that an amendment, sponsored by him, gave congress power to terminate the powers of the President at any time prior to that date by passage of a concurrent resolution. He urged therefore that power to spend the fund should also cease with passage of such a resolution.

Woodrum argued, however, that the appropriation would cease automatically with passage of the resolution and a specific termination of the President's spending powers was not necessary. Representative Fritz Lanham [D., Tex.], presiding officer, sustained Woodrum's contention.

Just before voting on final passage of the bill, the house was embroiled in a bitter discussion of an amendment offered by Representative Howard W. Smith [D., Va.], who was chairman of the special committee investigating the Wagner labor act. Smith proposed that no part of the fund be paid to any employer manufacturing armaments articles who required employés to be members of a union, except in cases where closed shop contracts already existed.

Cites Plane Parts Strike.

"The sole purpose of this amendment is to put an end to an un-American practice which is sabotaging our defense program," Smith told the house, "and that is the practice of requiring American citizens to pay tribute to labor unions for the privilege of working for their country."

Smith referred to the strike now in progress at the Harvill Aircraft Die Casting corporation in Inglewood, Cal., which Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] of the committee on un-American activities had earlier charged was inspired by a communist organizer, Kenneth Eggert.

The corporation manufactures airplane parts which are indispensable to the production of aircraft. It is one of the bottlenecks of the rearmament program, Smith said, and the strike there is sabotaging the whole program.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], supporting the Smith amendment, declared that "the President talks loudly when he defies Hitler but here at home he lets union officials and communists ride roughshod over our people."

Lashes Sidney Hillman.

"As long as Sidney Hillman remains on the defense council as the representative of labor, there is no prospect that strikes in key plants will be lessened," Hoffman said.

[Removal of Hillman, former CIO official, from the Office of Production Management was urged upon President Roosevelt yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Florida Federation of Labor at Tampa, Fla.]

Democratic Majority Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts spoke against the amendment, asserting it constituted an indictment of all labor.

The Smith amendment was defeated, 125 to 70.

British Sea Tonnage Grows

Illustration of how British sea tonnage has increased since the beginning of the war, according to figures revealed by Congressman John M. Robsion (R., Ky.) in the house of representatives. The figures, said Robsion, were in a statement issued by Lloyd's.

3½ BILLION NAVY BILL APPROVED BY SENATE BODY

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The senate appropriations committee approved unanimously today a 3 billion 446 million dollar outlay—the largest in peacetime history—for the maintenance and expansion of the navy in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The house approved measure carried 1 billion 515 million dollars in appropriations and contract authority for new ships to speed the construction of a two ocean fleet. Included were funds for six battle cruisers of from 20,000 to 25,000 tons, a new type of modern fighting ship.

NAVY TO SUPPLY MOSQUITO CRAFT TO GREAT BRITAIN

Secretary Tells of Plea for Use of Yards.

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said today that the navy's first aid to Britain under the lend-lease program would be to supply light surface vessels, such as submarine chasers, motor torpedo boats and other mosquito vessels.

At the same time, he disclosed that the British government had asked to use United States navy yards for the repair of war damaged vessels. No action, Knox said, had been taken on this request.

The moquito vessels, he told a press conference, should be useful in combatting enemy craft in the English channel and for general inshore work.

No Comment on Destroyers.

None has been transferred yet, Knox said, and he declined to discuss the question of transferring destroyers in addition to the 50 traded for Atlantic bases. He said he had not heard of reports that cruisers might be turned over to the British.

Knox asserted that the navy "ought to get pretty fast production" of the mosquito boats henceforth, because manufacturers had virtually completed their period of preparation for mass production. He said the navy had on hand about a dozen motor torpedo boats already in commission.

Says Yards Have Facilities.

He said that the navy had some facilities for repairing vessels such as the damaged British craft, explaining "we always do" have such facilities.

The secretary said that the British request for use of navy yards had been made in the last three or four days, since approval of the lend-lease act.

WHEELER SAYS U. S. PROTECTS BRITAIN IN ORIENT

Sees Motive in Naval Visit to Australia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Commenting on the fact that seven United States warships will arrive tomorrow at Sydney, Australia, while six other units of the fleet are at Auckland, New Zealand, Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] today asserted:

"It is now apparent the real purpose of the lend-lease bill is not merely to aid the people of England, but is to protect the British empire in the orient."

Wheeler declared there could be no question that the cruisers and destroyers "are being sent for the purpose of reinforcing the British in Singapore and other parts of the orient."

No Democracy in China.

"Any one familiar with conditions in the orient knows that there is not any democracy in China or in any British oriental possession outside of Australia," he continued. "As a matter of fact, there has been merciless exploitation of the people of India and Malaysia.

"Certainly, American boys should not be called upon to fight and die to continue this ruthless exploitation in the orient by any country."

According to the navy, two heavy cruisers and five destroyers will put in at Sydney for an informal three day visit during a training cruise. Commanded by Rear Admiral John H. Newton, the detachment consists of the cruisers Chicago and Portland and the destroyers Clark, Cassin, Conyngham, Downes, and Reid. After three days at Sydney, the navy said, the vessels will return to their operating base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

[An Associated Press dispatch from Washington said the navy had announced the arrival of the warships at Sydney.]

Big Welcome Ready.

SYDNEY, Australia, March 19 (AP).—Government ministers, members of parliament, and ordinary citizens streamed into the city tonight to participate in an ovation for 2,000 United States seamen and officers who will arrive tomorrow on seven warships. It is believed 500,000 Australians will greet the seamen during their three day stay.

In Canberra parliament adjourned for the rest of the week and its members and other government officials boarded a special train to come here for the official welcome by Acting Prime Minister Arthur W. Fadden.

Fadden said the squadron also would visit Brisbane for three days, and that the government of Victoria had invited the warships to Melbourne.

Experts' Staff Increased.

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, March 19 (AP).—The United States today was reported increasing its staff of naval experts in the far east and the South Pacific.

Two officials were being stationed in Singapore, the Straits Settlements; in Darwin and Sydney, Australia; in Auckland, New Zealand, and other points, in addition to those regularly attached to the United States legations in Canberra, Australia, and Bangkok, Siam, it was said. They were described as "observers" and not members of the American diplomatic or consular services.

'FEDERAL UNION' RECALLS BRITISH MERGER OF 1707

How Scotland Fell Under English Rule.

The agitation by members of Federal Union, Inc., in this country and of groups in England to bring the United States into a union of all English speaking countries of the world recalls the union of England and Scotland to form the kingdom of Great Britain in 1707.

The Federal Union organization, the slogan of which is "Union Now," has most of its representation among eastern interventionists. Lord Marley, deputy speaker of the British house of lords, has been a speaker at the New York meetings.

Col. Josiah Wedgewood, Laborite member of the house of commons, has been a leading proponent in England of union of the British empire and the United States. He has asserted that such union is the only chance of reconstruction after the war.

Scotland and England.

The complete union of Scotland and England occurred more than a hundred years after James VI. of Scotland became the first Stuart king of England as James I. in 1603. He succeeded Queen Elizabeth, who had named him as her heir on her deathbed.

Altho the English rulers were then sovereign over both nations, there were separate crowns and a Scottish parliament until 1707 in Queen Anne's reign. The act of settlement, a few years before, had provided that if Anne died without issue the Hanoverian house would be called to the monarchy.

The Scots did not approve this succession and there was fear in England that after Anne's death there might be an end to the union of the crowns.

It was considerably to England's interest that a full and permanent union be achieved because England was engaged in the war of the Spanish succession [1701-14]. Commenting on this, George Macauley Trevelyan, in his book, "England Under the Stuarts" [Putnam, 1925], writes:

"The danger of a Stuart reigning in Holyrood [the Scottish palace] in time of war made the union of the two crowns and the two parliaments appear as a necessary measure of self-defense to most Englishmen, altho the high Tories outside the cabinet looked askance at an act that secured the Scottish Presbyterian church.

Public Against Union.

"Scotland, where public feeling was against the union, had the whiphand of English politicians who could not afford to see the negotiations fail. Good financial terms and free trade with England were therefore granted to North Britain [Scotland] at a moment when racial and commercial jealousy in the south of the island dared not make itself heard."

The act of the union was worked out by English and Scottish commissioners, about 30 of each. Commissioners on both sides were appointed by Anne and her ministers. During the nine week sitting of the commissioners, there were frequent disputes, the Scots insisting successfully on retaining much of their native law. They also asked a membership of 85 in the house of commons.

A final compromise gave Scotland a representation of 45 in the house of commons and 16 in the house of lords, figures described by the "Encyclopedia Brittanica" as "inadequate." This membership was selected by the Scottish nobles and privy council and there was no provision for increase in the number of peers. The act of union also stated that the Scottish Presbyterian church should be maintained and approved the Hanoverian succession [which took place when George I. came to the throne on Anne's death in 1714].

Resentment by Scots.

The union was confirmed in the Scottish parliament by a vote of 110 to 68, but was not popular with many Scotsmen. The Scots resented the introduction into their land of the English law of treason and some methods of taxation. Trevelyan in "England Under Queen Anne" [Longmans, Green, 1932] comments that "the spirit of indifference to Scottish opinion that they [English politicians] revealed very nearly caused the repeal of the union in the last years of Anne."

A Scottish rebellion in 1715 collapsed when the French withdrew their support. There were outbreaks again in 1725, 1736 and 1745.

The latest edition of Vacher's "Parliamentary Companion" still lists 16 representative Scottish peers out of a total of 762 in the house of lords. There are 13 Irish peers and the remainder—733—are English, including peers of the royal blood, archbishops, dukes, marquesses, earls, viscounts, bishops and barons.

Ratio in House of Lords.

The ratio of Scottish members of the house of lords to English members—16 against 733—is therefore about 1 to 46, while the population ratio of the two countries is about one to eight [England's population is 37,354,917, while Scotland's is $4,842,980].

Scotland now has 74 members in the house of commons, while England has 492, the remainder of the total house membership of 615 coming from Wales, Monmouth and northern Ireland.

The administrative department for Scottish affairs and the Scottish education department are in London. Many Scotsmen have urged that these offices be moved to Edinburgh. Local affairs in Scotland are managed by county and town councils.

'Quisling' Leader Taken in Raid

His pistol drawn, a member of the British force that raided the Lofoten Islands off Norway earlier this month, takes into custody the leader of the local Quisling adherents (right) and his secretary. The Norwegian Nazi leaders were taken back to England by the raiders, along with many German prisoners and Norwegian volunteers.

P. F. SMITH ASSUMES CHARGE OF BRITISH CIVILIAN AID CAMPAIGN

Purcell F. Smith.

Purcell F. Smith, chairman of the Middle West Service company, yesterday assumed chairmanship of the million dollar civilian aid campaign of the British War Relief society in Illinois. The campaign is part of a national drive for 20 millions.

Smith will have as vice chairman Bentley G. McCloud, vice president of the First National bank, and Thomas J. Carney, president of Sears Roebuck & Co. They will meet today with Charles F. Glore, investment banker and head of the Illinois committee, to select from 25 to 50 business men to act as sponsors.

In accepting the post, Smith made it clear that the drive is designed solely for civilian help. It comes at a time, he said, when the need for civilian aid in England's bombed areas is increasing steadily.

New French Coins Drop 'Liberty and Fraternity'

VICHY, France, March 19.—New five franc pieces are about to be minted for France. They will bear the effigy of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, with his motto, "Toil, Family, and Country" replacing the traditional inscription "Liberty and Fraternity."

GREEKS REPULSE 7 NEW ATTACKS BY ITALIAN ARMY

ATHENS, Greece, March 19 (AP).—Seven new attacks by closely packed ranks of Italians against Greek positions wrested from the Italians in their recent futile seven day offensive have been smashed and the field left littered with dead, the Greek government spokesman reported tonight. The action was fought south of the Viosa river in the Tepeleni area.

An Italian night attack north of the Viosa was broken up by violent automatic arms fire. Farther north, near the edge of the central sector, the Italians launched an unsuccessful night attack against Greek positions more than 6,000 feet high. The Greeks drove them back, advanced about a mile, and captured 165 prisoners, the spokesman said.

RAF headquarters announced that British bombers had hammered home a "heavy and successful" assault Tuesday on Durazzo, main Italian port of entry into northern Albania. Fires and explosions were declared to have been started.

VASSAR TEACHER TO BE AMERICA FIRST SPEAKER

Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes, head of the department of history at Vassar college, will represent the America First committee in a discussion of "The World Crisis of Democracy" before the Council for Social Action of Congregational and Christian Churches of the United States next Monday night at 1613 Washington boulevard.

Other participants in the discussion will be Prof. A. R. Hatton of Northwestern university, representing the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, and Norman Thomas, representing the Keep America Out of War congress.

The Rev. Duncan H. Browne, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, will be chairman of the symposium which will open a three day forum on democracy.

AMERICAN-MADE PLANES FLOWN TO AID OF GREECE

Tension Grows; Additional Troops Line Border.

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, March 19 (AP).—Lines for the threatening battle of the Balkans drew taut tonight with word that Britain is flying American made warplanes to Greece and that both Greece and Germany are massing more troops along Bulgarian frontier zones. News of the arrival of American built planes in Greece from Cairo was contained in diplomatic dispatches which did not specify their numbers or types.

Viktor von Heeren.

A well informed Greek source said that, of a total army strength of 800,000, the Greeks would leave 300,000 men to fight the Italians in Albania and would throw 500,000 onto the northern front, where the British have brought up supplies to equip every reservist.

Huge German Force.

At the same time the Germans were said to be building up a striking force of 600,000 to 700,000 in Bulgaria and Rumania, and various Balkan sources have reported that 100,000 of a planned British force of 300,000 already are in Greece.

The controled Bulgarian press, explaining to its public for the first time why Germans are there, said: "With the aid of Nazi troops we will regain what is most precious to us—an outlet to the Aegean sea."

Jugo-Slavia's position remained uncertain, altho German circles in Belgrade circulated reports that this country would sign up with the axis March 26, one week from today. These German reports followed upon a 90 minute conference between Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincar-Markovitch and German Minister Viktor von Heeren.

One incident which did not appear to be in harmony with reports of an axis membership for Jugo-Slavia was the expulsion of Former Premier Milan Stoyadinovitch, who has been accused of trying to regain power so he could align this country with Germany and Italy. It was learned that he had been sent to Greece.

Oppose Passage of Troops.

Jugo-Slav government circles insisted that no pact would be signed which would permit passage of foreign troops, threaten Jugo-Slav independence, or plunge the country into war.

In Turkey the national assembly extended for three months the martial law which has been in effect since last fall in European Turkey and along the Dardanelles.

The Turkish foreign minister, Sukru Saracoglu, flew to the British island of Cyprus and talked with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who recently saw Saracoglu in Turkey.

Hitler Gets Turk Note.

BERLIN, March 19 (AP).—Turkish President Ismet Inonu's reply to a communication from Adolf Hitler has been delivered to the Fuehrer, authorized sources said today.

[Hitler's message to Inonu, reported by Turkish quarters to have been an offer that Germany look out for Turkey's interests in the reshaping of southeastern Europe, was delivered at Ankara March 4.]

ARTICHOKE HELPS FRANCE MEET ITS SHORTAGE OF GAS

Even Hair Tonic Gets Test as Fuel.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 19.—France, in a desperate search for gasoline substitutes, has turned to the artichoke. It takes 250 pounds of this vegetable to produce two gallons of motor fuel, but the effort is worthwhile, considering the depleted condition of the country's gasoline stores.

Even hair tonic has come under investigation as a possible source of power for automobiles. Oil extracted from peat, too, has been the subject of experimentation. The urgency of the search is made evident by a disclosure that the country's entire gasoline reserves stand at 25,000 tons. In normal times the gasoline consumption was 200,000 tons a month.

20,000 Tons a Year.

A recently exploited well at St. Gaudens, in unoccupied France, according to Rene Guerdan of the ministry of industrial production, is yielding only 20,000 tons of oil a year.

Likewise limited is the prospective yield from the coal fields in the Autun region, which is in the occupied zone. No more than 6,000 tons of liquid fuel can be expected from that area, Guerdan said. He also estimated that industrial plants for the manufacture of synthetic gasoline could not be completed within two years and when they were running their output would not exceed 200,000 tons annually.

Charcoal has provided the most satisfactory substitute thus far. It is used in private cars or heavy trucks and the gaseous vapors are piped to the engine just as gasoline ordinarily would be.

Use Illuminating Gas.

Alcohol, illuminating gas, acetylene gas, and electricity also are being used in a limited degree. Illuminating gas has the disadvantages of being expensive and requiring huge tanks.

In the Paris region about 7,300 vehicles now are authorized to operate on substitute fuels. Of these, 3,528 use alcohol, 3,170 charcoal, and 569 illuminating gas. The Germans have given their permission for 600 of Paris' former 13,000 taxis to resume operations on acetylene gas this spring. A pound of this fuel will drive a taxi about a mile.

SHORT OF FEED, BRITONS WILL BUTCHER CATTLE

LONDON, March 19 (AP).—An "appreciable number" of cattle on British isles farms must be slaughtered because of a feed shortage, Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson declared today. He told farmers at Leicester that even after the reduction, in which choice animals would be saved, the number remaining still would be greater than in years immediately after the world war. He said reductions should be made gradually during the next six months.

Dairy farmers were advised not to count upon the arrival of sufficient grain and fodder to keep up the milk supply in "the same old comfortable way."

U. S. AND CANADA SIGN PACT TO BUILD SEAWAY

President Terms Project Vital to Defense.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—An agreement for construction of a 266 million dollar St. Lawrence seaway and water power project was signed today in Ottawa by the United States and Canada. Precise provisions of the agreement were withheld pending publication of the text next Friday.

In an exchange of notes between the two countries, made public by the state department, President Roosevelt presented the undertaking as one urgently required to further the production of ships and weapons for defense of the United States and for aiding Great Britain and Canada in the war.

The enormous volume of power developed would operate numerous arms factories in Canada and the United States, as the President sketched the plan, and the opening of a 27 foot channel from Lake Ontario to the sea would permit the construction of ocean going ships in Great Lakes shipyards.

Sees Four Year War Ahead.

The President apparently assumes that the war will continue at least four years more or that our armament production will continue at a high rate after the war ends, for he expressed his conviction that the completion of this project by 1945 mignt prove of vital importance.

Fearing that a two-thirds vote of the senate could not be obtained for the project in the form of a treaty, which twice failed in that body, the administration will submit the plan to congress in an agreement requiring only a simple majority of both houses. It will meet with great opposition from the eastern seaboard and the Mississippi valley on the ground that it proposes an impracticable waterway and an unnecessary development of water power and the money should be spent for armament.

Dams, Power Houses Planned.

A report of the Canadian and American engineers also made public outlined the project as follows:

1. A control dam in the vicinity of Iroquois point.

2. A dam in the Long Sault rapids at the head of Barnhart Island, and two power houses, one on either side of the international boundary at the foot of Barnhart Island.

3. A side canal, with one lock on the United States mainland to carry navigation around the control dam and a side canal, with one guard gate and two locks, on the United States mainland south of Barnhart Island to carry navigation from above the main Long Sault dam to the river south of Cornwall Island. All locks to provide 30 feet depth of water on the miter sills and to be of the general dimensions of those on the Welland ship canal. All navigation channels to be excavated to 27 feet depth.

Engineers estimated the cost as follows:

For works solely for navigation.	$ 38,578,000
For works primarily for power.	96,804,000
For works common to navigation and power	130,788,000
Total	$266,170,000

The President's remarks on the project were by way of response to Canada's request that consideration of the plan be renewed in the interest of supplying increased facilities for arms production.

United States Determined to Help.

"We have welcomed this occasion," said Mr. Roosevelt, "to review this project because of the fact that our own defense program renders it desirable that all public expenditures in the United States be weighed in the light of considerations similar to those set forth in your communication.

"The government of the United States is engaged in a great defense program. It is determined to supply such aid in material to Great Britain, the members of the commonwealth, and their allies as may be necessary to enable them to bring the war to a successful termination.

"The government of the United States regards the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project as directly associated with the accomplishment of the foremost national objectives of this government. It believes that the project should be proceeded with and that construction should commence at the earliest possible moment. It regards the construction of this project as a matter of vital necessity.

Completion by 1945.

"You refer to the engineering investigation now being conducted in the international section of the St. Lawrence river. I need hardly say that I directed the release of a million dollars from the special defense funds for this purpose only because of my conviction that the completion of this project by 1945 might prove of vital importance to our defense effort. It is gratifying that there has been sufficient progress to make possible the initiation of construction this spring."

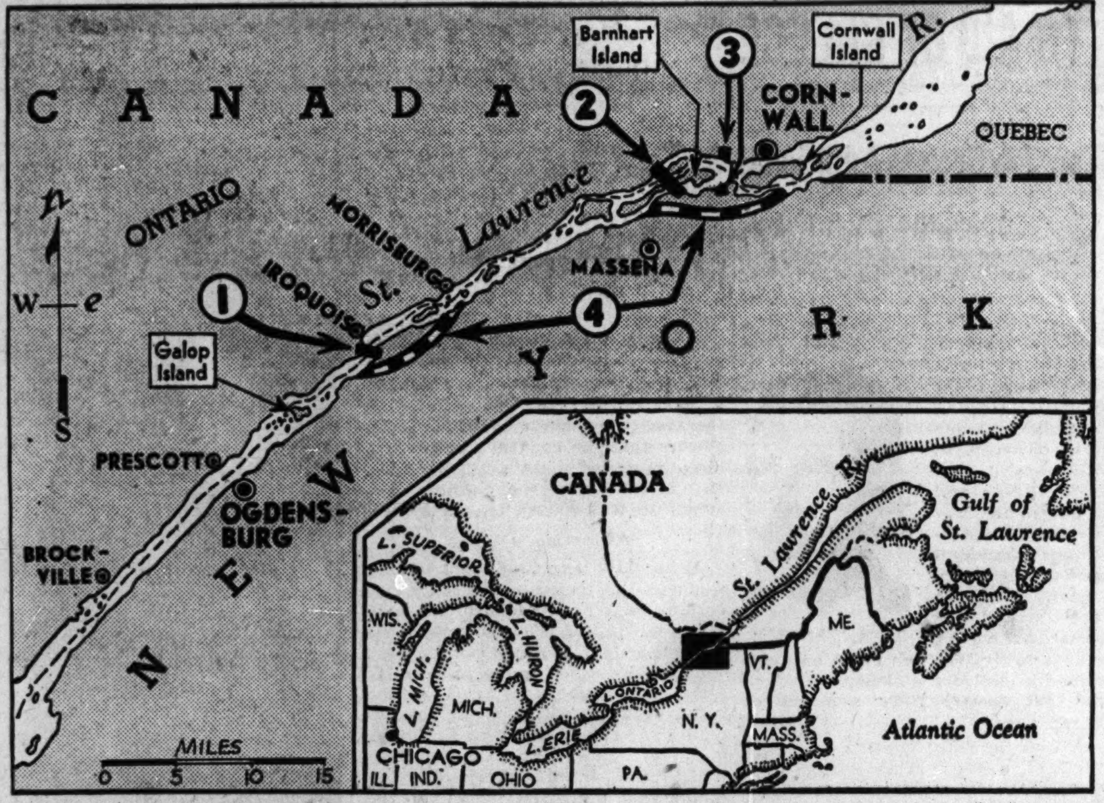
The Great Lakes shipbuilding development that would be made possible by a deep channel to the sea Mr. Roosevelt presented as a potent justification of the project.

"I am also convinced," he said, "that the opening of the St. Lawrence deep waterway to afford an outlet for naval and cargo ships constructed in Great Lakes shipyards, far from representing a diversion of funds and resources from the defense effort, would have the opposite effect.

"If the full burden of our expanding ship construction must fall on seaboard shipyards the time required to complete the vessels themselves must, in many instances, be increased by the period necessary to construct new shipyards and facilities. With this in mind it is apparent that the deep waterway could be completed in time to provide an outlet to the sea for many of the new vessels included in the present program."

Project Outlined for Development of St. Lawrence Seaway

(Story in adjoining column.)



Provisions for development of the St. Lawrence seaway and water power project, for which the United States and Canada signed an agreement yesterday. There would be a control dam (1) in the vicinity of Iroquois Point, a dam (2) in the Long Sault rapids at the head of Barnhart Island, two power houses (3) on either side of the international boundary at the foot of Barnhart Island, and side canals (4) to take shipping around the dams. MEXICO BLAMES RIOTS AGAINST AMERICA ON NAZI AND RED AGENTS

MEXICO CITY, March 19 (AP).—The Mexican government tonight declared that an anti-United States demonstration by 200 National university students was instigated by "Nazi and communist affiliated undercover organizers whom the authorities now are trying to discover."

Hurling oranges against the walls of the patio of the foreign office and shouting insults against Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla for his recent statements pledging military and economic coöperation with the United States, the students were dispersed by police riot squads after a brief scuffle this afternoon.

A government bulletin said the demonstration was "completely without importance or significance," and declared the "principal objective of the police is to discover the instigators of these acts, which will not be tolerated."

Ten students were arrested and a police guard was put around the American embassy, but there was no disturbance there.

P. O. AUTHORITIES DESTROY 17 TONS OF PROPAGANDA

San Francisco, Cal., March 19 (AP).—Seventeen tons of foreign propaganda, shipped to the United States by way of Russia and Japan, was burned today at the postoffice.

Postal officials refused to allow public examination of the confiscated reading matter, but said the bulk of it had come from Germany and soviet Russia, with lesser contributions from Italy and Japan.

Thousands of magazines, countless copies of a well bound book extolling one of the dictatorships, and a mass of newspapers and circulars were in the matter destroyed, postal officials said.

"We are going to continue to destroy this type of material as fast as we receive it," said Postmaster William H. McCarthy.

$690 LOOT STOLEN FROM AUTO.

A suitcase containing linens valued at $690 was reported stolen from an automobile parked at 63d street and Evans avenue. Alfred Bach, 4932 Lake Park avenue, salesman for a New York linen company, was the victim.

SEAWAY CALLED HEIGHT OF FOLLY BY LEADERS HERE

Project Branded Unsound Even in Peacetime.

Announcement that the United States and Canada had signed an agreement for construction of a 266 million dollar St. Lawrence river seaway and water power project met with expressions of hearty disapproval from midwest leaders last night.

"It would be height of folly for this nation to undertake such a project at a time when we are woefully lacking in airplanes and aircraft defense, coast defense and all other military and naval requirements," said Lachlan MacLeay, president of the Mississippi Valley association. "To provide these essentials will require not only concentration of our energies, but of our government funds as well."

Unsound Even in Peacetime.

MacLeay added that the United States cannot afford to follow a scheme which in peacetime was shown to be economically unsound, and which he declared cannot contribute to national defense. He said construction would take much longer than the four years estimated.

Pointing out that only 10 per cent of the project is within the United States, Donald D. Conn, executive vice president of the Transportation Association of America, estimated the project would cost this country much more than the published estimate.

"The Canadian minister of finance said a month ago that the St. Lawrence seaway is beyond the realm of financial possibility so far as Canada is concerned," said Conn. "Would it then be proposed that the United States carry the entire burden?

"The association questions the President's estimate as to the time in which the project could be completed. We have an independent analysis showing it might, with extreme effort, be completed in 1948. This same expenditure could better be used to build battleships, cruisers, or destroyers."

Closed Five Months a Year.

F. A. Schleifer, general chairman of the Midwest Shippers Advisory board, declared the seaway could not be used for more than seven months a year; that it could serve but a few of the ocean going vessels now in service; that it would only add to the surplus of available transportation facilities and that it would create new labor and tax problems.

Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said his organization feared the project might lead to another TVA. Two members of the Illinois delegation in congress, Charles S. Dewey and William G. Stratton, both Republicans, expressed firm opposition to the project.

Representative Dewey recalled that when the waterway treaty was before the senate previously it was shown it would threaten the water level of Lake Michigan.

NAZIS TO DETAIN U. S. WRITER WHO CROSSED LINE

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles said today that Jay Allen, American newspaper man arrested by German authorities in occupied France, would be "detained for a certain period," according to information received from the American embassy in Paris. Welles said the embassy reported Allen went to Paris from Vichy last week without the required authorization and was apprehended by German authorities while endeavoring to recross the demarcation line to unoccupied France.

"The German authorities have stated that Allen will not be dealt with harshly," the state department announced, "but that he may expect to be detained for a certain period."

BRITISH CAPTURE NEW POSITIONS IN ATTACK ON KEREN

Occupy Jijiga, Strategic Ethiopian Town.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 19 (AP).—New and important positions about Keren—perhaps the strongest defensive area in all Eritrea—have fallen to the British in the long assault on the 35,000 Italians beleaguered there, general headquarters reported today.

Fascist losses in counterattacks were officially described as "serious," and the Italian troops and gun positions in the hills were under intermittent attack from the sky as well as along the ground.

The British command has assembled a big army of many races and is apparently determined to take the town at almost any cost and thus to lay the Eritrean capital of Asmara open to attack. Keren's stubborn defenses now have held off the British for six weeks.

From the Ethiopian front a major success also was announced: The capture of Jijiga, an eastern Ethiopian communications center which controls the road to the provincial capital of Harrar 50 miles away. Harrar in turn is 35 miles south of Diredawa, which bestrides the railroad to Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital. The next British objective is to cut the railroad.

Natives Aid British.

Such an operation, successfully carried out, would put the whole of Ethiopia in imminent peril, for the British, aided by natives, are pushing two columns in from the south for a possible junction at Neghelli and a combined advance on to Addis Ababa. Jijiga was seized Monday by British troops who had driven in from the conquest of Italian Somaliland.

When and if Keren falls, the military informants said, the British would have command of heights dominating Asmara, the colonial capital, and would be in position to push on to occupy Massaua, Eritrea's only seaport of any consequence.

This task disposed of, they said, the encircling of Addis Ababa could be expected, with the British conquest of the three Italian East African colonies completed shortly thereafter.

The General Picture.

Here is the picture today as presented by the military authorities:

ERITREA: The British have Keren pinned in from three sides, with the main road between Asmara and Massaua already cut.

ETHIOPIA: From 13 keypoints the British are closing in on the heart of Ethiopia—from the northwest, west, south, southwest, east and southeast.

From Kurmuk, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan near the western Ethiopian border, southward to the northern tip of Lake Rudolf, a large piece of the Fascist colony already is under British control.

From Lake Rudolf east to Moyale and from Moyale to El Wak, British troops have seized the main roads. They are in control of the border area from Moyale northeast to Madera, town at the juncture of the Ethiopian, Italian Somaliland, and Kenya colony frontiers.

BRITISH AND ITALIAN SOMALILAND: From Berbera southward thru both colonies and westward to Jijiga, some 65 miles inside Ethiopia, all under British control, while up the coast from Berbera only the small port of Zeilah is held by the Italians between Berbera and Djibouti, French Somaliland.

Coöperation of French Somaliland, the military informants said, would seal the fate of Italian East Africa. They viewed the French colony, now isolated from the homeland, as fertile ground for a bid for friendship, particularly in view of the British successes in Africa up to now.

The British badly need the Djibouti end of the railroad to Addis Ababa—the only one running to the Ethiopian capital—to speed the Ethiopian campaign to a conclusion, but probably would refrain from forcibly taking it because of possible repercussions in French North Africa.

British Massing, Says Rome.

ROME, March 19 (AP).—The Italian high command reported today the British were massing strong land and air forces on the Keren front in Eritrea, where a fierce battle has been under way several days. The war bulletin made no mention of any change in the battle lines.

A formation of Italian fighter planes was credited with destroying eight planes in an attack on a British air base in East Africa.

PRESIDENT GOES TO MEDITATE ON FLORIDA CRUISE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 19.—President Roosevelt left Washington this afternoon for a 10 day cruise off the Florida coast, which he will devote to rest and meditation upon the conduct of the wars in Europe, Asia, and Africa.

Before departing Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Col. William J. [Wild Bill] Donovan, who had just returned from a mysterious mission to Europe, Africa, and Asia Minor. He conferred also with Lauchlin Currie, a White House functionary, who had just returned from a mysterious mission to China.

Accompanying the President on the trip south were Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, and Harry L. Hopkins, unofficial secretary of the President's war cabinet.

Mr. Roosevelt will inspect a naval air station at Jacksonville, Fla., tomorrow morning, and then proceed to Port Everglades, where he will embark on the Presidential yacht Potomac.

SAYS 5 NATIONS PAY 4 BILLIONS TO GERMAN ARMY

LONDON, March 19 (AP).—R. A. Butler, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the house of commons today that five European countries occupied by Germany had been forced to pay the reich the cash equivalent of 1 billion, 50 million pounds [about 4 billion, 200 million dollars] annually above their losses in industrial supplies, foodstuffs, and confiscations.

He estimated that Norway had to pay the highest per capita cost for support of the German occupation army—$272,000,000, or about $100 per person.

Denmark's share, he said, was $104,000,000 or $32 per capita; Belgium's, $300,000,000, or $32; Holland's, $216,000,000, or $24, and France's, $3,308,000,000, or $80.

Estimates for Czecho-Slovakia, Poland, Rumania, and Bulgaria were not available, Butler said.

ST. LOUIS FLYER DIES IN BRITISH 'EAGLE' SERVICE

St. Louis, Mo., March 19 (AP).—William L. Davis, 25, of St. Louis, member of a combat unit of the royal air force, was killed yesterday in an airplane accident in England, his father, William J. Davis, was notified today by the British air ministry.

Davis had volunteered to serve as a flight officer with the American eagle squadron "as a matter of sentiment and heritage." His grandfather had been an English officer in the Boer war.

Holder of a commercial pilot's license, Davis took a training course at Love field, Dallas, Tex., before going to Canada Feb. 13 to be commissioned. He arrived in England two weeks ago.

His fiancée, Miss Marian Gall, received a cable from him yesterday saying, "Love you, miss you, wish you were here."

CAPTAIN TELLS OF SEEING 5 SHIPS SUNK IN CONVOY

German U-Boats Attack in Groups of 3.

Capt. Ary Kooy.

Hoboken, N. J., March 19 (AP).—The destruction of five British and allied ships during two mass submarine attacks on a 38 ship convoy about 1,000 miles off the Irish coast on March 6 was described today with the arrival of the Dutch freighter Leerdam.

[Sam Robertson, manager of the London bureau of the Canadian Press, who returned to Canada for a brief vacation last week, reported in a story filed from Ottawa on Saturday that four and perhaps six ships in the convoy in which he traveled had been torpedoed and sunk. He disclosed neither the date of the two attacks nor the names of the ships.]

Ignore 4 Destroyers.

Attacking in groups of threes, the submarines ignored four destroyers in the convoy and sent to the bottom these vessels totaling 48,646 tons:

The Terje Viken, a British whaler, 20,638 tons; the Mijdrecht, a Dutch tanker, 7,493 tons; the Empire Attendant, a British freighter, 7,524 tons; the Delilian, a British freighter, 6,423 tons, and the British tanker Athelbeach, 6,568 tons.

Capt. Ary Kooy, master of the 8,816 ton Leerdam, told the dramatic story of the attacks as his ice coated vessel arrived here.

"We left Glasgow on March 3 in a 38 ship convoy with four destroyers," he said.

"I was on the bridge at 4:20 a. m. March 6 when I noticed my squadron leader, the Delilian, began to slow down. Apparently the crew was emptying ashes from one of the boilers. Instead of slowing down I continued my normal speed and decided to pass the Delilian on the port side.

"At 4:30 I was parallel with the ship about 50 yards away when it was hit by a torpedo.

Ordered Not to Stop.

"It was hit amidships and the explosion sounded like hell breaking loose. We had strict orders and could not stop. While proceeding I heard another explosion and turned around to see the whaler Terje Viken, which was directly behind us, in a sinking condition, settling slowly.

"Two more ships on each side of us were hit. They were the Athelbeach and the Mijdrecht. Two of the escorting destroyers dropped behind to pick up the survivors.

"At 12:15 a. m. on the following night we were attacked again. This time I ordered full speed ahead and they got the freighter Empire Attendant which was close to us.

"Fortunately there was a heavy fog and we soon lost the submarine. A short time later the convoy was ordered to disperse."

PEACE PACT BROKEN BY SIAMESE TROOPS, FRENCH TELL JAPAN

SAIGON, French Indo-China, March 19 (AP).—French authorities protested to Japanese military officials today that Thailand [Siam] had violated the Japanese-mediated peace agreement of March 11 by advancing troops beyond the new west Cambodia border line.

The Thai advance, the French charged, blocked French Indo-China supply routes and isolated troops.

The French are removing materials which had been assembled to build a railway to the old Thai border, where it would have been joined to a line running to Bangkok, Thai capital.

FRANCE'S FOOD DEPENDS ON U.S., STATES PETAIN

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GRENOBLE, France, March 19.—France's chief of state, Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, in a broadcast before a huge crowd here today, said the task of feeding hungering France will depend greatly on aid that is expected from the United States.

"I have no need to tell you that the question of taxes, the lack of food and the depletion of stocks are the object of all our preoccupations, and we count much upon American aid," he said.

No information is available here on conditions that will be laid down by British authorities if they let food ships pass thru the blockade.

Marshal Petain, who is making another tour to observe the reaction of the people of unoccupied France to his government, declared no new constitution will be promulgated until after the occupation of France ceases.

Claim Long Range Bombers Sink Ship in British Convoy

BERLIN, March 19 (AP).—Two long range Nazi planes spotted a convoy of 35 merchant ships and 6 destroyers in the North Atlantic this morning and sank one of the vessels with bombs, DNB, the official German news agency, reported. The vessel was estimated to have been of 5,000 to 8,000 tons. Another ship was said to have been damaged and left with a severe list.

STEELWORKERS RESUME STRIKE IN GUN FACTORY

U. S. May Take Over Air Test Field Job.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—[Special].—News of strikes affecting the national military program continued to flow into the capital today. Among developments on the labor front were:

WILMINGTON, DEL.—Five hundred CIO steel workers resumed a strike in the Malleable Iron company plant which is working on a trench mortar contract. Workers refused to ratify an agreement involving wage demands.

May Use Civil Service Men.

DAYTON, O.—The war department threatened to replace 400 striking AFL building trades workers at Wright field, key aviation testing ground, with employés from the civil service register if the strike here does not end soon. AFL members struck because four CIO electrical workers were employed on a construction job.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The national railway mediation board met with representatives of 14 railway brotherhoods and railroad executives in separate sessions in an attempt to avoid a strike of 750,000 of the railroad industry's million employés over issues involving wages and vacations with pay.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—A labor consultant was sent here by the Office of Production Management to help settle a threatened AFL strike in three power plants of the Union Electric company in protest against the dismissal of 18 men from the company's Venice, Ill., plant.

125 Keep 2,000 Idle.

GALVESTON, TEX.—A strike of 125 AFL ship carpenters over refusal by the Todd-Galveston Dry Dock, Inc., to dismiss a repair shop foreman as demanded by the union made 2,000 others idle. Repairs on nine ships were halted.

NEW YORK—A collective bargaining agreement covering 135,000 clothing workers and carrying an estimated 18 million dollar annual wage increase was reached between the CIO clothing workers and the Clothing Manufacturers association. Markets affected by the agreement include Chicago.

PITTSBURGH, PA. — Negotiations were opened here in an attempt to settle a CIO strike in the Edgewater, N. J., plant of the Aluminium Company of America which has curtailed the supply of aluminum for military needs.

SHOOTS CABMAN AND ROBS HIM OF MONEY AND TAXI

A six foot bandit, described by police as callous, shot a taxicab driver in the face on the west side last night, took his money, put him out of the car and drove away.

The victim was Robert Wisch, 28 years old, 3528 Grove avenue, Berwyn, an employé of the Yellow Cab company. The bandit hired his cab at Jackson boulevard and California avenue, and directed Wisch to drive to Oakley avenue and 13th street.

There he told Wisch to drive into an alley, and when Wisch hesitated fired a shot at close range. The bullet tore thru the driver's right cheek. "Now give me your money," ordered the gunman. He took $15. Then he forced Wisch to show him how to turn on the ignition, after which he pushed Wisch out of the car and drove away. The cab was recovered later at Christiana avenue and Douglas boulevard. Wisch was taken to the county hospital. He will recover.

HE'S IN THE ARMY, SO NOW WIFE CAN BE POSTMISTRESS

Because Arthur Pugh, 29 years old, is in the army today, his wife can be postmistress of Plymouth, Ill. And because his wife is going to be postmistress Pugh is in the army.

Pugh, one of 413 men from two Chicago and 15 downstate draft boards inducted yesterday at the Chicago avenue armory, at first listed his wife as a dependent. Then she qualified as postmistress, and Hancock county draft officials said she must withdraw or Pugh would be placed in class 1-A, eligible for immediate call. Pugh's wife stayed on the civil service list, and the draft board called up Pugh.

Six German refugees, all members of the same soccer club, were among those inducted. One, William Osten, 20, of 4145 Broadway, was a volunteer. He brought a much stamped letter of consent from his father, Leopold, owner of a knitting factory in London, where he fled from Vienna.

WE WANT WORK! PAYLESS STRIKE VICTIMS ASSERT

Harvester Men Hit CIO Union Tactics.

Investigation yesterday tended to show that the rank and file of workers at the tractor works and McCormick works of the International Harvester company, which have been shut down for weeks by CIO strikes, are growing impatient at their lack of income and lay the blame principally on the union.

In an effort to get at the real sentiments of the men in the ranks, THE TRIBUNE sent out reporters with instructions to interview workers at random, including CIO members, members of the American Federation of Labor, and independent workers, and to quote the men verbatim.

Here Are the Findings.

From the answers these general facts were discovered:

1. Many of the idle men are nearly destitute, and others have about exhausted their savings.

2. Many are willing and anxious to return to work at their old scale of pay and consider it adequate.

Some of the answers, with the identities of those interviewed concealed, follow:

MR. A. [CIO member at the tractor works]—We have been on strike seven weeks. I am in debt. I had some money saved, but my wife has been sick, so that is all gone. I averaged $45 a week when I worked. What is going to happen to all of us? Why don't the union and the company get together and open the plant? If the tractor works were opened I would be in the front line going back to work. I am sick of unions that do nothing but hurt us. I had a good job, and I want it back, right now.

Quits CIO for AFL.

MR. B. [former CIO member at the tractor works]—I joined the CIO union when it was started and voted in by tractor plant men. I just quit the CIO and have joined the AFL in the hope they can get us back to work again. I worked here for 18 years and always got good money. The little bit that I have left from my savings is going fast. If the company opens the tractor works I will be in there working, and nobody is going to stop me. This thing is no joke with us, and I don't think many of the workers here wanted to go out.

MR. C. [independent worker at McCormick works].—We got thrown out of the plant by the CIO. It was a rotten deal. I had a good job in department 75 as a pot packer and made more than $8 a day on piecework. Why should I have to work on an hourly rate when I can make more for myself on piecework? The CIO says they want to do away with piecework. They don't mean this, because why should a man who is afraid to work make as much as a good worker? A man ought to be paid for what he can do, and the CIO knows most of the good workers want piecework and those that don't like work want a high hourly rate. But how can the company make any money if they have to pay by the hour whether you do your work or not? I don't want to join any union; I just want to go back to work. Why should I pay to be allowed to work?

Won't Join Either Union.

MR. D. [independent worker at McCormick works]—I will not join either union. I have worked here 25 years and have always made good money. When the plant closed I was making $9 a day. During the depression, when the plant was practically shut down, the company let me and many others work three days a week, even tho there was little to do. The company also gave me some ground at Irving Park boulevard and Cumberland avenue to raise a garden on. They let me borrow money and sent a nurse out when my wife was sick. They also sent food and paid my rent. I want to go to work. It is not right that a few CIO men should stop me. All my friends want to work. Why doesn't the company open the gates? We'll go in.

MR. E. [AFL worker at McCormick works]—I have a wife and two children and I worked in the gray iron department at McCormick and was an independent. Now I have joined the AFL. In this department 900 men were working when about 50 CIO men rushed in and attempted to get the workers to strike. There were only about 20 CIO men among the 900, and none of them went because they did not want the strike either. We stayed at our work until the power was shut down and the superintendent told us to go home. I averaged $9 a day. We had no trouble and why should the CIO be allowed to threaten workers?

Father of Six Tells Stand.

MR. F. [independent worker at McCormick works]—I will not join any union until they show they can help me. I have six kids. I have worked here 30 years. No union ever did anything for the McCormick workers. If I have a raise coming I get it; the company makes us feel like one big family. No union got me $8 a day like I get here when I work, and no union will stop me working when the doors open.

MR. G. [AFL member at McCormick works]—For 15 years I worked as a molder in the McCormick foundry and averaged $8 a day. I have joined the AFL because I don't know anybody, even their own members, who wanted to go on the CIO strike. Why doesn't the company open the gates? What are we outside for? I have been helped by the company and they will help me again. I know the AFL will never do what the CIO did at McCormick. I go back when the doors open.

BOARD APPOINTED TO SEEK SETTLEMENT OF N. Y. BUS STRIKE

New York, March 19 (AP). — Mayor Fiorella La Guardia today named a three member fact finding board to attempt to settle New York's 10 day old bus strike following the breakdown of negotiations between the two bus companies and the CIO Transport Workers' union.

The board will study the demands of both the union and the companies in the hope of finding a formula for settlement.

The mayor's decision climaxed a day of unsuccessful negotiations. Phillip Murray, CIO president, represented the union, and John A. Ritchie, chairman of both the New York Omnibus corporation and the Fifth Avenue Coach company.

The mayor named to the fact finding board Prof. Noel Dowling of Columbia university; Tom E. Murray, formerly receiver for the Interborough Rapid Transit subway, and W. F. Menden, former president of the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit subway.

AIR LOVE AFFAIR OF BRITISH EARL AT DEATH TRIAL

Accused Major 'Watched' Romance Grow.

NAIROBI, Kenya, March 19 (AP).—A colonial court weighing charges of murder against a middle aged baronet admitted in evidence today a statement that he had watched philosophically the swift development of a love affair between his bride and the rich earl of Erroll and, even after Erroll was slain, dropped a message from his wife into the earl's grave.

The accused man, Maj. Sir Henry John Delves Broughton, smoked and lounged casually in the steaming courtroom while a police witness read into the record the story which the major is purported to have told after the body of Erroll was found shot thru the head in a motor car on a moonlit road in this languorous British outpost last Jan. 24.

Charges Brought by Crown.

It was the first hearing on the murder charges, brought by the crown after a government pathologist decided that Lord Erroll, hereditary high constable of Scotland, was slain and was not the victim of a motor accident, as first was generally believed.

A few hours before his body was found the earl had left a dinner party attended by Major Broughton and his second wife, Lady Diana. The Broughtons were married only last December, and he had brought her to Kenya for their honeymoon.

The baronet's counsel objected vigorously to introduction of the statement, but in vain.

In it Major Broughton was quoted as saying that he and his wife had made a pact upon their marriage in which he promised to leave her if they ever disagreed.

Makes the Best of Situation.

Accordingly, he said, he made the best of things when he found out that his bride was in love with the widowed Erroll.

This continued even tho Lady Broughton saw Erroll almost every day, the statement continued, and then, when the peer was buried, Broughton was quoted as saying he carried his bride's farewell note to the grave, at her request, and dropped it sadly within.

FOSTER MOTHER GOES ON TRIAL IN CHILD BEATING

Mrs. Isabel Pungiture, 3226 South Canal street, went on trial yesterday before a jury in the Municipal court of Judge John V. McCormick for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The charge was preferred March 3 after Mrs. Pungiture's stepdaughter, Theresa, 4 years old, told Pekin Inn police her stepmother had beaten her. The child's skull and left leg were fractured, but the stepmother contended the injuries resulted from a fall from the sink. A second charge of assault is pending.

The defendant's husband, Frank, a tool and die maker, testified yesterday that he first knew of the child's injury when he returned from work the night of Jan. 15. He said his wife told him the girl was in the hospital, where she remained a month. He said he separated from his wife a week later and went to live with his mother, Mrs. Theresa Colera, 3521 Princeton avenue, who first complained of the beating to the police.

Theresa and another child, Dorothy, 5, are his daughters by a former marriage.

Big Air Liner in Service from Canada to Britain

Boston, Mass., March 19 (AP).—A huge four motored air liner is in regular service between Canada and Great Britain, transporting government officials and bringing back pilots who have ferried bombers to England, Crocker Snow, Massachusetts director of aeronautics, disclosed today. Snow said he understood two additional air liners soon would be added to the service.

Stagger Capital Working Hours to Speed Traffic

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—Seventy-five thousand of the capital's 160,000 government workers are going to have their working hours changed March 31, to ease Washington's traffic congestion. Under new staggered hours the existing peak of 70,000 employés reporting for work at 9 a. m. will be reduced to 23,000.

Nazi Training Plane Lands in Switzerland; Detained

Indicted for Perjury

MORRIS U. SCHAPPES.

New York, March 19 [Special].—Morris U. Schappes, Russian-born English tutor at the College of the City of New York, was released today on $5,000 bail. He was indicted yesterday on a charge of perjury before the legislative committee investigating subversive activities in New York schools.

Observing it is "time to put the lid down on communists," General Sessions Judge John J. Sullivan fixed bail after a stormy hearing marked by clashes between Assistant District Attorney Sol Gelb and Edward Kuntz, attorney for Schappes.

Schappes was suspended without pay last Saturday after testimony that more than 50 past or present City College faculty members were communists. He had said he resigned from the party in 1939 after five years as a member and that he knew only four Red teachers on the campus. Other witnesses placed him at meetings with numerous fellow communists of the faculty.

BELIEVE 6 DEAD IN S. CAROLINA FREIGHT CRASH

Spartanburg, S. C., March 19 (AP).—Two heavily loaded thru freights of the Southern Railway system collided headon at the foot of Glendalyn street here tonight and at least six members of the crews were believed killed.

G. H. Driggers of Columbia, a brakeman on the southbound train, said he was swinging on the outside of his train when he saw the lights of the oncoming freight. He, Conductor D. K. Jones, and Flagman Bruce Robinson were warned in time to save themselves, but at least two other members of that crew were believed dead. They were F. B. McCord, engineer, and another, unidentified.

No crewmen from the northbound freight were known to have survived. None could be found near the wreckage and Driggers said he believed all perished. All were from Columbia. The wreckage was so entwined that the railroad had to call an emergency crew from Columbia to help tear the locomotives apart.

LASSER IS PICKED TO CONDUCT JOB SURVEY FOR WPA

Once Acted as Delegate to Moscow Powwow.

Washington, D. C., March 19 [Special].—David Lasser, founder and former head of the communist inclined Workers' alliance, has been put on the WPA pay roll as a field representative to determine the extent to which WPA workers can be reëmployed in private industry, it was learned today.

Lasser, who visited Moscow in 1937, appealed to the WPA for work and was given a job by Howard O. Hunter, WPA commissioner, officials said.

Among Lasser's first assignments, it was understood, will be a survey in Peoria, Ill. He will cover the territory from New England to the middle west to check on reëmployment of persons on relief jobs.

Forms New Association.

Lasser resigned the presidency of the Workers' alliance last summer, charging that the group, which sought to organize WPA workers, had become "only a mouthpiece of the communist element." He then formed and became chairman of a new organization of unemployed, reliefers, and WPA workers which he called the American Security conference.

Altho Lasser claimed he quit the Workers' alliance because of its domination by communists, it was recalled that he represented the alliance at the 20th anniversary of the Russian revolution, which was celebrated in Moscow while he was there in 1937.

Jailed in White House March.

Lasser was jailed here in 1936 during a march of alliance members on the White House. In 1938 Senator Morris Sheppard [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate committee on campaign expenditures, warned him that he would violate the criminal code of the United States if he carried out his proposal to raise $50,000 from reliefers to support President Roosevelt's attempted purge of nonrubber stamp congressmen.

His testimony before the senate appropriations committee on a relief bill was stricken from the record because of its vituperative and insulting nature.

DRAFT AID OPPOSES DEFERMENT OF MEDIC AND DENTAL STUDENTS

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, deputy director of selective service, expressed opposition today to legislation which would defer compulsory military training for medical and dental students, internes, and medical and dental teachers.

Testifying before a senate military subcommittee, Gen. Hershey contended that the measure would "open the door to a procession of individuals seeking deferment for various occupational groups."

The selective service act, he said, laid down the principle that deferments should be granted by individual cases and not by classes or groups.

E. W. KIRKBY DIES AT JACKSON.

Jackson, Mich., March 19 [Special].—Elmer W. Kirkby, 74, a lawyer here for over a half century, died today. He was former assistant prosecuting attorney and served several times as alderman. He also served as chairman of the city and county Democratic organization.

ILLINOIS TROOPS GET A WORKOUT— ON TYPEWRITERS

Learn How Army Orders Are Distributed.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Forrest, Tenn., March 19.—The 33d division, Illinois National Guard, is fighting a brisk engagement on countless typewriters and mimeograph machines. The working of the adjutant general's section of the 33d division supplies an excellent example of the complexities which surround the transmission of an order from a commanding officer.

The adjutant general's office, temporarily commanded by Maj. Frank S. Singer of Chicago, handles the drafting and distribution of orders to the brigades and regiments. Since the office was opened seven days ago, when the first Illinois troops arrived, it has turned out 50 mimeographed orders.

Each Has Own System.

Besides this office, each brigade and regimental headquarters has its order distribution system, with typewriters and mimeographs.

The system operates in the following manner. On Monday Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the division, decided the troops should have overshoes for protection against the mud and cold of Camp Forrest. He telephoned Maj. Singer to prepare an order.

Maj. Singer wrote the order. It was sent to Col. Horace E. Thornton, chief of staff. Col. Thornton showed it to Gen. Lawton for approval. It was returned to Maj. Singer and a stencil was cut. This stencil was sent to Col. Thornton for signature.

Then Distribution Begins.

Returned to Maj. Singer's office, the stencil was put on a mimeograph machine, and 450 copies were run off. Clerks took 397 of these copies to the division message center for distribution to the various brigade and regimental headquarters down to the companies and detachments.

Of the remaining 53 copies 6 were sent to the adjutant general of the United States army in Washington, D. C., 4 were sent to 2d army headquarters in Memphis, Tenn., 4 were sent to the 4th corps area office in Atlanta, Ga., 4 were sent to the 7th army corps headquarters in Birmingham, Ala., and 35 were placed in the 33d division files.

Japanese to Open Legation in German Ruled Slovakia

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, March 19.—Japan is to open a legation in Slovakia, it was learned here today. The post of Japanese minister will be held by the Japanese ambassador in Berlin. Slovakia is under German control.

FT. SHERIDAN DEMAND FOR DANCE PARTNERS EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY

The demand for dancing partners for Fort Sheridan troops is greater than the supply. So fort authorities yesterday sent out a call for girls.

Because of the arrival of new troops from Michigan and Kentucky, it will be necessary to hold dances on Saturday as well as Thursday nights, Maj. Glenn R. Douglas, post morale officer, announced yesterday. The first Saturday night dance will be held this week-end.

Girls attending the post dances are not charged for admission. The only cost besides transportation is a 5 cent checking fee. The post may be reached by private car or North Shore line train. Buses meet all trains and transport the girls to the post gymnasium and back to the station.

Capt. Beardall Becomes President's Naval Aid

Washington, D. C., March 19 [Special].—The navy department today announced the appointment of Capt. John Reginald Beardall to be President Roosevelt's naval aide. Capt. Beardall succeeds Capt. Daniel J. Callaghan, who has been ordered to sea as commander of the heavy cruiser San Francisco. Capt. Callaghan has served as naval aide to the President since July, 1938. Capt. Beardall, 54, is a native of Florida. He has at different times served as naval attaché at London, Paris, Berlin, Rome, and The Hague.

129TH INFANTRY ENTRAINS FOR CAMP FORREST

Members of the 129th infantry entrained yesterday for Camp Forrest, Tenn., to join other units of the 33d division in training there. Units of the regiment come from Waukegan, Elgin, Aurora, Sycamore, and other towns of the Chicago area.

Two Lake county companies, machine gun and antitank, ate their last home town meal at the Homer Dahringer American Legion post in Waukegan, then paraded to the North Western station, led by Mayor Mancel Talcott in a police car.

Col. John M. Richmond, commander of the 131st infantry, which leaves Friday for Camp Forrest, yesterday turned over the keys of the 1st infantry armory at 16th street and Michigan avenue to Col. Herman H. Weimer, commander of the Illinois reserve militia regiment, which will be quartered there.

Bermuda's Governor Hurt as Bicycle Pedal Breaks

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 19.—Lieut. Gen. Sir Denis Bernard, governor of Bermuda, who rides a bicycle and seldom uses an automobile except on urgent military business, was recovering "satisfactorily" in King Edward hospital today from head injuries received last night. He was riding up the driveway to Government house when a pedal on his bicycle broke, throwing him to the ground. He is 58 years old.

STREET CAR KILLS WOMAN, 83.

Mrs. Mary Devereaux, 83 years old, was injured fatally yesterday at 52d and Halsted streets when she was struck by a street car. She lived at 8436 Morgan street.

TRAINING HALTED BY COLD WAVE IN BIG DRAFT CAMP

800 Troops Admitted to Incompleted Hospital.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 19 [Special].—Cold weather has virtually suspended activities at the 15,200 acre Indiantown Gap cantonment near here, where 13,500 troops of Pennsylvania's 28th division are quartered.

Eight hundred patients with minor respiratory ailments have swamped the still uncompleted hospital. Medical officers admitted 111 men to the hospital yesterday and five cases of pneumonia are under treatment.

Most of the cases were traced to attempts of commanders to conduct drills in the wet, heavy snows which blanketed the camp last week. All attempts at drill have now been abandoned.

Cold Winds Hit Camp.

Temperatures during the cold wave have averaged between 13 and 22 degrees, but the location of the camp has exposed troops to winds 30 miles an hour and stronger which have pounded the frame buildings, lined inside with process board, and heated with anthracite burning stoves.

Most grumbling is occasioned by lack of roads in the huge camp. A single road runs directly thru the reservation, but the 1,039 buildings are unconnected by any road system. Ankle deep mud is predicted with spring rains and melting snows.

Camp Lashed by Gales.

Camp Edwards, Mass., March 19 [Special].—Winds of gale force swept across this Cape Cod reservation today, driving sand and gravel in such huge clouds that at times buildings around the camp quadrangle were hidden from sight.

All outdoor training was canceled, and even indoor classes were closed when the temperature dropped to 17 degrees.

Cold Brings Fur Caps.

Camp Upton, N. Y., March 19 [Special].—Draftees at this Long Island camp, chiefly a reception center, bundled up today as temperatures stubbornly remained below freezing. Fur caps and fur gloves have been issued to military police, sentries, and others whose duties keep them outdoors.

Train 6th Cavalry in Use of Mechanized Equipment

500,000 TROOPS WILL ENGAGE IN U. S. WAR GAMES

Alexandria, La., March 19 [Special].—Soldiers from Illinois and adjacent states will participate in war games of unprecedented peacetime proportions in Louisiana next September, it was disclosed today.

Between 350,000 and 500,000 troops more than four times the number ever before used in such maneuvers, will comprise two armies that will clash in practice battles.

Participating will be Second army troops training in Arkansas, Tennessee, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, and Alabama, and the Third army composed of units now training in Louisiana, Mississippi, and Texas. Divisions of men from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Kentucky wil be among the fighters.

The 2d army will operate downstate from a line drawn approximately between Shreveport and Monroe, La. The 3d army, based at Lake Charles, La., will move north against the 2d.

Earthquake Moves Town 10 Feet, Survey Reveals

Calexico, Cal., March 19 (AP).—The U. S. coast and geodetic survey is trying to determine what happened to the Mexican border in the earthquake of last May 18. Reclamation bureau surveyors say their studies indicate that the city of Mexicali, south of the border, moved 10 feet north when the shock hit.

HOUSE ASSURES INQUIRY INTO CIVIL SERVICE ABUSES

Democratic Opposition to Senate Move Fails.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—Official inquiry into charges of maladministration of state civil service during the eight years of Democratic rule that ended last January was assured today when the house of representatives completed passage of the joint resolution sponsored by Senator A. Otis Arnold [R., [Quincy].

Senator Arnold.

Under the provisions of the resolution a committee consisting of three senators and three representatives, with full inquisitorial powers, will dig into such records as those of the 2 per cent slush fund for Democratic campaigning and the blanketing of Democratic appointees under civil service at the eleventh hour before the Republican administration came into power.

Cross Names Senators.

Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, president of the senate, immediately named the three committee members from that chamber—Arnold, who probably will be chairman; Senator William G. Knox [R., Chicago], and Senator A. L. Marovitz [D., Chicago].

Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg said he will name the house members soon.

House adoption of the resolution was not accomplished without some Democratic opposition, altho it was unorganized. Minority Leader William Vicars of Pontiac sought to make the question a party issue, but the roll call showed his leadership was not followed closely.

The test came on Vicars' motion that the house refuse to concur in the recommendation of the executive committee that the Arnold resolution be adopted. The vote was 52 to 78 and thereafter the resolution was adopted on a voice vote.

The roll call showed that 7 Democrats joined with 71 Republicans in approving the inquiry.

Attacks Budget Delay.

In offering his motion Vicars attacked the Green administration. He said it has submitted no legislative program—that it has not even brought in its budget.

"I charge that this is an attempt to obtain patronage," he continued. "This is a waste of time and a fishing expedition."

Representative Reed F. Cutler [R., Lewistown], chairman of the executive committee, which recommended the resolution, replied to Vicars' criticism by citing records showing that in two of the four sessions under the Democratic régime, no pretense whatever was made to submit complete budgets.

Majority Leader Fred W. Rennick of Buda declared it the duty of the legislature to remedy any defects that may be discovered in the state merit law.

Relief Inquiry Begins.

A second legislative investigation actually got under way later in the day. The joint committee headed by Senator T. Mac Downing, which last week joined in a brief rebellion against the administration, held a peaceful meeting and laid plans for definite work in a study of the administration of relief. Its first hearing will be held at Bloomington on March 31.

BAR TO HEAR WARDEN SAIN.

Warden Frank G. Sain of the County jail will speak Saturday at a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Bar association on "A Trip Thru the County Jail." He will show motion pictures of jail life and will display a model electric chair made by the prisoners.

BATTLE TO LEVY A STATE INCOME TAX BEGINS AGAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—Legislative history repeated today with the introduction of a state income tax bill—a measure similar to others which have been sponsored unsuccessfully for years. This time it was presented by the house Democratic leader, Representative William Vicars of Pontiac.

Once again the grave constitutional question of the validity of such an impost will be debated, with Supreme court objections to a graduated tax—a 1931 decision—ever in the background.

Representative Vicars thinks there is a chance his measure would meet the high court's approval, since it would start at 1 per cent in 1942, move to 2 per cent in 1943, and remain there. It would be a flat levy, replacing the sales tax after June 30, 1943.

The impost would be levied on all net incomes, with business expenses deductible, a $500 exemption for single persons, and $1,000 for married persons. No exemption would be permitted for dependents.

ASK 16 MILLION BE SET ASIDE FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Springfield, Ill., March 19 [Special].—A big appropriation bill was dropped in the house basket today by Representative David Hunter [R., Rockford], who proposed earmarking 16 million dollars for aid to dependent children—this amount to include whatever the federal government may contribute, or probably half the sum.

A needy child is defined in the Hunter bill as one under 16 years of age, or under 18 if regularly attending school, who has no parental care, but who is living with relatives.

Representative Thomas J. Thornton [R., Chester] proposed that no inmate of an institution for the criminally insane be permitted to perform barber work, and that in other state institutions, barbering be done by inmates only under the supervision of a licensed practitioner of the trade.

Forger's Tale of a Horse's Kick Makes Justice Mulish

Robert Stanley, 39 years old, had an explanation yesterday when he was charged with forgery in the Kendall county Circuit court at Yorkville. Stanley said he was kicked by a horse when he was a boy in Sweden, that he had lived in a fog ever since, and that that was why he had been forging small checks on an Aurora bank which has been closed nine years. He said he couldn't even remember where he lived. When he finished the court sentenced him to 1 to 14 years in prison.

How "Teddy" Roosevelt Conquered Fear

by DALE CARNEGIE

The late Elbert Hubbard said that fear defeats more people than any other thing in the world.

Yet almost all of us are afraid at some time or another. Not afraid of lightning, or ghosts, or physical attack . . . but afraid of losing our job, afraid of ill health and old age, afraid of a lack of security, afraid of our inability to deal with other people.

"Teddy" Roosevelt, who of all people had a reputation for courage, admitted in his autobiography: "There were all kinds of things of which I was afraid, at first . . . But by acting as if I was not afraid I gradually ceased to be afraid."

How to act as if you're not afraid? Simple! As Emerson recommended, do the thing you fear!

Most student pilots are scared to death before they solo. Once up in the air and down again alone, their fear of solo flight is conquered.

Suppose you're a salesman, and there's someone you're afraid to call on. Make him the next person on your list! Even if your knees shake, go through with it. You can never conquer fear by inaction. Get busy. Do the thing you fear to do.

Fear is a common emotion among all of us . . . but often a paralyzing one. It frequently leads to tension—and from tension to fatigue, defeatism, despair. We must conquer fear if we are to direct our energies efficiently and approach our work relaxed* and confident!

Dale Carnegie

RICKENBACKER TELLS STORY OF ATLANTA CRASH

No Explanation for Too Low Flying, He Says.

Atlanta, Ga., March 19 (AP).—Eddie Rickenbacker revealed today he was trying to enter the pilot's cabin to see what was wrong just before an Eastern Air Line sleeper plane crashed near here Feb. 27, killing eight and injuring him and seven others.

In the first statement he has made about the crash, Rickenbacker said he was in the lounge of the plane, which was banking when he felt a wing clip some trees. The lights of the plane then went out, he said, and he attempted to get to the pilot. The crash came before he got all the way into the cabin.

Insists on Telling Story.

Speaking from his hospital bed to a group of reporters in an interview E. A. L. officials said he insisted on making, Rickenbacker told of being pinned down by débris so that he had a free movement of only two or three inches, of thinking first of the fire hazard and warning those thrown clear of the wreckage not to strike a match.

As to the cause of the crash, Rickenbacker, a world war flying ace and E. A. L. president, said: "I have no explanation, I am sorry to say. I thought it out all that night and every night and day since. I can find no explanation."

Rickenbacker described the flight as routine. Altho there was a ground fog, he said lights of the Atlanta field were plainly visible, and that a few moments before the crash, while the plane was southeast of Atlanta, automobile lights were visibile from a highway.

Too Low by 500 Feet.

Why the plane was wrecked, he said, no one ever will know. "We were just too low, by 1,000 to 500 feet," he added.

Rickenbacker is recovering from a hip fracture—a re-break of an old fracture from automobile racing—and from several fractured ribs. The ribs were fractured, he said, when he attempted to extricate himself from the wreck.

"I would try to free myself, and feel a couple of ribs crack," he said. "Then I'd rest a while until I got the courage again, and some more ribs would be cracked."

He spent several hours during the day in conference with E. A. L. officials before the interview, which lasted 30 minutes. He said he expected to be out in 30 days, and to be able to be at the Indianapolis speedway races Memorial day.

BURKE TO RESIGN AS CHIEF SUBWAY ENGINEER TODAY

Ralph H. Burke, chief subway engineer since December, 1938, is resigning the post today to return to the position of chief engineer of the Chicago Park district, Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways, announced yesterday. Burke has been on leave of absence from the park district.

Harrington said that Charles E. De Leuw, who has been a consulting engineer for the city on subway and superhighway plans for many years, will be made acting chief subway engineer.

Construction of the eight mile 57 million dollar subway, begun late in 1938, is nearing completion. All of the tunnel sections have been dug with the exception of a recently authorized extension in Congress street from Dearborn street to the river. Construction of the 27 subway stations is scheduled for completion by the close of this year.

'TERRIBLE IVAN' OFFERED RUSSIA IN ROLE OF HERO

MOSCOW, March 19 (AP).—Ivan IV., 16th century czar known to history as "Ivan the Terrible," has been put in the good graces of the soviets by an article in the government newspaper Izvestia, praising his "glorious deeds of state."

The article was written by V. Kostyliev, who has just concluded a novel called "Moscow on the March," portraying Ivan's times. Kostyliev declared "false ideas about the personality and activity of Ivan IV. were cultivated among the masses."

"Only the dark side of his private life served as the theme of previous works about him," he wrote.

The writer said he discovered Ivan's "true nature" during research after noticing a discrepancy between two ideas: "Russia ruled by a semi-lunatic beast while the state grew much stronger."

[Ivan IV. was born in 1530 and died in 1584. He was the first Russian to assume the title of czar. Histories have pictured him as one of the cruelest men ever to live. Nevertheless he possessed, the Encyclopedia Britannica says, "extraordinary political foresight" and anticipated "the ideals of Peter the Great."]

Kostyliev wrote that "centralization of the state was carried on strictly by Ivan IV., consolidating peoples and forces.

INQUIRY INTO AIR CRASHES BEGINS EARLY NEXT WEEK

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The special house committee selected to inquire into recent air transport accidents will begin its field hearings in Cincinnati next Monday or Tuesday.

Chairman Jack Nichols [D., Okla.] said, upon completion of hearings in Cincinnati, the committee will go to Atlanta to investigate the recent crash of an air transport plane in which nine persons were killed.

Navy Abandons Whites for Work; Khaki Adopted

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The navy authorized a general transformation of white work uniforms into drab colored khaki today, largely because white would be too conspicuous in wartime. Naval Secretary Frank Knox announced that henceforth the sailors' general working uniform would be khaki with bronze buttons. Similar garb is worn now by men serving submarines, subchasers, eagle boats and other small craft.

Dear Mr. McMahon

The marked uptrend in the phonograph record retail market (especially in the classics) was an influencing factor in Lyon & Healy's purchase of the low-priced Masterpiece Records.

The initial order called for 3250 records, consisting of the better known symphonic works, overtures, operatic arias, art songs at 29¢, and a few popular symphonies for $1.79 with albums. An opening advertisement was prepared and our No. 1 newspaper medium - the Sunday Tribune - selected in which to "try its wings".

The result was most enlightening both as to merchandise and advertising medium. Early on Monday morning, crowds stood three-deep around the Classic Records counter as well as the "Pop" Shop in our Loop store and in our stores in Evanston and Oak Park. Trunk lines on the telephone switchboards were tied up with 'phone orders. Mail orders started pouring in from cities, villages, homes, universities, public, parochial, and military schools in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana.

The entire stock of Masterpiece Records was exhausted in about six hours on the first day of the sale - and still each day's mail continues to bring orders for the records. We believe it to be the largest mail order "pull" and personal purchase response that Lyon & Healy has ever recorded from any one piece of copy.

LYON & HEALY, INC.

Lyon & Healy ad in Sunday Tribune packs counters three-deep and ties up switchboard with phone orders

Reproduced in small size above is the advertisement which appeared in the Sunday Tribune of February 23 and produced "the largest mail order pull and personal purchase response that Lyon & Healy ever recorded from any one piece of copy."

The record-breaking record-selling experience reported in the letter above provides new evidence of the responsiveness of the Tribune audience. It offers new proof of Chicago's growing spendable income . . . and suggests how you can get a greater share of it.

With over 1,000,000 net paid, every day of the week, the Tribune now delivers from 580,000 to 625,000 more total daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers. On Sunday it delivers from 300,000 to 810,000 more.

Right in metropolitan Chicago, the Tribune has 440,000 more daily circulation than other Chicago daily newspapers. On Sunday the Tribune delivers in metropolitan Chicago from 395,000 to 470,000 more than other Chicago Sunday newspapers.

When you can have more, why take less? Every day you do without the Tribune's balanced, marketwide coverage, you pass up sales opportunities which can be yours. There is no need to pass them up when Tribune rates per 100,000 circulation are among America's lowest.

Ask a Tribune representative to help you plan a program built around the Tribune which can get you your share of Chicago's increased buying.

PROBE RELEASE OF CONVICTED HIT-RUN DRIVER

Forging of Court Records in Bonding Suspected.

An investigation to determine whether Jerry Shea, found guilty as a hit-run driver, was freed on bond from the county jail thru the use of forged court records was begun yesterday by Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green. Shea was sentenced to a year in jail and his driving license suspended indefinitely by Judge Green on Feb. 24. He was released on bond the next day without Judge Green's knowledge and thru irregular procedure.

Shea, 31 years old, a printing superintendent living at 2537 Hutchinson street, sped away Oct. 20 after his car struck Mrs. Marie Starr, 50, of 2331 Hamlin avenue, at Cermak road and Hamlin avenue. He was caught after a chase by police and a motorist.

Found Guilty Despite Denial.

Arraigned in Safety court, Shea denied he hit any one, altho he admitted he had been in the neighborhood of the accident. He was found guilty, however, and after passing sentence Judge Green wrote on the record:

"Stay of mittimus [committment to jail] 30 days upon presentation of stay bond of $1,500 instanter."

When the bond was not posted at once a mittimus was issued and Shea was taken to the County jail. Legally, according to Judge Green and to Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, he could then be freed only on an appeal bond granted by the Appellate court.

The same night, however, a bond for Shea's release was signed by Judge Le Roy Hackett, sitting in the night Bond court. Shea was released next day. Judge Hackett said last night that so far as he recalls, the bond was first approved by the Municipal court clerk's office, and that nothing was presented to him showing previous court procedure beyond the setting of the bond at $1,500.

Copies Vary From Original.

Meanwhile, the clerk's docket in Safety court records Judge Green's orders as follows: "Stay of mittimus 30 days. Bill of exceptions 30 days."

A supposed copy of the Green order later sent to the county jail differs both from the original and the docket entries. It reads: "Motion to stay mittimus 30 days sustained upon filing a $1,500 appeal bond. Case continued to March 25, 1941."

This last is signed by L. Menard, a deputy clerk, who yesterday said he would have to check the original files before saying why his copy and the order in Judge Green's possession did not agree.

How the whole matter came to light was not learned, and Shea was not in custody. Meanwhile, as Judge Green prepared to examine all records today, authorities were reported to be investigating Shea's political connections.

Autoist Gets 30 Day Term for Driving While Drunk

Emmett Olin, 1509 North Lockwood avenue, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and his driving privilege was suspended indefinitely yesterday by Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green for driving while intoxicated. Olin was arrested Feb. 28 at Addison street and Lake Shore drive. His driver's license showed that he was sentenced to a five day reckless driving term in May, 1939.

Husky Weaver

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Assistant United States Attorney Beatty working on afghan.

Clarence W. Beatty Jr., a husky young assistant United States attorney, astonished his office associates yesterday by bringing his fancy-work—a pink wool afghan—to the office. They were still more surprised to learn that he weaves dog blankets and pillow covers in his spare time and occasionally wins recipe contests with the tasty dishes he whips up in the kitchen of his home at 1531 Estes avenue. Beatty, who is 6 feet tall and weighs 180 pounds, says he would rather weave than play golf because it is restful and helps him to plan his legal battles. He took up the hobby a few months ago, he said, after his wife bought a small loom and couldn't learn how to operate it.

HUNT 2 IN PROBE OF STREET BRAWL ATTACK MYSTERY

Police yesterday were seeking Tony Tornatore, 25 years old, and Anthony De Stetano for questioning concerning a street brawl early Tuesday in front of the Pelican Tap, 29 East Ohio street. Robert De Marzio, 40, who was beaten and run over twice by an automobile, was reported recovering in county hospital.

De Marzio refused to discuss the case with police. Disorderly conduct charges against Lois Moran, 23, an entertainer; Jackie Richards, 22, of 411 South Wabash avenue, and Joseph Marino, 28, of 621 South Loomis street, were continued until March 26.

The three were seized by police in an automobile chase shortly after the fight. They admitted being in the tavern, but said they left before the fight started. The driver of the car in which they were riding, who escaped, was identified by Miss Moran as De Stetano. Thru a license number given police by witnesses, the car which ran over De Marzio was traced to Tornatore.

DRAFTEE SEIZED ON SEX CHARGE AT ARMORY HERE

Woodrow Wilson Dillard, 28 years old, of Quincy, Adams county, went to the Chicago avenue armory yesterday to be inducted into the army as a draftee, but was seized by a pair of detectives and conducted to a cell.

Detectives Tim Hayes and George Maher arrived at the armory ahead of Dillard, with a telegram from Sheriff J. George Meyer Jr., of Adams county, stating Dillard is wanted there for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Dillard, a power plant worker, was turned over to the detectives before he had officially reported for induction, to avoid question of jurisdiction. Sheriff Meyer arrived later with a warrant and left for Quincy with Dillard.

BURGLARS TAKE 150 DRESSES.

The entire stock of a dress shop at 3236 Roosevelt road—150 dresses—was taken Tuesday night by burglars, Mrs. Mary Brown, owner, reported to police yesterday. She estimated the loss at $800.

HIGHWAY USERS' PARLEY FAVORS TOLL BUILT ROADS

Formal Vote On 5 Point Program Is Deferred.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—The Illinois Highway Users' conference, in session here this afternoon, gave favorable consideration to a legislative program including:

1. Enabling statutes for construction of toll superhighways in Chicago and suburbs.
2. Abolition of township road districts to save an estimated 7 million dollars in realty taxes without any reduction in local road service.
3. Powers for the state highway department to plan and begin construction on a state-wide system of deathproof roadways by modernizing the present main traffic arteries.
4. Preparation for anticipated federal appropriations for roads in the name of national defense.
5. Preparation for anticipated federal appropriations for superhighway construction as an unemployment relief measure when world peace ends rearmament activities.

Formal Vote Later.

The conference deferred a formal vote on these points until a future meeting to be called by its president, A. E. Eckert of Mascoutah, Ill., who also is president of the Illinois Grange. The conference includes representatives of motor clubs, bus and truck operators, farmers, and road builders.

The five proposals were presented to the meeting by Floyd Maddox, secretary of the conference.

The meeting also discussed a bill approved by the house roads and bridges committee, giving cities complete jurisdiction over expenditures of their 1 cent share of the gasoline tax. Conference members said they are opposed to the bill.

Few Political Control.

Members contended that the state highway department should retain its present supervision over all gas tax expenditures to prevent city politicians from dissipating these funds on local jobs sponsored by precinct captains or ward committeemen.

Other proposed legislation receiving commendation included a bill being drafted to provide state-wide compulsory safety inspection of automobiles, similar to the testing plan operating in Chicago under a city ordinance.

NEW U. S. BATTLESHIP DAMAGED THIRD TIME BY FLAMES AT DOCKS

Camden, N. J., March 19 (AP).—The navy's new 35,000 ton battleship South Dakota, under construction in the New York shipbuilding yards here, was damaged slightly by fire today for the third time.

City firemen summoned to aid yard workers said the blaze centered in the welding department about two levels below the main deck. One welder was overcome by smoke. Officials said the fire apparently started from a short circuit.

The South Dakota had its first blaze in October, 1939, four months after its keel was laid, when a hot rivet ignited scaffolding. Last November, 18 workmen were rescued from a smoke-filled hold when a hose burned deep inside the ship.

SURFACE LINES TO ASK TRANSIT REVISIONS TODAY

Changes in the city's draft of the long awaited unified traction ordinance will be urged today by the Chicago Surface lines board of management and operation. The board will make its recommendations in a report to the city council transportation committee, headed by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th].

The board was appointed in a shakeup Feb. 5 by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe after a previous seven man board had told the court it could not accept the city's proposed transit unification plan. Members of the new board declined last night to discuss their recommendations, but it was learned that revisions will be requested.

PLUMBER, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES OF INJURIES

Charles Keane, 62 years old, 1934 Addison street, a city plumber, died in Ravenswood hospital yesterday of injuries incurred at Addison street and Wolcott avenue Tuesday when he was hit by a car driven by George Gervens, 3632 North Sacramento avenue.

Jacob Eberhardt, 76, of 2703 Ogden avenue, a laborer, died in County hospital of injuries suffered March 10 when a car driven by Edward Doerr, 5609 South Fairfield avenue, hit him at Ogden and Fairfield avenues.

Miss Mary Urban, 70, of 2920 Union avenue, a seamstress, died in Holy Cross hospital of injuries incurred Saturday in Emerald avenue near 29th street when she was hit by a car driven by William McIntyre, 6804 May street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 174 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic since Jan. 1. Of these, 131 died in Chicago, where 4,561 were injured during the same period.

WORK IS HALTED IN BOSTON NAVY YARD BY BLAZE

Boston, Mass., March 19 (AP).—All construction work in the Boston navy yard was halted and 10,000 men made idle today by a fire in a tunnel housing power lines. Officers believed work would be resumed tomorrow morning.

Faulty insulation was blamed for the fire. Water poured upon the blaze short-circuited other lines, shutting off all power and telephone communication.

Property damage was confined to the tunnel. Officers inferred the loss in working time on vessels under construction and repair was far greater. The yard had been operating on a three shift basis.

ASSAIL SCHEME OF JUDGESHIPS FOR LAME DUCKS

Bar Leaders Rap Plans for Slattery, Minton.

Leaders of the bar yesterday assailed the proposed creation of vacancies on the federal bench for two New Deal "lame duck" senators in terms which included "scandalous" and "vicious." The ex-senators are James M. [Strong Box] Slattery, Illinoisan, and Sherman [Shay] Minton, a Hoosier, who is now a member of the White House staff.

William H. King Jr., president of the Chicago Bar association, will bring the matter before the association's board of managers today. The board will decide whether to consider it, and if so, whether to refer it to a committee for study.

"As a matter of principle the bar association is interested in good judges regardless of where they come from," Mr. King said. "Of course, the association is always interested in the question of whether additional judgships are necessary."

Hits New Deal Attitude.

Floyd E. Thompson, former justice of the Illinois Supreme court, said the proposal was an alarming symptom of the New Deal's attitude toward the bench.

"I think the people of this community do not deserve that kind of punishment," he said. "The bar is interested in having only the best lawyers appointed and then only when it is necessary. It is not necessary now."

Frank J. Loesch, one of the most prominent veterans of law practice and civic leadership, said he would limit his comment because an attorney is not wise to speak too freely about a man he may later have to face on the bench.

"I would think that these would be unpopular appointments so far as the bar is concerned," he stated.

The dean of a law school who would not permit use of his name was most outspoken against the plan.

"It is scandalous to put the bar in a position where it can not dare to oppose the plan," he said.

"Slattery and Minton were defeated by the popular vote of the people. If they are rewarded with federal judgeships it means that the people do not rule."

Lawyers Fear to Talk.

Several practicing attorneys who condemned the plan said they feared injury to their clients' interests in the future if their names were used.

A bill creating a vacancy in the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals, reportedly for Minton, already has been passed by the senate. Minton was a leader in President Roosevelt's unsuccessful effort to pack the United States Supreme court. He has proclaimed himself to be a "product" of the 2 per cent club in Indiana, a political slush fund organization recently abolished by the Republican controled legislature. The bill is pending in the house judiciary committee.

A bill to create a vacancy on the federal district bench, reportedly for Slattery, is awaiting hearing by the senate judiciary subcommittee. It was introduced by Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.].

Slattery achieved his nickname "Strong Box" when he was involved in a scandal involving dealings in $25,000 in Commonwealth Edison stock while he was chairman of the Illinois Commerce commission.

Lucas said he introduced his bill on the representation of the justice department that the increase of federal business in Chicago required another judge.

Springfield, Ill., March 19 (AP).—The state health department today announced that 4,152 measles cases were reported thruout the state last week, a sharp increase above all previous weeks.

Dr. Roland R. Cross, state director of public health, said "measles case reports for the state this week are sharply higher than for any previous week of the year: 4,152 reported cases as against 3,266 for the previous week, 2,861 for the week before that, and weekly reports of less than 2,500 for all earlier weeks."

The total known incidence of measles for 1941 to date is 22,088 cases compared with 454 in the same period a year ago, Dr. Cross said.

He also reported that scarlet fever cases, numbering 516, were about 10 per cent higher than in the preceding week.

W-G-N PREVIEWS N. U.'S 'WAA-MU' MUSICAL TONIGHT

Jessel Also Featured on In Chicago Program.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Betty Winkler.
[Maurice Seymour Photo.]

Highlights of the 13th annual "Waa-Mu" show of Northwestern university will be presented on the program In Chicago Tonight, over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system at 7:30 o'clock tonight. George Jessel, the stage and radio star, will be master of ceremonies and will take the leading male rôle in "The Lovely Light," a play by Ashmead Scott. Betty Winkler, a Chicago radio headliner, will play the feminine lead.

Two Northwestern students, Louise Yates and Jack Haskell, will sing songs from the student-written Waa-Mu musical revue, "Wait a Minute," which opens at Scott hall on the Evanston campus Tuesday and will run thru Saturday, March 29.

Title Tune to Be Heard.

The songs they will sing are the title tune, "Wait a Minute," and "There Was I," and "Where Do We Live?" More excerpts from the show will be heard on a new W-G-N program, Harold Stokes Presents, at 9:30 p. m. tomorrow.

On tonight's show Jessel, who ends an engagement at the State-Lake theater this evening, will present a monolog in which he supposedly talks to his mother on the telephone.

Miss Winkler a W-G-N Player.

Jessel's co-star in the play, Miss Winkler, is a W-G-N player and has appeared in Chicago Theater of the Air productions and on other networks.

Many Northwestern students, alumni, and faculty members of Northwestern will be studio guests tonight. William A. Bacher is the producer of the show; Stokes and the orchestra and the chorus, directed by Robert Trendler, will provide the musical settings.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19 [Special].—Publicized romances blossom frequently in Hollywood, and right at the top of the list is that of Bonita Granville and Jackie Cooper, young film stars. They appeared together recently at the second annual Gambole of the Stars, benefit for the motion picture actors' fund.

Fined $25 for Hugging Two Women on Street

John J. Centore of 1111 Church street, Evanston, was fined $25 yesterday by Municipal Judge John T. Zuris for disorderly conduct. The charge was that on Feb. 16 he had hugged two women in the 1600 block of Juneway terrace. Centore said he had been drinking, and a psychiatric examination found him sane. He had been in custody since Feb. 17. The fine was suspended.

$1,200 SEIZED BY LONE BANDIT IN BANK RAID

Pierson, Ia., March 19 (AP).—A roughly clad bandit wearing green glasses robbed the Farmers' Saving bank here today of $1,200 and escaped.

The robbery occurred as John Brooks, cashier, and Harold Christman worked in the bank cage.

The robber entered, scooped up the money, locked Brooks and Christman in the vault, and departed before others in the bank knew anything was wrong. Their shouts finally attracted attention.

Pierson, a village of about 500, is 20 miles east of Sioux City.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM
1941

GETTING right down to it, one reason why you get as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon from a 1941 FIREBALL Buick with Compound Carburetion is that this engine is supplied with more air.

For it is a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.

A single carburetor, no matter how many jets it has, can handle only so much air—which is nearly always too little for full-out, high-power performance.

But two carburetors that function as needed, as is the case in Compound Carburetion, can meet any fuel-supply need from low-speed to heavy-power use—and always provide a well-balanced mixture.

They can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and that's something you can't do in any single-carburetor car.

So Compound Carburetion leads to big savings in fuel costs.

You get as much as 800 miles for the gas-cost of 700 in earlier Buicks of the same size.

It also provides a walloping big bank of reserve power, which means an up-and-at-'em lift and surge that's nothing short of thrilling to experience.

And you can have Compound Carburetion, you know, on any 1941 Buick—it's only a few dollars extra on the swell big SPECIAL pictured here, and standard equipment on all other models.

ABOUT TANKS.

Mr. Murchie's graphic account of what he saw in the British tank factory which he visited the other day suggests that under the pressure of war the British have adopted many of the techniques of American industry. He had visited the same factory some nine months ago; readers of THE TRIBUNE may recall his sketches made at that time and the articles which accompanied them. He finds that in the intervening months the plant has been greatly expanded and that its processes have been speeded. Not the least instructive of the revelations which will come after the war will be the detailed story of the developments on the industrial front. It will be interesting, for example, to know what, if anything, the British engineers borrowed from Detroit and what our mechanical engineers, in turn, have learned from the British experience.

That story, at least in its details, is not likely to be told until after the war. Meanwhile Mr. Murchie heard a good deal about the uses of tanks in combat from a number of officers who played an active part in the African campaign. He learned, among other things, that for all its appearance of invulnerability, a tank can be knocked out in a great variety of ways.

Tanks have their blind angles from which they can be approached at any time with relative safety. Further than that, they cannot fire in all directions at the same time, with the result that if they are shooting in one direction they can be assailed from another with little immediate risk. The under parts are not well armored and accordingly a tank can be put out of action by a land mine or a bomb. If the tank is obliged to climb over obstructions the belly is exposed and enemy gunners have an excellent chance to place their shots in a vital spot. Tanks are also vulnerable at their backs, and as long ago as the Spanish civil war it was learned they could be overcome with inflammables. Flame throwers can be directed at the air vents which supply both men and engines. Blazing rags can be used to the same end.

Nevertheless, the tank is a superb weapon, the value of which is not likely to be exaggerated. It brings heavy striking power forward with great speed and once it has disorganized an enemy he finds it exceedingly difficult to reform his lines for defense.

Mr. Murchie emphasized the point that if tanks are to be effective they must operate as part of a team which includes airplane bombers, supply services, and infantry. The bombers blast out the obstructions. The tanks rout any defenders who remain, and close behind comes the motorized infantry to occupy the territory thus taken. So stated, it sounds relatively simple, but if the operation is to prove successful a vast amount of training of the individual branches and of all of them together is imperative. It was training of that sort which enabled the Germans to sweep thru Poland and later into France. Likewise, the great success of the British in Africa must be attributed to many months of intensive practice in coördination.

There is a lesson in that for our army. We start with the advantage that our young men, with the fewest exceptions, know automotive vehicles. In that regard no other nation in the world is as well prepared as we are. Likewise, no other nation has our experience in producing motor cars of many sorts. It is not so certain that the tank designs which we are now preparing to put into production have been thoroly tested. It is altogether certain that our army has had only the barest beginning of training in tank tactics and this condition must continue until we have a good many thousands of the weapons for use in maneuvers.

No amount of theoretical study can equal field training in preparing our tank corps. It is unfortunate that for lack of tanks our Guardsmen and the present levy of conscripts will have had relatively little experience of this sort before their year of service is completed.

JOHN ERICSSON.

A new destroyer, bearing the name Ericsson, has just been launched. In this day of tremendous new threats in warfare, every nation in the world fears that an enemy may forge ahead with some novel engine of incalculable destructive powers. The name of our new ship serves as a reminder that human ingenuity when given a chance to function has been equal to the task of countering new instruments of warfare.

John Ericsson is best remembered as the designer of the ironclad Monitor, which fought the confederate Merrimac in Hampton Roads 79 years ago this month. The Monitor owed its existence to necessity. The Merrimac was the first armored warship to join action against the Union's wooden fleet in the civil war. If Ericsson had not produced a counter force in the Monitor the blockade would have been broken and the outcome of the war might have been far different.

It was the second time that the fleets of the world had been compelled to follow where Ericsson led. His invention of the screw propeller was first utilized in an American armored warship, the Princeton, in 1841. All other navies thereupon had to rebuild, so that the propelling machinery of their ships was below the water line, out of reach of hostile shot.

The Monitor was the first ship in which the living quarters of the crew were below the water line. Her design might have taxed the ingenuity of her inventor to provide livable conditions for her crew, but in building the Princeton, Ericsson had used centrifugal blowers to provide ventilation and to promote boiler combustion, and he drew upon his experience to meet the problem of ventilating the Monitor. Thus, if Ericsson was not actually the inventor, he was unquestionably a pioneer of air conditioning, a great and developing present day business. The crew of the Monitor grumbled that they almost suffocated, but Ericsson properly answered them with health reports showing that there was far less sickness on his monitors than on the wooden ships.

The name of the new destroyer will also recall that Ericsson built a ship which many regard as the first American representative of this type of fighting vessel. His Destroyer of 1881 mounted a 16 inch torpedo tube firing a 1,500 pound underwater projectile. The modern destroyer was evolved as an answer to the light, fast torpedo boat, which might get in a deadly blow at a huge warship and still make its escape. It now assumes the functions of the torpedo boat.

The sequence of innovations and counter developments woven around the name of John Ericsson provides this country with reassurance in the face of whatever threats may arise thru the ingenuity of other nations. We may expect not only that our own inventive capacities will be able to devise an answer to them, but that we can call upon our engineering genius to confront any possible enemy with new dangers that he will have to answer himself.

GOV. GREEN APPROVES THE PAROLE BILL.

Gov. Green has announced his support of the parole reform bill.

The governor's approval of the Ward-Rennick bill is contingent upon two amendments that he has proposed. The first is that courts, following the conviction of a defendant, shall be given the power to inquire into the prisoner's early life and record for circumstances that would tend to mitigate or aggravate the offense.

This is a proper protection of the judges in their exercise of the widened powers conferred upon them by the bill. Heretofore, following a conviction, the indeterminate sentence act has applied automatically. Now that the judge is given the duty of fixing a maximum and minimum sentence within the indeterminate limits, it is desirable that he be given additional means of discovering what manner of offender he has before him.

Courts now hear evidence of this nature following pleas of guilty by defendants. The amendment proposed by the governor would merely extend the procedure to cases in which there has been a jury or bench hearing followed by a finding of guilty.

Gov. Green's second amendment is designed to correlate the operation of the parole reform act with the new department of public safety, the establishment of which he will propose to the legislature. Under this departmental reorganization the much criticized parole board would be abolished and parole functions would be handled by a new board consisting of five officials in the proposed new division of corrections. This would place parole in the hands of the men best able to judge the eligibility of the applicants.

The governor proposes, as an amendment to the Ward-Rennick bill, that the new parole board be given the power to lower the minimum sentence or raise the maximum sentence. This power could be exercised only by a four-fifths vote of the board, subject to a veto by the director of public safety.

There should be no difficulty regarding the reduction of sentences, since this power now rests with the governor. If any constitutional objection is raised to the delegation of this power to the parole board, it could be met easily by having the board, under the proposed safeguards, recommend the reduction to the governor, who would then exercise his present power of commutation.

The qualified power of the parole board to increase sentences might prove a valuable defense against the intrusion of the politico-criminal alliance into the courts, and may serve also to strengthen prison discipline. The governor's amendments ought to be acceptable to all who recognize the need for a less emotional treatment of crime and criminals in this state.

BLITZ ENGLISCH.

Word has leaked out concerning the nature of Hitler's secret weapon for the invasion of Britain. The German armed forces, with customary German thoroness, are learning a phonetic English with which to announce their presence when they land. A sample: "Schatt aop! Juh ahr mi prisenes." This means, "Shut up! You are my prisoners."

There is an old Mother Goose rhyme that runs:

Pray, which is the way to London Town?
I must be there tonight.
O, walk a hundred miles and turn
To left and then to right;
Then straight as a line and then zigzag,
Then uphill and then down,
Walk quick and in six months you'll be
Not far from London Town.

The Nazi philologists might try their hand at a blitz rendition of these lines.

Editorial of the Day

WHO PAYS?

[Detroit Free Press.]

The engineering problems of building the Parkside homes were about as involved as those to be encountered in building a chicken coop. Yet this government housing project, finished in 1938 at Warren and Conner, had to be partially rebuilt six months ago because of faulty roof construction. This, it has just been revealed, cost $32,456.

But it's perfectly all right!

Secretary Edwards of the Detroit housing commission assures Detroit's common council that Detroit does not have to pay for it.

The United States Housing Authority has paid all the bills, so there is no criticism to be visited upon anybody.

Certainly not! Uncle Sam pays the bills.

Yet a vague thought haunts us in our municipal freedom from financial responsibility: Where does Uncle Sam get the money?

The local attitude toward the loss of $32,456 is typical of the nation as a whole. Uncle Sam can borrow so many billions for any freak whim that comes up. There need be no worries over bookkeeping details. A billion here and a billion there. What does it matter?

You're filling out the answer in your income tax statements.

Our young soldiery seems an alert and intelligent lot, who will learn quickly about not leaving a half a chocolate bar in a uniform pocket.—Atlanta Constitution.

THE FIRST POINT OF ARIES.

Hoping that he is not infringing upon the rights and privileges of the news department, this old muezzin sticks his head over the parapet to announce that at 6:21 this evening the sun will apparently begin its crossing of the equator and spring will arrive. This happy moment may be called the vernal equinox or the First Point of Aries, as you prefer.

* * *

Equinoctial storms are pooh-poohed by weather statisticians and small-fry pundits. But can you laugh off the big winds of last Sunday and Monday? That was an equinoctial storm, slightly premature. In such matters nature does not imitate the marvels of Mussolini's trains.

* * *

We saw a sign of spring last Sunday that compensated for the painful lack of First Robins and pussy willows. The thermometer was marking 10 degrees above zero, but a pool of water exposed to the sun did not freeze.

* * *

Noting that more and more movie moppets and Park avenue heiresses are bearing the name of Brenda, we decided to investigate this baptismal trend. The fashion comes from England; modern English novels are full of Brendas. In the Early Victorian era, however, when Charlotte M. Yonge wrote her two volume "History of Christian Names," Brenda was rare. Miss Yonge merely gives it a glimpse as a name from the Shetland Islands, and thinks that it may be the feminine form of the Norse name Brand, which means a sword.

* * *

But Miss Yonge is not dependable, and we suspect that Brenda comes from St. Brendan, Irish apostle to the Scottish isles in the dark ages. His legend includes a tale of a voyage westward across the Atlantic and the discovery of a new land 500 years before the Icelandic exploits.

PROMISE OF SPRING.

I know it's slushy underfoot,
I know it's nasty overhead.
I know that people are convinced
That spring is definitely dead.

But there's an essence in the air,
A certain something not perceived
That makes me know that soon the trees
Will all be delicately leaved.

And tho I still wade thru the slush,
I do it with a lighter swing
Because I know that, come what may,
There'll always be another spring.

THE PRUDENT PELICAN.

(A Brookfield Ballad.)

The pelican is just a bird
Whose architecture is absurd;
He lives by virtue of his beak
That scoops up fish from pond or creek.
Perhaps it's worth our while to note
He doesn't trust things down his throat
Until he's kept them in his pouch
Till sure he's safe from grief and grouch
That come from stomachs fed a dish
Of rubber boots instead of fish!
So, folks, remember to beware
While propaganda fills the air;
Like pelicans, avoid dismay—
Don't swallow all that comes your way.

CARBON DIOXIDE FOR WEAK BREATHING.

In Second Kings [iv., 34-35] we read that Elisha revived a child who was thought to be dead by blowing into the youngster's mouth. This is probably the first recorded instance in which carbon dioxide [exhaled air] was used for resuscitation.

What governs respiration? No matter how hard we try, we cannot stop. If one should attempt to hold his breath he might do so to the point of unconsciousness, whereupon the process would be resumed promptly. Why is this? The automatic mechanism governing this function, which lies in the medulla [the lower portion of the brain] responds to slight stimulation. Whenever more acid than normal accumulates in the blood inhaling and exhaling are increased—which means that more carbon dioxide will be thrown off. Thus this substance, which is toxic—really dangerous at times—may be life saving under other circumstances. If alkalis are overabundant, the reverse is true.

There is another similar piece of apparatus located in the carotid body. This equipment regulates breathing response according to the supply of oxygen. If the percentage falls much below the usual concentration, messages go to this depot, which in turn relays them to the muscles of the thorax and the diaphragm, telling them to go to work.

We may conclude, then, that we are fairly well protected in the matter of respiration. But how can we use carbon dioxide effectively should poisoning depress the movements of the chest? It has been found that employing a 7 per cent mixture with 93 per cent oxygen will increase the rate sevenfold. Higher levels than this are rarely desirable—as we must recall that the preparation itself is harmful if too much is absorbed or should too little vital air be present.

In many instances 2 per cent given to a patient with cardiac failure will tide over a dangerous period. A small dose is merely the stimulant which figuratively opens the gateway to the lungs and lets in air. For this reason there must be plenty of oxygen available.

Occasionally an individual will not do well under the administration of an anesthetic. In fact, the rate of breathing may drop materially until there is danger of suffocation. In such cases the use of these two materials will not only neutralize the toxic effects but restore the patient to normal.

In the event of carbon monoxide asphyxiation this combination of gases makes an excellent antidote. Breathing picks up promptly. As fresh air begins to enter the tissues the monoxide is broken away from the hemoglobin [red coloring matter of the blood] and its excretion can then take place.

For those who are susceptible to airplane or mountain sickness, breathing may become so rapid that too much dioxide will be lost from the lungs. Here only a small fraction of the gas will suffice to relieve the symptoms. The same situation may occur in those who exhibit great excitement, or who become wildly hysterical — screaming, laughing, or shouting.

A word of caution, however, should be uttered concerning newborn babes who fail to breathe, or who respire poorly. In most of these little ones an excess of dioxide is present and about all they need is oxygen. Little good, however, will ensue if there is an obstruction within the larynx.

We should recall that the dioxide should never be used except in connection with oxygen, and only in mild proportions. Two to 7 per cent will serve to start most types of sluggish breathing.

Chicago, March 17.—For the benefit of the parents whose sons, like our own, are now at Camp Forrest, Tenn., with the 33d division I copy the postal which we received from him this morning.

"Tullahoma, Tenn., March 15.—Dear Mom and Dad: We have fine quarters here—the barracks are two story and bright and airy, with showers, etc., and hot air furnace. Across one street is the church and the general store—supplies, beer, ice cream, etc. The theater is near. Surrounding the houses are woods of oak and the southern trees. Our mess hall is adjacent to the barracks. The weather is fine—blue sky and warm, clear air—the mud has dried up, and we intend to grow grass around the barracks. There are two squads per floor. My squad is on the lower floor. We passed thru Nashville early this morning and arrived here about 10 o'clock. When you write I'd appreciate several penny postcards. My squad is the first in the company and made up of the tallest men—a fine bunch. Write soon. Hope you are fine. 'Love, T.'" MABLE A. STERBA.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS.

Chicago, March 16.—James E. White, in today's Voice of the People, makes the following statement: "I am for a showdown with Germany or Japan or any other country which dares to tell America where its ships can sail or where its citizens may go."

I cannot help wondering why Mr. White specifically mentions Germany and Japan in such a statement and makes no mention of Great Britain. Can he deny that at the present time Great Britain is telling America where its ships can sail to a greater extent than any other nation on this earth?

I am not implying that we should go to war with Great Britain or with Germany, or with Japan. I merely wish to point out that any argument for war with Germany or Japan that is based on our right to freedom of the seas is an even stronger argument for war with Great Britain. [SO-CALLED] ISOLATIONIST.

PRAISE FOR MR. HOFFMAN.

West McHenry, Ill., March 14.—Representative Clare E. Hoffman should be congratulated on his stand in fighting these strikes. Who is responsible for them? Hitler and Stalin's agents.

Mr. Hoffman is absolutely correct when he speaks about Fort Sheridan and Great Lakes. My husband is a carpenter contractor. He himself is not a union man, but the men who work for him are. He could not get on unless he joined the union, and he was born in Lansing, Mich. Men who were in this country only a few years got on these American defense jobs, and I doubt if some of them are citizens. MRS. E. MCKIM.

TRAFFIC COURT BROADCASTS.

Chicago, March 17.—Here we go along, year after year, teaching our school children that under the American system a person arrested for a crime or misdemeanor is innocent until proven guilty, and then after listening to the Traffic court broadcast a few times, I find out that this system has been reversed.

A person brought in there is guilty; no doubt about it. And just let him try to prove his innocence. If he has had as much as one glass of beer in the last 24 hours he is judged to be "under the influence of intoxicating liquor" by an officer whose impeccability is not to be doubted, at least by the judge. This is not a squawk. I do not own or drive a car and I am 100 per cent in sympathy with the "Keep Chicago Safe" idea, but I do believe that it is wrong to make a horrible example of every one who comes before this court, especially during the broadcast. Let's have more justice and less play to the gallery. J. E. REMINGTON.

A 50 PER CENT TAX.

Chicago, March 17.—The suggested 5 per cent income tax to pay for the war is so inadequate as to be silly. Let's organize a Committee to Aid the Allies by Paying for the War Now and advocate a 50 per cent income tax, payable on all incomes of $10 per week or more, to be deducted by the employer in the case of wage and salary earners and remitted to the treasury as earned.

A member of the British house of commons recently stated in the house that after the war England would be bankrupt and, since the Americans would not lend them any more money the only course left would be to move in and merge with the United States and thereby get access to American dollars.

The only way we can remain solvent and justify England's trust that we will be able to support Englishmen when the war is over is to pay for Mr. Roosevelt's war now and also pay off a major portion of the present Roosevelt debt. A 50 per cent income tax is none too much. J. E. MILLER.

THE FORGOTTEN STOCKHOLDER.

Chicago, March 12.—If there are any profits, John Lewis wants them for his mine workers. Somebody might ask him how many years of the last 10 or 12 the poor widows and orphans with 25 or 50 shares of mine or steel stocks have had any money from it. There are many more stockholders than workers in these large plants. Who is looking after their shrunken stomachs, to use language not so fancy as Mr. Lewis speaks. The answer is nobody. E. W. C.

FROM SENATOR CAPPER.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—I have followed THE TRIBUNE closely ever since the lend-lease bill has been an issue and write to congratulate you on the fine way in which you handled the question. We failed to get the required number of votes but there is no doubt THE TRIBUNE made a wonderful fight in supporting opposition to the bill. Needless to say, I think time will tell you were absolutely right. ARTHUR CAPPER.

DOMINION STATUS.

Chicago, March 17.—India has been struggling for 25 years or more to get dominion status from Britain. The United States got it by a squiggle of Roosevelt's pen. NOEL A. DUNDERDALE.

LOCKED IN FOR TREATMENT.

Danville, Ill., March 9.—Recently I read an article in the Voice of the People regarding mental patients in institutions designated for their care, in which the author regarded these unfortunates as prisoners without offenses. This is a common public impression.

I am an attendant of the insane, and have served in this capacity for a number of years, having received my initial training in an Illinois state hospital, and have worked in private and federal institutions.

It is the confining of mild mental cases for treatment to prevent them from becoming insane and so return them to society to live normal lives that gives rise to the stories of imprisonment. Alcoholics, who when improved generally feel that they are being held without cause, also contribute to this belief, a belief which is without foundation, for the doctors, nurses, and attendants are only too glad to see these persons reënter society at the earliest possible date.

Because of the numerous patients being received in these hospitals and the enormous expense involved, it is unfortunately necessary that many of them sit idle in locked wards, like prisoners, with little or nothing to do. Everything possible is being done to rectify this. Patients who are able are given small tasks about the wards or sent to the occupational therapy classes where they are given tasks to stimulate normal thinking and endeavor.

I hope this helps to explain this situation. AN ATTENDANT.

MISSING PERSON'S ESTATE.

Chicago, March 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—To my knowledge I am the only child of my father whom I have not seen or heard from for about 20 years. He died Dec. 12 or 13, 1940. His last address was Hawthorne, Cal.

1. How can I find out if he left an estate?
2. If there is a widow?
3. How do I go about claiming my share [if any] of what he may have left?

J. L.

1. The first step would be to write to the clerk of the Probate court there.
2. See 1.
3. The first step is to ascertain the facts. In general, an heir who could identify himself gets his share automatically.

The tracing of missing persons is so largely a matter of following up clews in the searcher's possession, that we are not in a position to render much assistance. A letter to the chief of police at the city where the person was last seen may produce results, but it is required here that the inquiring be vouched for by the applicant's local police officers to be with a proper motive. You have probably observed that classified ads are sometimes used in such searches, but you will have to decide for yourself whether the chances warrant the expense in your case.

In general, there is no federal, state or city bureau which would have a broad enough coverage to give much promise of help. The files of the social security act are confidential, hence are not available for search purposes. The so-called "Bureau of Missing Persons," referred to on the radio, is merely a radio feature. You can get some idea of its scope and usefulness by listening to the broadcast.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 33.

1. An expanding file would most likely be used by a Lawyer Manicurist Blacksmith Machinist.
2. The word Braille should make one think primarily of Alexander Bell Frances Willard Thomas Edison Helen Keller.
3. For patriotic decorations we generally employ
   Burlap Bunting Gingham Percale.
4. In the springtime, farmers often make tea out of Burdock Sassafras Snake Root Jimson Weed.
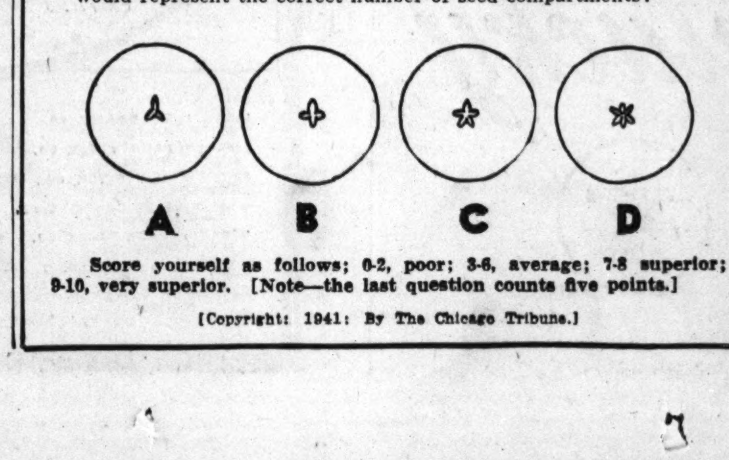
5. If a brunet were attired in a saffron dress, the color of her frock would be Green Lavender Bluish Green Orange Yellow.
6. This problem measures the accuracy of your observation. If you were to cut an apple at right angles to the stem so that you made a cross section thru the seeds, which of the following drawings would represent the correct number of seed compartments?



Score yourself as follows; 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8 superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—the last question counts five points.]

STEEL, CONCRETE TO HEM TOUGHS OF ST. CHARLES

Ready Sheridan Unit for Incorrigible Inmates.

A new branch of the St. Charles School for Boys, south of the village of Sheridan in La Salle county and 70 miles southwest of Chicago, will be ready by June 1 to receive 60 of the toughest inmates now at the main school, it was reported yesterday.

Construction of the branch was started in June, 1940. It will cost $250,000. Most of the outside work has been finished and the interior plastering and furnishing are the chief jobs remaining. The unit will be known as the Sheridan branch.

By housing the tougher inmates from the main school, the new branch, if competently administered, is expected to end the series of scandals that have plagued St. Charles school during the régime of William T. Harmon as commanding officer.

One Inmate Beaten Fatally.

The latest of these have been the fatal beating allegedly administered to an inmate by two employés—one of whom admitted he had been drinking—and the 36 hour revolt staged by two inmates who obtained knives and attacked another prisoner. The two employés face murder charges in Kane county and the two inmates are to be tried on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

From the road south of Sheridan the red brick exterior of the new unit, set against a background of wooded hills, has little resemblance to a penitentiary.

Inside, however, everything has been done to explode the theory on which St. Charles was founded and on which it has been operated—that all boys sent to the school are good boys and should be provided with a home-like atmosphere as the best method of teaching them how to behave.

Case hardened steel, concrete, and brick have made the new school virtually escape proof. Guard stations in the dining room and recreation room have bullet proof glass windows, 1⅛ inches thick, and several gun ports.

Each Inmate to Have Cell.

There are individual cells for inmates and a double door arrangement at each entrance. The steel plated doors to each cell are 1¾ inches thick, the windows are the heavily barred penal type. The single light in each cell is placed where the inmate cannot reach it.

Each cell will have its own heating unit—a six inch pipe running from floor to ceiling—a toilet and washbowl, and a drinking fountain. The hinges on the cell doors have been fastened with "security" screws that cannot be removed without a drill.

The cells are on two tiers, 30 to a tier, and all doors of each section are locked and unlocked simultaneously by a master switch. Each cubicle is 5½ feet wide and 11 feet long.

Clear View of Blocks.

Tier levels are staggered between the floor levels of the structure so that guards in the stations [dining and recreation rooms] have a clear sweep of both upper and lower cell blocks.

A minimum of moveable objects will be installed in the structure. The guards, according to Rodney H. Brandon, state director of public welfare, will be seasoned officers with penitentiary experience.

Harmon will direct the new unit, altho it is 50 miles from his office. Incorrigibles now at St. Charles will provide the inmates at first, but if and when the unit is expanded, youthful offenders now at Pontiac also will be transferred to Sheridan.

The state purchased 274 acres on the Sheridan site on the east bank of the Fox river. Plans already have been drawn to construct additional units until eventually the capacity of the institution will reach 1,500.

Rapid Expansion Urged.

A special legislative commission, headed by Senator Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton], has recommended to Gov. Green that the expansion be pushed as rapidly as possible.

As at St. Charles, the new school will be an industrial training institution. However, until the shops are constructed and furnished, the employés will have to be kept busy in the laundry, clearing the grounds, and taking care of the building.

Harmon said he assumed classes will be held for the inmates in the recreation room until the school is built. He said the recommended staff for Sheridan at first will include:

An assistant commanding officer in charge, an assistant clerk, a secretary, two cooks, a general utility man, a laborer, eight guards, three farmers, and a laundryman.

Asked if the guards in the stations would be armed, Harmon replied:

"That hasn't been settled yet."

A 12 foot fence, similar to the one recently built around St. Charles at a cost of $24,000, is being built at Sheridan. Inmates, according to tests, can scale such a fence in eight seconds.

The area surrounding the school will be lighted at night with eight spotlights, each of 750 watts. Guards at posts will be able to talk to each other and the officer in charge by way of a public address system.

Moves to Reno

Marcelle Manville Carlisle.

Reno, Nev., March 19 (AP).—John S. Sinai, Reno attorney, said today that Mrs. Marcelle Edwards Manville Carlisle, wife of a New York broker and former mate of Thomas F. [Tommy] Manville Jr., was establishing a residence here. He declined further information. Mrs. Carlisle, one time New York show girl, was wife No. 4 of Manville, the asbestos fortune heir, until she divorced him at Reno Oct. 29, 1937. Then she married Jay Freeborn Carlisle Jr., the broker, in New York.

INDICT SECOND COUNCILMAN ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Detroit, Mich., March 19 (AP).—A special grand jury today indicted a second Detroit councilman on charges of receiving a bribe in connection with the contract award on the $8,300,000 Herman Gardens low cost housing project here.

John F. Hamilton.

Named today was Robert G. Ewald, charged with receiving $5,000 to influence his vote on the award.

John F. Hamilton, councilman and former state representative, was indicted yesterday on charges of accepting a $15,000 bribe and confessed in Circuit court that the accusation was true. The council is considering his removal from office.

Today's indictment charged that $5,000 was paid to Ewald for his vote favoring concrete construction on the housing project.

2 Killed Near Kankakee When Train Hits Truck

Kankakee, Ill., March 19 [Special]. —Two men were killed today when their truck was struck by the Zipper streamlined C. and E. I. train on a grade crossing at Wichert, 11 miles southeast of here. The victims were Bob Simmons, 25, and Charles Cote, 19, both of St. Anne. The train was delayed two hours.

Fred Brinkman, 51 years old, a carpenter, was killed early today in a fall from the porch of his home on the second floor at 3529 Greenview avenue.

MUNICIPAL COURT JOINS IN COUNTY BACK TAX DRIVE

Bailiff Horan Promises to Seize Properties.

Municipal Court Bailiff Albert J. Horan yesterday joined county officials in their drive to collect back taxes. He promised to seize and sell the properties of those who have failed to pay judgments for personal property taxes entered in the Municipal court.

Horan said that, to carry out this program, he would first need indemnification by the city council to protect him in case of possible illegal seizures, and also the coöperation of the state's attorney's office in examining court records.

Sheriff Collects $30,000.

Horan's announcement followed the recent actions by County Treasurer John Toman and Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien to seize and auction the properties of personalty tax delinquents.

Horan estimated that about 3,000 Municipal court judgments for personalty taxes are entered a year and go unpaid and that the average amount is $200—making a total of $600,000 a year.

Sheriff O'Brien and his deputies yesterday collected $8,200 from 17 firms owing personal property tax judgments. This brought to $32,002 the total he has collected from 62 firms since the tax drive started a week ago.

Toman announced yesterday that 10 of the 46 taxpayers whose properties he threatened to seize on Tuesday had responded, but that only one had made a payment, which amounted to $900. Toman said a special squad is being formed to go to the premises of the recalcitrant taxpayers, post notices of sale, leave custodians, and conduct the sales to satisfy taxes.

Gypsum Case Settled.

The dispute between county tax officials and the United States Gypsum company over the amount of personal property taxes owed by the company was adjudicated yesterday by Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

The company contended that its assessment for 1937 was excessive and sought to enjoin Toman from making a seizure. Yesterday Judge Lynch upheld the company's contention and reduced the original 1937 tax from $126,079 to $37,818. Judge Lynch found that the taxes for two other years, $51,139 for 1938 and $60,904 for 1939, were correct.

Robert S. Cushman, attorney for the company, said checks totaling $126,021, representing unpaid balances due under the court's findings, will be paid to Treasurer Toman today.

Seize Girl, 16, as Fugitive from Ohio Industrial School

Maxine Carnes, 16 years old, was taken into custody by police last night in her room at 1542 West 59th street, on information that she was a fugitive from the Girls' Industrial school at Delaware, O. She fled last November and has been employed as a punch press operator since. The girl said she was placed in the school because she married when she was 14 and under the law must remain in the school until she is 21.

HURT IN FALL FROM SCAFFOLD.

JURY SELECTION IN POLICE KILLING RUNS INTO SNAGS

The state and defense attorneys yesterday succeeded in choosing only four jurors to try Jerry Mangano, 23 years old, a confessed "cop hater," for the murder of Park Policeman Harry François. The case is to be tried before Judge John A. Sbarbaro.

The killing of François occurred in November, 1939, and Mangano was tried soon afterward and sentenced to death. The verdict was upset last December by the Illinois Supreme court and a retrial ordered. In his first trial Mangano admitted shooting François, but asserted he acted without thought when a hoodlum companion shouted: "Shoot him."

The selected jurors, who have been qualified to inflict the death sentence, are John Nadvornik, 2556 North Austin avenue; Anthony C. Spoerri, 2627 Attrill street; Fred H. Colberg, 844 Des Plaines avenue, Forest Park, and Miss Minnie Brenner, 4912 Princeton avenue.

Saves Children's Lives; Crushed to Death by Tree

Holland, Mich., March 19 [Special]. —Theodore Anderson, 67, of Spring Lake, was cutting down a tree yesterday. It broke off when cut halfway thru and started to fall toward two children, Lois Moore, 8, and George Solemn, 7. Anderson braced himself against the trunk and threw it away from the children but himself was crushed to death. He leaves a widow, Mary Anderson, former postmistress of Spring Lake.

NAB 2 AS BANDIT AIDS OF VETERAN CAR THIEF, AGE 17

Two companions of John Patnick, 17 years old, a confessed car thief, were seized yesterday by Sergt. Roy Kilburg. They and Patnick were identified shortly afterward as bandits. Those arrested yesterday are Chris Marasolich, 17, of 3158 South Wells street, and Adolph Pinnchuna, 20, of 3251 Green street.

The bandit victims who identified the three are Curtis Darnell and his brother, James, of 212 155th place, Calumet City, and Embert Krum, 479 Fayette avenue, Hammond. The victims said that the trio robbed them of $14 and three pairs of roller skates in Dolton on Monday.

Patnick, who is 17 years old, lives at 3148 Lowe avenue. Arrested several days ago he admitted stealing 10 cars since he was placed on probation for car theft four months ago.

2 SENT TO JAIL FOR A YEAR IN DIVORCE FRAUD

Husband's Witness Tells of Perjury.

Mrs. Margaret Butwill's husband and his divorce trial witness were both sentenced to a year in jail yesterday after the witness confessed he lied at the divorce hearing when he accused Mrs. Butwill of misconduct.

Mrs. Butwill's husband is Charles Butwill, 46 years old, a motion picture machine operator. The witness is Walter Glista, 28, a clerk, of 3606 South Hermitage avenue.

Mrs. Butwill, 38, filed suit for divorce last year. She accused Butwill of misconduct, drunkenness, and cruelty, and asked custody ot their daughter, Margaret, 18. Butwill filed a cross bill charging misconduct and drunkenness against Mrs. Butwill, who lives at 2600 West 65th street.

Witness Confesses to Woman.

Judge Philip Finnegan, who heard the case, dismissed both bills last Dec. 10 after Glista testified that on two occasions he saw Mrs. Butwill commit indiscretions with another man in an automobile.

Mrs. Butwill appeared in court again yesterday with her attorney, Francis Joly. The attorney explained that Glista had come to Mrs. Butwill and confessed.

Glista then was called to the witness stand. He testified he met Butwill in a gambling house and had volunteered to be Butwill's witness. Glista told the judge he had never seen Mrs. Butwill until the day of the hearing, when he asked Butwill to point her out in court.

The witness said he decided to confess because his conscience hurt him when he realized the damage he had done to an innocent woman.

Judge Rebukes Husband.

Butwill told the judge that he did not know Glista had perjured himself. But the judge rebuked the husband sternly in sentencing both men for contempt of court, and called them "co-conspirators."

The judge took under consideration a suggestion of Joseph P. Burke, assistant state's attorney, that both men be bound over to the grand jury on charges of perjury and conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Judge Finnegan said that he would reread the evidence in the divorce case and either give Mrs. Butwill a divorce or hold a new trial.

Butwill and Glista refused to speak to each other when placed together in the lockup awaiting a ride to jail.

Arrest Five Who Robbed Catholic Church in Moscow

MOSCOW, March 19 (AP).—The soviet foreign office today informed Laurence A. Steinhardt, the American ambassador, that police have arrested five thieves on charges of robbing five times the Roman Catholic church of St. Louis Des Francais. The rector of the church, the Rev. Leopold Braun, is an American. The foreign office note said the stolen property had been recovered. Steinhardt twice, first on Dec. 12 and later on Feb. 2, protested against the robberies.

STUDY CITY RAIL PROBLEMS; FINDS IT HAS ALL KINDS

Some Trains Run Too Fast, Some Too Slow.

Members of the railway terminals committee of the city council exhibited their aldermanic dexterity yesterday when they jumped from consideration of one report about a railroad that goes so slow a brakeman walks in front to flag down traffic at street crossings, to a complaint that another line runs its Diesel engines so fast plaster is cracked in nearby buildings.

The slow train operates on a little used branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad extending from 83d street and Baltimore avenue to 71st street and the Illinois Central tracks.

Constructed in 1874.

E. B. Anderson, engineer for the committee, said the line now serves building construction yards and small industries and handles about 45 cars a week.

He said the area surrounding the line is a well developed residential district and that the cross streets are marked only with warning signs. As a result a trainman rides the front of the switch locomotive and goes ahead at each street to wave a flag and stop motorists. He recommended that the right-of-way could serve as a superhighway to connect such arteries as Stony Island avenue, 71st street, 76th street, and Jeffery avenue.

Move to Abandon Line.

The committee, headed by Ald. James Kovarik [15th], asked the corporation counsel to investigate necessary steps to have the right-of-way abandoned and asked to have railway officials explain their side at the next meeting, April 3.

The Illinois Central came in for discussion when Ald. Abraham H. Cohen [4th], and Ald. Paul Douglas [5th], both said their constituents complain about high speed trains pulled by Diesel engines.

"The original lake front ordinance required that the line electrify," said Douglas. "The railroad contends it has met the terms by using these Diesel engines. I contend that is wrong. Those engines vibrate. When a train passes buildings shake and plaster cracks on some walls, and people have to run around and straighten pictures hanging on the walls."

Ald. Kovarik said Illinois Central officials will be called to the next meeting at which time the lake front ordinance, which expired Feb. 20, will be discussed.

GEORGIA SPURNS ROOSEVELT PLEA FOR PIPELINE LAW

Atlanta, Ga., March 19 (AP).—The Georgia senate late today killed legislation to permit construction of gasoline pipelines—advocated by President Roosevelt as essential to national defense in a telegram to Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

The senate, its debate interrupted by the President's message, voted 27 to 21 against legislation that would have given private companies the right of eminent domain for pipeline construction if the President, the secretary of war, or the secretary of navy proclaimed the project vital to defense.

The senate also adopted a resolution expressing willingness to reconvene in special session sometime after adjournment Saturday night to enact legislation permitting the federal government to construct lines in Georgia. This would deny the right to private concerns.

The resolution said the senate wanted to coöperate with the President fully in national defense, but did not want to give private corporations the right to traverse private and public property in laying the

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ADMITS SCHENCK SOLD HIS STOCK IN A 'WASH SALE'

New York, March 19 (AP).—William Goetz, vice president of the Twentieth Century Fox Film corporation, testified in federal court today that in 1935 he gave a check for $5,000 to Joseph M. Schenck for certain shares of stock but at the same time he received $5,000 in cash from Schenck.

Goetz was called as a government witness in the trial of Schenck on charges of income tax evasion.

The stock, Goetz said, was in the Agua Caliente Jockey club, which was owned by Schenck.

A debate between counsel and witness, which included Correa's characterization of Goetz as a hostile witness, came as Correa asked the witness if he considered his purchase of the stock from Schenck, chairman of the film company's board, a "wash sale."

Gotez said he did consider the transaction as such, but qualified his answer by explaining he considered it in the nature of a "year-end" sale, which he said the treasury department customarily approved for the purpose of income tax deduction.

The trial will be resumed Friday.

Building Owner Fined $200 for Health Law Violations

Thomas Zbiegian, owner of a building at 1316 Division street, was fined $200 and costs by Municipal Judge Erwin J. Hasten yesterday in the drive to force property owners to comply with board of health regulations. Warrants were issued for six others who failed to appear to answer charges of violations.

GOV. SCHRICKER SUES TO REGAIN FORMER POWER

Brands G.O.P. Revamping Acts Unconstitutional.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 19 (AP).—By court action, Gov. Henry F. Schricker seeks to prove that the Republican-controled 1941 general assembly violated the state constitution in stripping him of most of the executive power gathered into the office by former Gov. Paul V. McNutt and the Democratic 1933 legislature.

Schricker, the only Democrat elected to state office last November, has chosen two new laws affecting the attorney general's office for a test of the G. O. P. reorganization program's constitutionality.

Bills Passed Over Veto.

One act removes the office from the governor's appointment and restores it to an elective basis; the second provides for appointment of an interim attorney general until an elected official is seated in January, 1943.

Gov. Schricker contended in a Marion county circuit suit filed yesterday that the assembly's action was "void and a palpable attempt by the legislative department of the state government to exercise executive power." The governor had made similar charges against other key measures of the Republican reorganization program and vetoed all of them. They were passed over his veto, however, in the session which ended March 10.

12,000 Employés Affected.

Under former Gov. McNutt, who now is federal security administrator, and his Democratic successor, M. Clifford Townsend, the governor and commissions named by the governor had sole authority to hire and fire the state's 12,000 employés.

The 1941 assembly set up a commission form of government, and each group would be controled, at least until the next election, by Republican officials.

Schricker, in his suit, asked the court to prevent the carrying out of the laws' provisions and to define his powers and those of other state officials.

AIRPORT WORKER DISPUTES PILOTS AT CRASH INQUIRY

Cincinnati, O., March 19 [Special].—John M. Schmidt, airport electrician, today disputed testimony of two American Airline pilots that green range lights on two runways were not burning on the rainy night of March 10 when a transport plane cracked up here, injuring 11 persons slightly.

Another witness at the final sessions of an inquiry by investigators of the Civil Aeronautics board was Capt. Lester W. Bryant of Chicago, pilot of the plane. He testified that he cut the switch to avoid crashing into the Little Miami river "with probable serious results" when the ship slithered against a sloping dike while landing without the range lights. He said the plane "made contact with the levee, left wing first."

★ HOUSEHOLD FORUM ★

by Louise Bargelt

[Have you some household help that lightens labor, is there some comfort you could share? We'll be glad to pass on your ideas to our readers Address Louise Bargelt, The Chicago Tribune.]

Mrs. L. T. Morrison, Chicago: Why won't some inventor concentrate on manufacture and development of some material to which ice will not adhere? It would be a blessing for steps and walks and highways and windshields!

Helen Jones, Oak Park, Ill.: I never have trouble with ice trays sticking in my freezing unit of refrigerator for at first sign of "sticking" I wrap wax paper around bottom and sides of trays. This keeps them sliding in and out easily.

Mary Baldo, Chicago: I noticed in THE TRIBUNE several weeks ago where a "Dora S——" suggested a way to wring out hot compresses. I didn't think her method was such a good one. Here is a simple method and you can have compresses as hot as you need. Wring out a bathtowel and put it in top of double boiler with no water in top part. Put water in bottom part of double boiler and heat until moist towel is hot. Then you can pick it up with some pincher or even finger tips as it does not need to be wrung out. Hope this helps a lot of people as it is practical.

Mrs. Elsie Groveland, Detroit, Mich.: If you will hang a wire strainer in lid of garbage can, filled with moth balls, it will help to keep insects away. You can keep strainer in place by fastening or soldering a wire across the lid.

Mrs. Katharine Wigg, Chicago: If the paper sticks to package of raisins place them in oven for a few minutes and the wrapping can be removed more easily.

Mrs. Angela Cross, Chicago: I use fruit jars to protect my very young plants and they thrive under added sun warmth. But I see to it they have ventilation, too, by thrusting two sticks into the ground just far enough to raise the jar just a little off the ground.

Ellen Trent, Elgin, Ill.: I have always gone on the principle that vegetables which grow below the ground should be covered when they are cooked and those which grow above ground should be cooked without a cover. My mother taught me this and I feel I get tastier results. I wonder if this is according to "modern" scientific principle?

Mrs. Cora Streeter, Chicago: It would be a comfort to all housewives if some scientist could some day invent a tobacco that left no ash! Why can't it be done?

Letty L. Jones, Evanston: For use next summer, why won't manufacturers of paper picnic plates cover them with two or three layers of firm waxed paper? Then when one layer is soiled it can be thrown away and plate can be used over again.

Mrs. T. G. Haley, Chicago: Every year about this time my oldest boy paints all the handles of our garden tools a nice, bright green. This makes it easy for us to find them in basement or garage—and the fact that the tools belong to us is never any matter for dispute.

Mrs. Thomas R., Elgin, Ill.: Why won't some one concoct a finish for all cotton goods which will make them resistant to wrinkles and yet will not impair their strength?

Now—please—your idea!

Drapery Fabric and Wall Paper Made to Match

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

A clever new idea, a decorator's touch that the amateur can indulge in, is to use matching prints with your new spring wall paper. A prominent eastern company is bringing out several with drapery fabrics to match.

Of course, the use of such a duet is bound to bring a feeling of unity to any room. The drapery fabric also may be used for bedspreads or to slip cover a chair or two. And the wall paper need not be hung on all four walls, but on two or merely one if that effect is best for the room.

China Pigs is the name of a gay and delightful new paper done in the modern manner and intended for many informal uses. In squares that form a repeat pattern are seen several brightly painted little pigs and a couple of nonchalant butterflies, all disporting themselves on a white ground.

There is no matching fabric for this paper, but there is for Alsace, a handsome reproduction of an old French document. Alsace is a graceful floral done in subdued tones of blue and rose with a little beige and black. The drapery material, exactly like the paper, is a cretonne. This duet would be ideal in a French provincial type of room, or with early American furniture.

One of the most unusual and charming wall papers we have seen anywhere is made by this firm. Handmade, it has the fresh, lovely colors of a painting. It's called Early Spring and has a huge, haphazard design: A white dove on the wing, an enormous pink rose, a spray or two of enchanting but undefinable flowers all in pale blue or scarlet, and a little chartreuse butterfly. Very French is this paper, very individual, and quite expensive.

With it you can have a specially designed accompanying curtain material, a thin white celanese printed with some of the flowers that occur in the wall paper. What a delightful bedroom, dressing room, or breakfast room could be achieved with Early Spring!

Another hand printed paper is Rosalus, which has for a pattern simply enormous single roses, marching up and down a pure white background. Of course, only a large room with a lofty ceiling could don this sort of decoration.

For a dining room, library or study there is a delightful dull rose beige and green paper covered with sketches of famous English, Scottish, and Welsh castles: Edinburgh, Carnarvon, Kenilworth, etc. There is no matching fabric for this number, however.

Most amusing is a wide border to put around the walls of a bar, called Le Boulevard. Strung along it are black and white line drawings illustrating popular drinks. A prim Victorian lady and her escort are Old Fashioned; three jolly men are the Collins boys, Rum, Tom and John, and the head of a Pegasus has curleycues around it that spell Horse's Neck.

"No-Blow" Shower Curtain Is Controled by Magnetic Weights

The newest shower curtain to make its appearance in the market is called a "no-blow" curtain because of small magnetic weights which have been slipped into the bottom hem. These magnets prevent it from blowing or swirling because they make it adhere to the side of the tub. The curtain material used is plastic and is thoroly waterproof and won't crack, stick, peel, nor mildew. You can get it with an attractive printed design in colors. And, if you wish, you can also have window curtains to match. There are two types—one with a picot edged ruffle and the other, a tailored model, with hemstitched hems.

Spacious Master Bedroom Provides Daytime Retreat

A spacious master bedroom, if properly furnished, will take the strain from other rooms in the home by providing a place for the performance of many household duties. A desk or secretary and bookcase will equip it for service as a study. It's a good spot for a neat cabinet sewing machine. A small radio, plus a chaise lounge, will transform it into a snug retreat for daytime relaxation.

Platinum Tone Newest Finish for Furniture

BY CLAIRE WINSLOW.

If you want to cut corners and keep the budget down, but still achieve a smartly attractive room, there's no better way than to invest in unpainted furniture. For years we've sung the praises of this type of home furnishings, but this spring we draw special attention to it again, for you now can have a brand new finish, besides the painted ones, if you wish.

This light, natural wood tone, called platinum is one of the loveliest we've ever seen. It's subtle, pale, smooth beige that results from the use of a clear lacquer containing white pigment to preserve the tone of the wood, which is birch. The effect is a little like that of pickled pine, popular in the highest priced furniture this season.

And when you've seen the displays of this new line of pieces you'll realize how easy it is to do almost any room in your home in this inexpensive furniture. There are low, modern beds, the headboards of which can be upholstered if you wish. There are couches, comfortable living room chairs, nests of tables, tall bookcases, and short ones, a knee-hole desk which can double as a dressing table, chests, and open shelves.

One new and most useful item is a specially designed record cabinet to be used for the record player and the radio as well as the albums. It has a long, shallow drawer at the top, and below this two open shelves.

All this new furniture was planned with the young bridal couple in mind. Newlyweds can furnish their first small home with these good looking but inexpensive modern pieces, adding their handsome wedding gifts—period accessories, probably—as finishing touches.

Then, later, when they move into larger, more elaborate quarters, they can place more costly woods in the living room and dinning room, and use these pieces for the bedroom, perhaps, or for a guest room or game room. Because each piece has several uses, its practical value is enhanced.

High School Credit for Study of Religion Meets Opposition

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Opposition to the Johnson plan to give students high school credits for religious courses to be given in religious centers in coöperation with the city high schools was voiced yesterday by Dean Charles W. Gilkey of the Rockefeller Memorial chapel, University of Chicago. Dean Gilkey is chairman of a special study group of the Citizens Schools committee, 185 North Wabash avenue.

The plan was proposed by Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools. Dean Gilkey said his committee's principal objection is that public funds would have to be spent for sectarian purposes.

"The keeping of records could not be avoided," Dean Gilkey explained. "This would effect an organic tieup between church and state which could lead to the use of the school's authority to persuade and coerce, for sectarian purposes, the mind and conscience of the pupil.

"Credit could constitute the opening wedge for demanding the use of school property for holding sectarian courses. In fact, legislation has even been introduced in various states to have the state pay for sectarian instruction. The granting of credit introduces the possibility of bitter controversy among sects, and between sects and the school administration as to relative merits and standards of their curricula and teachers."

Dean Gilkey cited a decision of the Illinois Supreme court which affirmed the view that pressure on pupils would result from the plan. This decision stated that a child who does not elect to participate in biblical instruction is perforce influenced by the actions of the other children who do participate in a manner resulting in pressure on their consciences.

Dean Gilkey recommended that careful studies be given to the program before adopting it.

Th Johnson plan calls for pupils to go to a nearby church of their choice, or other quarters, for religious instruction two hours each week during school hours. The department of Christian education of the Chicago Church federation, Archbishop Samuel A. Strich of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, and certain Jewish groups favor the plan. The Illinois council of the Friends of the Public Schools, and Mrs. Evelyn Mills Duvall, director of the Association for Family Living, oppose the plan.

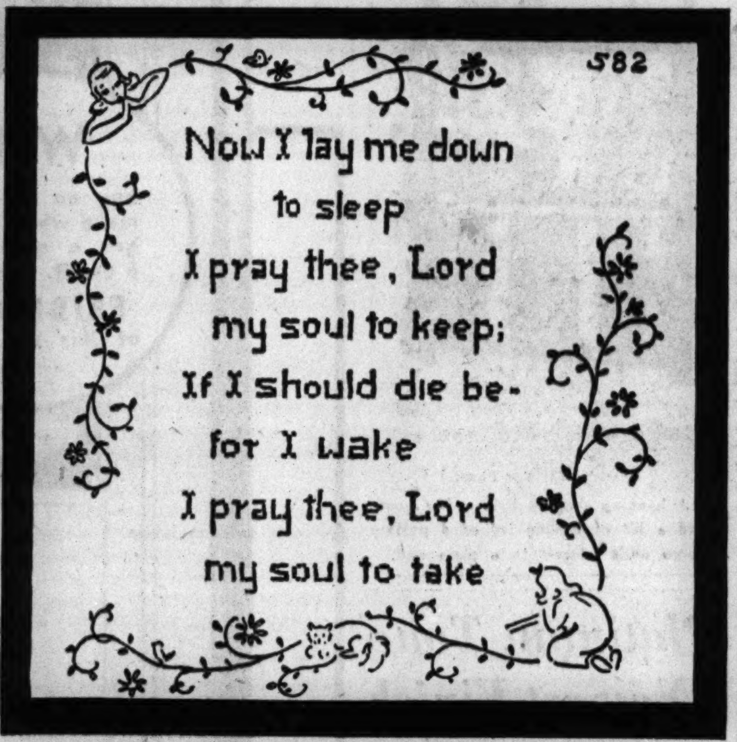
Child's Prayer Pattern



BY NANCY CABOT.

There can be no more attractive way for children to learn their prayers than in picture or story form. The cross-stitch picture of a child's bedtime prayer is one of the most effective wall motifs for a juvenile's room. Black and white is the color scheme for the cross-stitch, with the embroidery motifs in the corner of delicate pastels. A companion piece, a morning prayer, will be published tomorrow morning, and with these two pieces hanging side by side every child will have ample opportunity to be conscious of his religious duties.

For the hot iron transfer pattern of the child's prayer, No. 582, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

The appetizer course of a luncheon or dinner should be a teaser. It should leave the diners hungrier than they were before they sat down, if that is possible. It shouldn't seem to satisfy hunger at all. Its purpose is to stimulate the digestive juices and make the dinner course, therefore, all the more enjoyable.

If we regard an appetizer course as a teaser, there are a lot of so called appetizers which we're going to leave out of the menu. We can save the best of these for tea and cocktail parties.

What, then, have we left which really may be called appetiers?

First, we have dozens and scores of fruit and vegetable juices from which to choose. The tart or sharp flavored ones are best. Grapefruit juice, sauerkraut juice, tomato juice pepped up with a little sauerkraut juice, grapefruit juice added to grape juice to take away its over sweetness, cranberry cocktail or cranberry and orange, these are a few of the most tantalizing among them.

It's now possible to buy almost any kind of fruit or vegetable juice you can think of, beet, carrot, celery, parsley, vegetable juice cocktail, prune, plum, wild blueberry, papaya, melon, and many others. If you want something unusual you may have it.

With a vegetable juice, a sharp flavored canape, anchovy or caviar with lemon or onion juice, doesn't come amiss.

Next in favor come chilled fruit appetizers. Almost any combination of fresh, unsweetened fruit is suitable. The serving shouldn't be large. Oranges and grapefruit, because of their refreshing acidity, probably are put into these fruit cocktails more often than are other fruits. The juicier fruits are far better than the dry ones. Bananas, for example, have an extremely low rating as an appetizer possibility. They belong in the body of the meal or in the dessert.

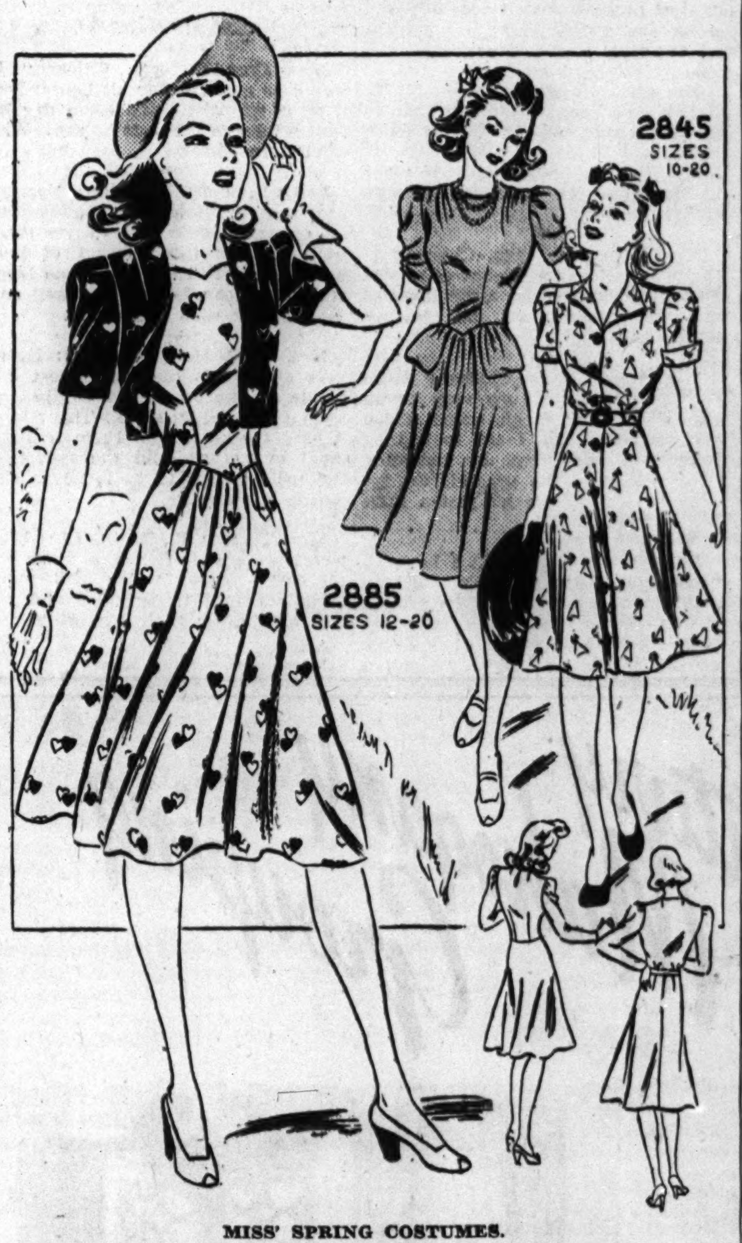
Melon balls, because melons contain much water and, therefore, aren't filling, are one of summertime's best fruit cocktails.

Third rank among appetizers goes to the crisp vegetable salad with sharp dressing. The salad appears more and more frequently as first course these days. It should be a chilly, crisp, and small salad. Nothing heavy should go into it. Save the cheese for dessert. Crisp, clean greens, crisp chill cucumber slices, sliced radishes, small pieces of tomato, carrot curls, celery sticks, shaved raw turnip or cauliflower, or shaved beet pickle are eligible. Almost any combination will look pretty and serve the purpose.

If there are overweight persons at your table, you'll win their hearts by serving a salad such as this with a mineral oil dressing to cut its calories. Plump folks also appreciate the fruit juice and chilled fruit appetizers, too, for these are non-fattening as well.

If a dinner or luncheon is going to be light, the heartier appetizer courses aren't unsuitable.

Dresses Pretty in Prints



MISS' SPRING COSTUMES.

Fanciful prints make up well in the dress and jacket ensemble sketched at the left. If you can find a heart patterned silk or cotton, so much the better, because the neckline of this dress has a heart shaped design. The bodice fits snugly, the skirt is gathered for softness, while the jacket is trim and tailored.

The other frock has shirtwaist lines, buttoning all the way down the front. It makes up as well in sporty prints as it does in plain shades. This is an all-purpose frock you won't want to lack.

Style No. 2885 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material for short sleeved dress; seven-eighths yard for short sleeved bolero.

Style No. 2845 is designed for sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 3¾ yards of 35 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Leaving Baby Alone Full of Real Danger

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Two young parents I know go off and leave their 6 month old baby asleep in the house alone, for long evenings at the movies or parties. "Why, what harm can possibly come to her?" they ask.

A mother I used to know at camp up in the mountains, where the summer nights are almost like winter, would leave her baby unguarded for hours. When I spontaneously expressed my amazement, she said: "Well, one night she had the covers wound around her neck. And last night her feet were blue with cold. But it didn't hurt her. And I can't stay away from everything that's going on. What harm can come to her?"

If these mothers, or others who are grimly determined to be "sensible" about their children, would check, as I do, the accounts of accidents and tragedies that happen to babies and young children who are left to themselves, they wouldn't be quite so nonchalant about it all.

To their wide eyed question, "But what's going to happen to her?" no one can give an answer, because it is the unexpected that happens.

If the little child is left in his beth he can slip under the water and strangle.

If the baby gets hold of the talcum powder and shakes it on his mouth and inhales it, he can go thru agony to get his breath again and probably have pneumonia.

If he's very little and left alone when he sleeps he can pull the covers over him and smother.

If he's left alone in the house there always is the danger of fire in which he might perish.

If he's put in his high chair he may slip down and hang by his chin from the edge of the tray.

These instances are only a few chosen from many I know of that actually did happen. In a number of them the accidents proved fatal.

"You and Your Young Child" is the name of a comprehensive new booklet helpful to parents. To obtain it, send a self-addressed, large, stamped envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, the Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

Winter may be on the wane, but dry skin doesn't seem to know it. The laments about rough, shriveled skin are just as loud and anguished as ever.

You can lubricate your skin nowadays without using too greasy preparations. The new body lotions that soothe and protect but leave no greasy film are a blessing for women in this part of the country.

We're thinking of one in particular that was introduced last year. It's a peach-hued lotion that does its work with complete unobtrusiveness.

You should use it generously on arms, elbows, and knees that are wind burned. There will be no gooiness, but the roughness and redness will disappear. And this is a good time to remember that the short sleeved season isn't too far away. If you give your arms good care now you won't be embarrassed by unpresentable elbows when spring really comes.

Aside from its virtues as an afterbath skin softener this is a pearl of little price in the way of a powder base for the skin of the face.

Another trick up its sleeve is its usefulness as a night cream. If you loathe going to bed with your face thickly coated with a shiny cream, try this. Work it in well. You'll find that the skin laps it up and that you can achieve the necessary lubrication without looking like something out of the comic strips.

Finds 'See My Lawyer' Bit Strident and Hardly Funny

"SEE MY LAWYER."

Farce in three acts by Richard Maibaum and Harry Clork. Setting by Cirker and Robbins. Staged by Carroll Ashburn. Presented by Robert Russell in the Selwyn theater, Wednesday evening, March 19, 1941.

THE CAST.

Fay Frankel	Mary Rolfe
Arthur Lee	Willie Shore
Joseph O'Rourke	Joe A. Callaway
Peter Russo	James Russo
Morris Schneerer	Nat Cantor
Irving Frankel	Perry Bruskin
Robert Carlin	Jack Sheehan
Blossom Le Verne	Robin Raymond

Also Herb Haddon, James Ashburn, Dan Seymour, Allen Shulruff, Richard Earle, Charlie Healy, and Bernard Suss.

BY CECIL SMITH.

"See My Lawyer" is an attempt to reap a box office harvest by repeating as large a part of the formula of "Three Men on a Horse" as possible. With two colleagues who are hard put to it to match his completely extrovert manner, Willie Shore endeavors to set himself up as a practicing lawyer. During a dreary first act no business comes in the direction of the three scatterbrained barristers, until just before the curtain, when an infinitely wealthy and completely batty playboy falls into their clutches.

The plot, as improbable as most ribald farce plots are likely to be, springs from the unpredictable behavior of the playboy, who is equally happy abducting young girls, mowing down pedestrians with his big automobile, or watching Lone Ranger movies.

It is doubtful whether the loop has heard a more strident and loud mouthed performance in 10 years, or seen a greater number of kicks in the pants, pokes in the ribs, and other manifestations of primitive physical anger.

The performers overplayed constantly, as tho they were competing with a Rush street night club audience which would not quiet down while the show was going on. As a matter of fact, the Selwyn theater was perfectly quiet, so that the actors sounded as if they were addressing the gallery of the Chicago Stadium without microphones.

Mr. Shore and his fellow performers may prove to be perfectly agreeable entertainers when they learn not to give their audience such a beating. Those whose risibilities are aroused by the spectacle of actors trying to be funny, without much aid from the script, may find "See My Lawyer" a source of unbridled merriment. On the other hand, those who expect a farce to contain bright lines as well as gag situations will not find it difficult to remain fairly thoroly aloof from the whole thing.

◆

The play has been rewritten sufficiently to change its locale from New York to Chicago. Local references abound, and some of these are, of course, good for automatic laughs of recognition. The dialogue is heavy with plugs for local commercial institutions, however, so that there is a wearisome feeling that the producer is trying to please everybody who might send him some business.

Mr. Shore's characterization is not outstandingly resourceful, but he is a likable personality. On a more assured plane are the contributions of Jack Sheehan, Mary Rolfe, and Robin Raymond, the last of whom is one of the fleshiest seductresses we have had on display for quite a while.

One could fill columns with the names of notables. Most appreciated sights: Short, dynamic, shock-haired J. P. Miss Carolyn Chapman Weds Thomas E. Wells

BY JUDITH CASS.

SPRING flowers and Easter lilies filled the John A. Chapmans' home in Lake Forest for the wedding yesterday afternoon of their youngest daughter, Carolyn, and Thomas E. Wells, son of Mrs. Ellsworth Faris of Lake Forest. The Rev. Oliver Brackett read the service in the living room. A small reception followed. The ceremony was in distinct contrast to a large June wedding that had been planned, but as Mr. Wells must take his army training the date was advanced. After a wedding trip to Florida he and his bride will be at home in Rock Rapids, Ia., until he departs for training camp.

Yesterday's bride wore a charming gown of traditional white satin and a veil of tulle and heirloom lace. She carried freesias and lilies of the valley. Mr. Wells' brother, Greeley Wells, came from Bard college in New York to be best man. Their sister, Miss Nancy Wells, came home from school for the occasion. Also present were the bride's sisters, Mrs. J. Brooks Fenno Jr. of Boston, Mrs. Francis Beidler Jr., and Mrs. Eugene du Pont III., Mrs. Chapman's brother-in-law, Morrill Dunn, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. William McKee Dunn of Detroit, and Miss Lucia Ellis, whose engagement to Edgar J. Uihlein Jr. was announced last week.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., March 19.—Now I know that the toughest, coldest audience in the world is a gathering of those who entertain the world—movie actors. There hasn't been such hand sitting since Queen Victoria voiced her famous chiller diller, "We are not amused."

The Screen Actors' guild had its second annual party, which broke up yesterday morning with great decorum, and it was a swell party. There was more box office glamor on the dance floor than at either of the other recent big affairs, the academy dinner and the annual fiesta of the Warner club. The girls wore their finest rags [and for my money Joan Bennett, in something very simple and white, was the best dressed gal] and such fellas as Robert Montgomery, Robert Young, Edward G. Robinson, J. Cagney, Walter Wanger, and George Murphy looked mighty fine all cleaned up. The Cocoanut Grove food was good [you had your choice of steak or squab, which is unusual for a big banquet] and the dance band was much better than the usual line of stuff you get out here.

And the floor show was a dandy—but nobody applauded. Reginald Gardiner, in addition to doing the familiar imitations of a ship and a locomotive, had a keen impersonation of Roland Young. Virginia O'Brien, the dead pan singer, swung "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair" and "Sleep, Baby, Sleep." Richard Haydn recited his famous "Take a Quarter of a Pound of Cheese" cookery lecture, and there were several singers and dancers. But the élite of Hollywood sat around and looked dignified.

Red Skelton was next to closing on the bill and I said to myself, "Well, if he can't tip 'em over there's no hope." Red came up with his impersonation of a television announcer doing the commercials for a gin program and finally got them going—but it was an uphill fight. He began with a couple of gags which laid right at the feet of ten million dollars' worth of talent. "What is this?" he then demanded. "Murder trial?" After that shot they loosened up a bit and were laughing pretty well at the end of the gin program. They became even more cordial when Red demonstrated how Cagney, Robinson, and other screen toughies die from a machine gunning—but by then the program was over.

Water Colors of Merit in Academy Show

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

There is an excellent exhibition of water colors on view at the Palette and Chisel academy, the work being by members of the group. All the paintings are of the conservative school and most of them are landscapes.

J. Jeffrey Grant is represented by two large paintings done in his usual quiet, competent manner. One, "Falling Snow," is a city landscape with the gray spires of a church rising behind a row of houses in the background and in the foreground a broad expanse of white with two figures, busy shoveling a path. The other, "The Stubborn Goat," is a pleasing composition, a village scene with a goat girl and her charges seen on a hillside.

◆

Two of the outstanding works in this show are by L. Krimsin, one of an old gray shack which stands out with startling distinctness in the clarity of mountain air, and another in similar vein with the great blue hills of the Smokies rising in the distance. Each is done with great skill and directness.

"Low Tide," by James Cole, is another high spot in the exhibition. This painting of three white dories bobbing beside two old fishing boats at a wharf must have been done with great rapidity. The color is exceedingly vibrant and fresh. The artist knew what he wanted to do and did it.

Holger W. Jensen has a sunny, peaceful view of Taxco; Anthony Buchta has a carefully studied view of a quaint old Cincinnati house that is a marvelous bit of Americana; Harold Johnson contributes a winter landscape with farm buildings; Nickolas Veronica offers a splendid portrait head of a vigorous old salt, called "Cap'n Cod," and C. Curry Bohm has an interestingly brushed Brown county landscape, "Winter Ends."

Strange Judas

SYNOPSIS.

Don Barron, young American newspaper man, is sent to rescue Paul Darmal, financier and opponent of the Nazis. His plan is to let Darmal take his place on a Swedish boat and flee Germany, but Barron's plan is learned by the Nazis, and he is left in Germany to figure some other way of getting Darmal out. Managing to escape from the secret service agents who have been shadowing him, Barron reaches Darmal's hiding place only to find that Darmal has had to flee to another refuge. But he meets Twysden, the local agent in charge of the rescue, and Darmal's stepdaughter, Hertha, and granddaughter, Sigi. He mistrusts Sigi, as he has previously seen her with Puttaemus, local Nazi official, but he is forced to accept her offer to take him and the others to Darmal's new hiding place. The hiding place turns out to be a lodge on Puttaemus' estate on the Baltic and her plan is to have Barron, Twysden, and Hertha make a getaway with Darmal to Denmark in Puttaemus' yacht while she is attending a party with Puttaemus. But they are betrayed somehow, and an armed force is waiting at the docks. By a ruse of wrecking their car they throw the pursuers off their track and finally do make a getaway on the waiting yacht and land safely in Denmark, but Sigi fails to meet them as she has promised. A great influx of Nazis into Denmark worries Barron, and when Hertha sees Schmarz, Puttaemus' jackal and rival, she almost faints.

INSTALMENT XVI.

BETRAYED.

Walking singly, or in pairs, the Germans crossed the square from west to east, and at discreet intervals. They went by the shops and the town hall for a block or two and then turend up a side street. It was always the same side street, a narrow cleft turning toward the back of the town.

Don Barron was so used to this movement that he was able to spot the men bent on this route the moment they entered the square. He became even more interested in it when the lank, owl nosed creature Twysden had called Otto Schmarz went that way. Beside him walked a hulking animal who was obviously a bodyguard, while at 20 paces to the rear a couple of equally obvious gunmen trailed after.

Yet the greatest jolt of all was to see Sigi coming into the square, obviously following the same route. At first he thought she was coming to the hotel, but when she passed it, heading for the narrow turning, he left the window and went quickly across to Twysden. The fellow was dead asleep, and with no time to explain, Don Barron shook him enough to arouse him, shouted, "Going out on business. Carry on whatever happens," and ran from the room.

Sigi was turning into the narrow street as he reached the square, but by cutting across he gained ground and was about 30 yards behind her when he himself entered the turning.

He followed her easily and unseen as she led him thru the older part of the town, for, glancing back, he was sure that no one was trailing him. The way became narrower and overshadowed by old timber buildings when they approached a quarter that abutted on a river or sea inlet. Also the streets were emptier, for here the buildings were largely sheds or warehouses and most of them seemed derelict. Soon even these thinned and Sigi entered a road running parallel with and close to the water.

Here he had to wait under a wall, for the road ran straight ahead until it reached fields and woods. There was no cover, unfenced land being on one side and wharves or the straight walls of warehouses on the river side. Sigi herself walked ahead briskly, as tho intent on getting to the woods, yet quite abruptly she turned and came back.

He thanked his stars he had been cautious, since she was merely trying a clever trick to make sure if she were followed. That was evident when, after a dozen yards, she turned into the gate of the last of the warehouses—satisfied she hadn't been trailed.

Don Barron gave her two minutes, then walked along the road in her own manner, passing the warehouse gate as she had done. The gateway was actually an arch running under the nearest warehouse building of concrete. Beyond was a littered and lifeless yard stretching down to the waters of the stream. On each side this yard was inclosed by the wings of the warehouse that also ran right down to the edge of the river.

Swift tho his look had been, he saw that the place had possibilities of cover for a closer examination. He turned abruptly, as Sigi had, returning to the gate.

But, unlike her, he did not enter.

Two men were coming up the road the way he had come—two more of the tourists making for the rendezvous.

Don Barron walked back unconcernedly. He studied the men with placid eyes, hoping they would take him for a casual passer-by. As they drew level he blandly wished them good evening in Danish. As he spoke, the man nearest him snapped "Heil Hitler" and slashed with the rubber club he had held behind his back.

Don Barron ducked and grabbed the club hand as it swept by, jerking the man off his balance. He dug his free fist into the body, using all his weight. The fellow gave a coughing yell and crashed into his companion, knocking him sideways. Don Barron had played for that and was running for the corner at once.

But he did not get there.

Two more men jumped into view with the air of lads who had been waiting for just this. And they had pistols in their hands. Don Barron sighed, stopped dead, and put up his hands. He was far too experienced to argue with loaded weapons at that range. He recognized, too, that they had been more intelligent than he had thought. The first pair must have watched him shadowing Sigi, and signaled their plan of action to the second.

They dragged their prisoner thru the warehouse gate and thru a door that led onto the ground floor. Don Barron was conscious of scores of men turning to glare at him, and the ugly growls that came from them. Then he was shoved roughly ahead into what had once been the warehouse offices. There a dozen or so men who looked like leaders waited—and one woman. But he did not look at her. A minute later he was taken into an inner room, and Otto Schmarz was rising from behind a table, his eyes seeming closer together because of the evil glitter in them.

Don Barron expected Otto Schmarz to denounce him at once for the rescue of Darmal. But after the first livid glare of exultation the man's glance became speculative and secret. Then, as the men who had captured the American told their story, his pallid face took on an odd luminosity as a damp film of satisfaction bedewed it.

"A spy, hey—and the swine who took my table," he cried with glee. "Well, what have you to say, Mr. Spy?"

The ignoring of Darmal gave Don Barron his cue.

"Say, what are you talking about?" he demanded in atrocious and blustering German, for Schmarz had used that tongue. "I demand to see the American consul."

"A nice disguise, the blundering Yankee tourist. But it doesn't do, Mr. Spy; we've caught you properly this time. Hit him, August," Schmarz said softly.

The big brute who was Schmarz's bodyguard struck shrewdly and vilely with his rubber truncheon. Barron gasped and doubled under the agony.

"It's an outrage!" Don Barron panted. "An unwarrantable assault! . . . You'll answer for this—you see."

"We are prepared to answer anything our enemies ask—this time," Schmarz sneered, "but you, I fear, will not be there to enjoy that joke. . . . Meanwhile, you answer me——"

"Why should I? Who are you? I don't believe you're a Dane at all," Barron bluffed.

"That is a funnier joke than you know," Schmarz began, but a man looking like a local leader, who was sitting at the table, said testily: "Have we time for this sort of thing? We shall be hard put to get thru as it is."

"But if this man is a spy it is important——"

"Then prove it," the local leader snapped. "Who was he following—the Fraulein Sigi? Have her in. Only let's get on with the work, for heaven's sake."

Schmarz gave sulky orders. . . . Sigi was in the room.

Barron looked at her squarely but woodenly; her own scrutiny of him was interested, even jaunty.

"Why, I do know him," she said. "He's the man Herr Oberst Puttaemus wants so badly."

Don Barron's throat grew tight at the utter levity of her treachery. The others were excited at her news—yet Otto Schmarz made no comment; he even seemed a trifle soured and put out by it.

"He sneaked into Germany from a Swedish ship," Sigi went on, seeming to enjoy being the center of so much sensation. "Herr Puttaemus laid traps for him at once, but he was so clever he slipped off in the most cunning way. The Herr Oberst was furious."

"If the Herr Oberst wants him——" began Schmarz with a foxy leer.

"He does—terrifically," Sigi giggled. "I know. He's been searching everywhere for him. It'll be a tremendous triumph for you——"

"That'll do, Fraulein," Otto Schmarz cut short her chatter with a sly and wary look. "If the Herr Oberst requires him it will be our duty to send him to the Herr Oberst." He looked toward the two men who had interrupted. The first nodded; the second added:

"Certainly—but I don't think the Herr Oberst would be pleased if it interfered with the party plans."

Miss Carolyn Chapman Weds Thomas E. Wells

attract a good part of Chicago's winter travelers. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Geraghty have been in Pasadena for the last two weeks and expect to stay in California another three. Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Johnson are other Pasadena visitors. They will return to Chicago on April 1.

Miss Barbara Senn, who also included Pasadena on her winter itinerary, is now in Tucson, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. O'Brien and their daughters, Miss Rosemary and Miss Charlotte, will end their California tour by the first of next week.

The Francis R. Dickinsons and Mrs. Dickinson's sister, Miss Dorothy Stirling, and Miss Vida Elvin are writing from San Miguel de Allende, Mexico. Before returning to Chicago in May Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson may fly to Guatemala. Mrs. Hubert Burnham returned to Taxco, in Mexico, with a broken collar bone. The injury did not prevent her from driving back as she had planned, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. Adams are sending mail from Santa Barbara, Cal. They will go to Pasadena to see the John Stuarts before returning to Chicago early in April.

Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze at New York Flower Show.

Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze is in New York to represent the Lake Geneva Garden club at the International Flower show which opened on Monday. Vegetables and fruits are being shown for the first time this year.

The Alexander H. Revells are in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where their newly married daughter, Mrs. Samuel Vaughan Jr., will join them. Mrs. Bruce Borland and Mrs. James C. Hutchins are in Boca Grande, Fla., to remain until April 1.

Mrs. Paul Hamlin departed yesterday to visit her son and daughter-in-law, the junior George Wingfields, in Pasadena, and her daughter and son-in-law, the Leonard Clarks, near San Francisco. The John R. Winterbothams are at their Bermuda home, Peppercorn Lodge, for a month, and Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne are en route to Bermuda, where they will visit the David Pyles of New York until the end of April.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan McMenemy are in San Francisco until Mr. McMenemy learns where and when he must report for government service. He expects to be sent to the far east.

The James Offields to Be in Arizona Until April 1.

Arizona cactus may adorn postcards the James Offields will be sending Chicago friends before they come home at the end of April. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boyd Jones went a bit further west and are spending a few weeks in Death Valley. The Thomas J. Flemings just have returned from a month's holiday in Phoenix and Palm Springs, Cal.

Ensign Mugh MacLeish, who is vacationing in Phoenix with his parents, the Bruce MacLeishes, will cut his trip short next week and start east to report for duty on the U. S. destroyer MacLeish. The ship was named for his uncle, the late Lieut. Kenneth MacLeish, who was killed in an air battle during the world war.

Just home from a seven week stay on their ranch near Corpus Christi, Tex., the Lon C. Hills and their daughter, Georgette, already are making plans for another extended trek. Next week they'll go to Virginia to visit Mrs. Hill's sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Owsley, who lives near Charlottesville. Lon C. Hill Jr. and Owsley Hill will join their family during the boys' vacations from Williams college and New Trier.

Mrs. Otis L. Hubbard of Lake Forest is at the Casa Marina in Key West, Fla., for the remainder of the season. The John P. Bents are there for three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Elston Jr. also are at the resort, as is Russell P. Kelley.

Louise Wood Named Head of Pasadena Girls' School.

The Chicago friends of Miss Louise Wood will be interested to learn that she has been appointed headmistress of the Westridge School for Girls in Pasadena, Cal. Miss Wood, whose mother, the late Mrs. Ira C. Wood, was prominent in Chicago, formerly took small groups of young women on tours of Europe. She is a sister of Mrs. Malcolm E. Shroyer of Barrington.

Members of the Chicago Committee for Aid to China have taken a corner of a shop at 633 North Michigan avenue in which they will start selling Chinese gifts and curios on March 31. Mrs. James P. Watkins is in charge.

The American Opera society is presenting a performance in costume of "The Bachelor's Maid" at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Cordon club. The artists appearing will be Leonard Huber, baritone; Joan Franston-Sachs, soprano; Demarest Polacheck, mime, and Joseph Anderson, pianist. Mrs. Helen Rend Clarke is president of the society.

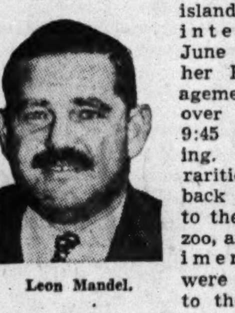
Today's Features

ON W-G-N.



Leon Mandel.

Leon Mandel, just returned from a zoological expedition to the Galapagos islands, will be interviewed by June Baker on her Home Management program over W-G-N at 9:45 this morning. The animal rarities brought back and given to the Brookfield zoo, and the specimens which were turned over to the Feld Museum of Natural History will be the topic of their discussion.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, Dr. Frederick Stock conducting, will present works of Borowski and Ravel during the orchestra's weekly concert over W-G-N and Mutual from 9:30 to 10:15 p. m. The program will open with Borowski's "Symphony No. 2 in E Minor" in four movements, and will continue with "Alborada del Gracioso" by Ravel.

Radio Gossip club, Eddie and Fannie Cavanaugh's quarter-hour of information dealing with the stars of radio, will be heard at 3:30 p. m. Radio favorites for many years, the popular couple can be heard Monday thru Friday at the same hour.

Dress Suits Needed for Young Players in Civic Orchestra

The dress suit stock of the Civic orchestra of Chicago is running dangerously—even embarrassingly—low, according to Henry E. Voegeli, manager of the Chicago Symphony, who yesterday sounded a call for dress suits in good condition.

Most of the young men and women who get their training in the Civic orchestra—a school for symphony players—are unable to buy appropriate attire when they receive the offer of a post in a major orchestra. As a result donated dress suits are kept on file at Orchestra hall for emergencies.

Voegeli said there has been a run on members of the Civic orchestra and the stock is low. Sizes? Any old size will be a help, said Voegeli, but symphony players are mostly long and lean.

Ten G. A. R. Veterans Expected at 75th Anniversary Fete

Ten civil war veterans are expected to attend a dinner at the Hotel Sherman April 5 commemorating the 75th anniversary of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The G. A. R. was organized in Springfield in 1866 and its first post, No. 1 of Decatur, was instituted on April 6, 1866. The observance is being sponsored by the Sons and Daughters' Banquet Association of Cook County.

Three of the invited veterans are 99. They are T. F. Dornblazer, 942 Belle Plaine avenue; James Lewis and Milton H. Myers of Park Ridge.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

One of the most important changes in the Culbertson system for 1941 [and thereafter] is the new classification of a double of one no trump. Heretofore, such a double was technically for a take-out, just like the double of any suit bid. A distinction was made in the advice given to the doubler's partner, that is, in the Culbertson Gold Book, and other works, he was strongly urged to make a penalty pass if the opening bid had been one no trump, but was specifically warned against such a pass if the opening bid had been in a suit.

Now, in order to clarify this situation as much as possible, we have taken a thoroly logical step, and one which is in accord with the practice of every leading expert. We have made the double of one no trump a penalty double. The doubler's partner should pass unless he holds a five card suit with less than one honor trick in his hand. In that case he should take out to his suit. Even if he has had a blank hand, he should let the double stand unless he has a five card or longer suit to mention, because the one no trump, doubled, will not produce a game even if made, and it is likely to be less expensive to give the opponents their doubled contract than to take out in a four card suit with a miserable hand. If, however, an opponent redoubles, which means that they now have reached a game contract, the doubler's partner should take out if he holds a bad hand and only a four card suit.

When the doubler's partner has one to one and one-half honor tricks he should invariably pass unless all his strength is in one five card or longer suit. If it is, he should take out to the suit [he should make a jump take-out in a six card suit].

When the doubler's partner has two or more honor tricks he should pass except when his distribution is so freakish that he can be virtually certain of making a game and, even in that case, it might be wiser to play against one no trump doubled if the opponents are vulnerable and the doubling team is not.

I will illustrate these points in greater detail tomorrow.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 club	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 clubs	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the three of hearts. East won with the ace and returned the suit. South won with the king and promptly ruffed his remaining heart. He next cashed the ace and king of spades and started on the clubs, but when three rounds disclosed that East had started with four, South had no further means of avoiding the loss of two diamonds and a trump, in addition to the heart already lost.

Correct play makes the four spade contract an easy one. After winning the second trick with the king of hearts, declarer first should cash the ace and king of spades. The high clubs next should be taken, followed by a club ruff in the closed hand. Only then should the losing heart be ruffed with dummy's last spade, for at this point dummy's entry can be put to some purpose, that of ruffing another club. This establishes the dummy's remaining club as a winner.

Dummy then may be entered with the ace of diamonds in order to cash the fifth club. It does not matter whether East trumps the trick, since South cannot be prevented from making 10 tricks.

Head of Lake Forest Academy Resigns on Account of Ill Health

The resignation because of ill health of John Wayne Richards, headmaster of Lake Forest academy since 1913, was announced yesterday by McPherson Holt, president of the board of trustees. Mr. Richards' successor has not yet been named.

Mr. Richards is a graduate of Yale university and taught for seven years at the Hotchkiss school, Lakeville, Conn., before coming to Lake Forest. He is a member of the National Committee on Research in Secondary Education, past president of the Private Schools' association, and a member of the commission on higher institutions of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. He is known among educators for his "Richards Plan in Education."

Mr. Richards will become headmaster emeritus when the academy's 83d year closes in June.

WILSON'S Weekly RECIPES

When Death Valley Scotty first hit Broadway after years on the desert, he thumbed through the French names on the Rector menu in bewilderment. Finally he called the waiter. "Bring me $20.00 worth of fried ham," said Scotty. Now there is no meat known to man more delicious than smoked ham—if in addition to modern mildness and tenderness it has that rich smoke flavor. Frankly, I know only one smoked ham which "has everything." It is Wilson's Certified Tender Extra Mild Smoked Ham—in the bright orange wrapper.

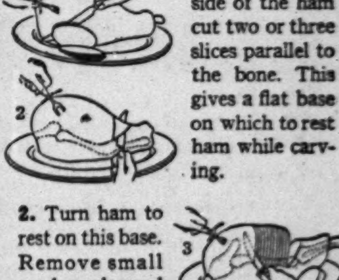
WILSON'S TENDER Certified SMOKED HAM
MADE BY WILSON'S SECRET PROCESS
Cook BEFORE EATING

EASY WAY TO BAKE HAM
Allow a Wilson's Certified Smoked Ham to reach room temperature, 68° to 70° F. Bake in an uncovered roaster in oven 325° to 350° F., 16 minutes per pound. Remove from oven. Peel off skin. Decorate with thin slices of grapefruit. Pour strained honey over the ham. Return to a 400° F. oven for 20 minutes.

EASY WAY TO CARVE HAM



1. From the thin side of the ham cut two or three slices parallel to the bone. This gives a flat base on which to rest ham while carving.
2. Turn ham to rest on this base. Remove small wedge-shaped piece.
3. Cut thin slices down to bone and run knife along bone under slices as illustrated.

NEW KIND OF BACON DOESN'T LOSE FLAVOR

Cover Keeps Ground Coffee Fresh ... Rind Keeps Sliced Bacon Fresh
Bacon is like coffee . . . the fresher the flavor, the better. Out at Wilson's we've found a way to protect the original freshness and rich smoke taste. We slice choice bacon slightly thicker, then pack the slices upright, tightly back on the rind, in handy two-pound packs. Ask for Wilson's Certified Family Style Bacon.

Don't Be Fat!
HERE'S THE MOST AMAZING WAY TO LOSE WEIGHT YOU'VE EVER READ ABOUT
No Strict Diet Lists; No Strenuous Exercises; No Distasteful Drugs

IN every section of the country today, women have marveled at the wonders of a safe, easy reducing method—which requires no strict diet lists; no strenuous exercises; no drugs. Increases energy as weight goes down. It's the identical method Dr. Damrau of New York used in tests among a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed directions implicitly, and was responsible for an average loss in weight of 7 pounds per month.

Unbelievably Easy to Follow
All you do is mix ¾ glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ glass of water and drink before meals and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—which means you avoid overeating; thus reducing caloric intake considerably. Then this happens: First, this delicious drink satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to overeat fattening foods—but you never suffer a hungry moment. Second, the natural dextrose in Welch's is quickly consumed, and by this process not only aids nature in consuming excess fat but also increases your energy.

That is why weight is lost naturally; why you not only look better but actually feel better; have more energy. And this proved method is just as beneficial and effective for overweight men, as it is for overweight women.

Do This One Important Thing!
There is only one thing to watch—eat sensibly, which means you avoid over-eating, and be sure to use only genuine Welch's Grape Juice, selected by Dr. Damrau in his convincing test. Welch's is always full strength. It contains full measure of natural dextrose which is so important. And because Welch's is always full strength, it is delicious when diluted—very economical to use. Start this proved reducing method today and watch your energy go up as your weight goes down.

SENSATIONAL FACTS ABOUT AMAZING WELCH WAY TO REDUCE
Dr. Frederic Damrau of New York made a revealing test on a group of intelligent and cooperative people who followed his instructions implicitly. By following this simple, pleasant Welch Way to reduce, these people lost an average of 7 pounds per month. Chart at right shows actual weight loss registered. Sworn statement below verifies all claims made for this reducing method.

CUBS WHIP WHITE SOX, 4-1; FIRST 1941 VICTORY

HEAVYWEIGHTS CARRY NEW YORK'S GLOVES HOPES

EAST CONCEDES SELF BULK OF LIGHTER BOUTS

Wait Till They Meet Our Mr. Haley.

BY BILL MURTHA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 19.—In the wide open fight for positions on the New York Intercity Golden Gloves team which faces Chicago's champions in Chicago Stadium next Wednesday, no race has elicited as much interest as the three cornered battle involving the heavyweights.

At the moment no one, not even Head Coach Spike Webb, knows which of the three candidates, Tim Still, Johnny Vetcher and Lloyd Williams, will receive the two assignments. It is quite likely that no choice will be made until the night of the bouts.

Webb and his coaching associates are moving cautiously because they are convinced that on these two contests may rest New York's chances of ending Chicago's seven year Intercity reign. They haven't forgotten last year when the final bout decided the championship in Madison Square Garden.

Allen Forced Out.

The heavyweight situation was complicated when Henry Allen, who won the title in the New York Tournament of Champions reported he was unable to leave his job in Philadelphia to make the Chicago trip.

Still seemed the logical choice for the No. 1 position because he had lost a close decision to Allen in the finals. But when he attempted to exercise his overlordship in the gymnasium Vetcher made an enthusiastic counter claim. Vetcher got only to the opening round in the Tournament of Champions, but he had had the misfortune to draw the eventual winner as his opponent. The decision was as close as the Allen-Still verdict.

Both might have been content if Williams, the Syracuse colored boy, hadn't turned up and reeled off a couple of sizzling workouts. Neither as clever as Vetcher nor as rugged as Still, the Syracuse boy has the one attribute that forces the coaches to consider him—a thunderous right hand that can end any bout at any time.

Middleweights Open, Too.

A similar situation has developed among the eastern middleweights, the only other division in which there is no champion available for the Chicago trip. The Tournament of Champions victor, like Allen, a Philadelphian, could not make the trip, leaving the 160 pound assignments to Dudley Watson, Jack Jackson, Anton Petrak and Al Tribuani.

Tribuani is an Intercity veteran from last year. He lost a close decision to Savior Canadeo in the welterweight class and was sailing along impressively in the New York tournament this year until the flu struck him down.

Altho only a novice, Petrak has not been counted out yet. His poise and aggressiveness have so impressed the coaches they give him an even chance of earning one of the two assignments against Chicago.

Webb Is Confident.

Webb would settle right now for one victory in each of these classes, so confident is he that the lighter divisions will give New York better than an even break.

If victory for New York turns on a lead built up by the little fellows, no small part of the credit will be Ray Robinson's. Only recently graduated from the Gloves ranks himself, Robinson appreciates the fighters' problems. He has centered particular attention on Welterweight Eddie Saunders and Featherweight Champion Charlie Davis

HALEY POMMELS SPARMATES IN INTER-CITY DRILL

Chicagoans Take First 3 Round Workouts.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Jack Haley, the redheaded Irish lad whose dynamic fists beat their way thru some of the most stirring moments of the recent Golden Gloves tournament, turned on the heat again yesterday in leading his Chicago Intercity teammates thru a sensational workout as the coaches shook the squad out of an overconfident complacency.

The staff gave warning that some of the boys are going to get the lickings of their lives if they're caught off guard by the tough New York champions in the Stadium next Wednesday night. The youngsters responded with some of the most brilliantly sustained sparring ever displayed by an Intercity team.

Haley Turns on Power.

As the bell clanged for the first bout at 2:30 p. m. in the Illinois Athletic club gymnasium, Haley sprang from his corner to clash in the center of the ring with Eddie Hudson, the rugged colored boy who fought so staunchly against him in the Golden Gloves final. Haley lashed out with the punches that had beaten Hudson to the floor in every round of their Stadium bout. Hudson stood up and fought back just as stoutly as he did on that occasion, which has now become a famous part of Golden Gloves history.

JACK HALEY.

Brown Has Trouble, Too.

Just before the end of the first round Haley's right lashed out and laid open a cut on the bridge of Hudson's nose. Thereupon Head Coach Johnny Behr rushed in a fresh opponent, Phil Brown of St. Louis.

Brown, who had been knocked out for the first time in his life in his Golden Gloves semi-final bout with

In the Wake of the News

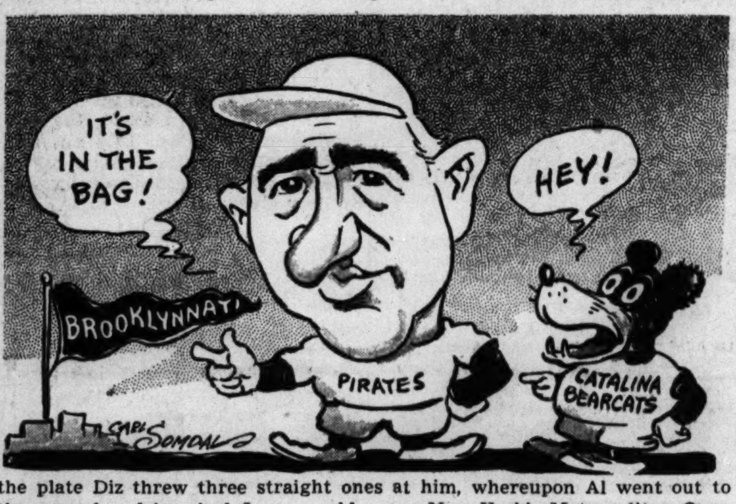
BY ARCH WARD.

SINCE he became a teammate of Dizzy Dean, Al Todd has been asked repeatedly by radio interviewers and others to tell the details of the way in which he flattened Diz at fisticuffs when they both were in the Texas league. . . . Todd usually counters with the remark that he and Dean since have been good friends and that he doesn't see any purpose in gloating over the decision. . . . The trouble started after Todd socked one of Diz's pitches for a triple. . . . The next time he was at the plate Diz threw three straight ones at him, whereupon Al went out to the mound and knocked Jerome cold. . . . New York's Metropolitan Open golf tournament, a fixture for 35 years, has been abandoned. . . . The Brooklyn Dodgers have averaged more than 911,000 attendance at Ebbets field since Larry MacPhail took charge of the club three years ago. . . . Almost any team in either major league would settle right now for that average for the next three years. . . . Avalon, capital of Catalina Island, will have its name changed if some of the persons interested in luring tourists have their way. . . . They contend that prospective resort customers on the mainland of the United States do not think of Catalina when they read dispatches dated Avalon telling about record fish catches and baseball training under ideal weather conditions. . . . The name may become simply Catalina, or Catalina City, Catalina Junction, Catalina Corners, Catalina Vista—anything to better plug the name of the island thru the name of the village. . . .



Frankie Frisch expresses himself well pleased with his Pittsburgh Pirates, "but I can't pick them to win the pennant," he cracks, "because both Cincinnati and Brooklyn have won the 1941 flag already." . . . The Trouble with Man Is Man.

The beauties of the world remain
Much as they were long, long ago;
The crystal drops of gentle rain,
The ocean tides that ebb and flow,
The azure skies, the mountain peaks,
The rivers, lakes, and winding creeks.
But man is much dissatisfied,
Just as he was long, long ago;
He nurtures Hatred, to abide
Where Love and Brotherhood should grow.
The fault is not in Nature's plan;
The grief of man is caused by man.

[First of best of three series.]
Toronto Maple Leafs at Boston Bruins.
[First of best of seven series.]
New York Rangers at Detroit Red Wings.
[First of best of three series.]

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago Blackhawks, a spirited, if battered, hockey team, tonight will begin their 10th quest for the Stanley cup in their 15th year career by meeting the Montreal Canadiens in the Chicago Stadium in the first of the best-out-of-three series between the fifth and sixth place finishers in the National Hockey league. The Hawks take home ice precedence by reason of having finished fifth. The series continues Saturday night in the Montreal Forum, and if a third game be necessary it will be played next Tuesday evening on the Stadium ice.

Tonight also will see the Stanley cup competition open in two other cities. In Boston, the league champion Bruins will tee off against Walter [Turk] Broda, winner of the Vezina goal-tending trophy, and his Toronto Maple Leaf colleagues. This battle will be conducted on a best-out-of-seven basis. The Detroit Red Wings, winners of third place, will face the fourth place New York Rangers in Detroit's Olympia in the first of a best-of-three series. Winners of the Detroit and Chicago duels will then fight to meet the victor in the Boston and Toronto bracket.

Hawks Still Crippled.

Manager Paul Thompson is qualified for at least an interneship if not a full fledged doctor's license. The Hawk boss has seen every member of his cast on the casualty list at one time or another this season. A total of 70 games were missed by the Chicago ensemble this season because of injuries. Leading victim was Bill Carse, who has missed 17 matches since he was hurt in New York on Jan. 30.

The loss of Carse is reflected in the speedy George Allen's showing since Bill came down with a leg injury. George appeared bound for a new Hawk scoring mark until then, but since he has missed Carse's clever feeding from center.

As if Carse's absence, necessitating a complete transformation of forward lines, is not enough, Thompson also has a real problem on defense. Tonight he will have to alternate three men in the protective posts—Earl Seibert, Joe Cooper, and Dave MacKay. Neither Art Weibe nor John Mariucci will be available because of ailing legs. They, like Bill Carse, may be ready for a Tuesday night game if it should be necessary.

Bentleys and March Team.

Thompson is expected to open with a forward line composed of the Bentley brothers and Mush March. Allen will work at left wing on a threesome centered by Cully Dahlstrom, with Joe Papike at right wing. The third line will find Phil Hergesheimer, nomally a right wing, playing center between Bob Carse and Johnny Chad. All of this switching was caused by the injury sustained in Sunday's closing league game by Bill Thoms, the team's best playmaker, who also found time to lead the Hawks in scoring with 32 points on 13 goals and 19 assists. Thoms, who required six stitches in his left ankle after a clash with Nick Metz of the Leafs, may be ready for Tuesday night's game, if a third game is needed for decision.

Send Silvestri Draft Papers to Yanks' Camp

Ken Silvestri, 24 years old, of 5149 Dakin street, catcher with the New York Yankees, was mailed his draft questionnaire yesterday by board 57. Silvestri, who was with the White Sox last year, has number 1016, which would make him subject to call within a few months. He is single.

LEWIS GETS PAPERS.

Gastonia, N. C., March 19 (AP).—Gaston county draft board officials said today that a draft questionnaire had been mailed to Buddy Lewis, infielder and outfielder of the Washington Senators. W. B. Crumpton, clerk of the draft board, said the papers were mailed to Lewis at the Senators' Orlando, Fla., training camp, ordering the 25 year old unmarried star to undergo physical examination immediately.

RIZZUTO PASSES EXAM.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 [Special].—Phil Rizzuto, the New York Yankee's No. 1 draft eligible, completed his medical examination today and was pronounced in perfect physical condition. This report will be forwarded to his draft board in Brooklyn.

SNEAD SHOOTS 66; TAKES LEAD IN NORTH-SOUTH

Pinehurst, N. C., March 19 (AP). — The familiar figure of Sam Snead came into prominence today in the second round of the North-South Open Golf tournament. Snead, winner of two of the last four tournaments on the winter tour and runner up in a third, shot a 66 to take the half way mark lead with a 36 hole total of 135. His under-par round was equal to the competitive course record.

Johnny Bulla of Greensboro, N. C., disqualified in last year's national open for teeing off ahead of time, was disqualified. His trap shot hit the pin, and when the distance was measured it was discovered he had been less than 60 feet from the cup and therefore should have had his caddy lift the pin out of the cup before he shot.

Back of Snead came Lawson Little with a 70 for 139; Clayton Heafner, with a record 70 for 140; Byron Nelson, with a 71 for 140, and Ben Hogan, last year's winner, with a 70 for 141.

The final 36 holes will be played tomorrow. Other leading scorers:

Mike Turnesa, Fairview, N. Y.	71	71	142
Willie Goggin, White Plains, N. Y.	72	71	143
Lloyd Mangrum, Oak Park, Ill.	68	76	144
Harry Cooper, Chicago	68	76	144
Jimmy Hines, Great Neck, N. Y.	72	72	144

Cubs Release Bob Collins to Los Angeles

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19.—Catcher Bob Collins, who was with the Cubs last season, mainly in the bull pen, shortly will resume work with his former employers, the Los Angeles Angels. Announcement of his release was made this afternoon. This leaves Al Todd, Charley George, Clyde McCullough and Robert Scheffing to fight it out for the three places in the Cubs' catching department.

John Rigney, the White Sox's 26 year old pitching ace, revealed today he had received notice from his River Forest, Ill., draft board to prepare for possible induction into army service. He will report to Pasadena Board 188 tomorrow for his physical examination by Dr. Z. T. Malady. Rigney is No. 440 in his district, and even if given a 1-A rating he has a chance to escape call for at least another month.

The White Sox exhibition chores for tomorrow involve a bus ride to Hollywood for a game with Connie Mack's Athletics. The pitching program arranged by Manager Jim Dykes includes Ted Lyons, Thornton Lee, Joe Haynes, and Pete Appleton. If Lyons, whose foot was a bit sore today as the result of being hit by a ball in yesterday's practice, isn't in the mood to work, the three other fellows will share the job.

The most severely bitten members of the recent White Sox flu brigade—Taft Wright, Bill Dietrich, and John Humphries—took another workout today. Wright ran a bit and hit a bit in the pre-game drilling. Dietrich, whose convalescence has been too slow for Dykes' patience, pitched in batting practice.

The Cubs will play here again tomorrow, but against the Pittsburgh Pirates. Manager Jim Wilson will start his No. 1 mound worker, Claude Passeau, who will try to cover a five inning route. The remaining innings will be put in the care of Paul Erickson, the Zion City delegate. Rip Sewell and Joe Bowman will be the Pirate pitchers.

The series which started today is the ninth spring set between the Cubs and Sox. Of course, the Sox hold the edge, 5 to 3. The south siders won last year's series, 7 games to 6. The Cubs triumphed in 1934, 1939 and 1938. The Sox won in 1937, 1936, 1935 and 1933.

3 ERRORS CAUSE DOWNFALL OF SOUTH SIDERS

Root Yields 4 Hits in 5 Innings.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19.—The Cubs this afternoon finally got around to the joy of winning a 1941 exhibition game. Their victims were the White Sox, 4 to 1, in the first contest of 16 scheduled between the two Chicago teams before they open their league seasons April 15.

Lou Novikoff, the Cubs' distressed Russian strong boy, had another unhappy day. He was fanned by Johnny Rigney and Edgar Smith and supplied two infield outs.

The Sox made four hits off Charley Root in five innings, and four off Tot Pressnell in four. No two Sox smacks came in the same inning except two off Pressnell after two were out in the ninth inning.

All Cub Runs Unearned.

Rigney held the Cubs to three hits and no runs in the first three innings. Smith had three unearned runs charged against him in the next three, tho no Cub hit safely, and Jack Hallett was reached for one hit and an unearned run in two innings.

The score was all that afforded the Cubs elation, for all their runs were unearned and accomplished without a hit. They made only four hits and none figured in any phase of the scoring. The Sox, who made eight hits, utilized only one in making their lone run, Luke Appling doubling in the second and scoring on an infield out and Bill Knickerbocker's fly.

After Rigney had shaded Root, 1 to 0, in the first three innings, Smith came in to carry on against the 42 year old Cub. Smith made a good start, fanning Bill Nicholson, but then complications set in. Dom Dallessandro walked and reached third when Bill Herman's double play ball got thru Appling. Clyde McCullough's fly brought Dom in with the tying run.

Novikoff Fans Again.

Smith set up his own fifth inning woes by walking Stan Hack and Eddie Waitkus. Then he fanned Novikoff. After making a wild pitch which moved up the runners, Smith purposely passed Nicholson. Dallessandro hit one back to Smith, who threw Hack out at the plate. When Herman hit an easy fly to Larry Rosenthal the Sox joy was short lived. Rosenthal dropped the ball, Waitkus and Nicholson scoring.

The fourth Cub run, off Hallett in the seventh, was started on its way when Appling messed up Waitkus' grounder. A passed ball by Mike Tresh sent Waitkus to second and he tallied on successive infield outs.

Pressnell succeeded Root as the sixth opened and the former Brooklyn pitcher had no troubles until Rosenthal and Bill Knickerbocker singled in the ninth. Kreevich ended the game by fanning.

Hack Wastes a Double.

Hack's double opening the Cubs' first was the first scoring threat, but Rigney fanned Novikoff and Nicholson after Waitkus' infield out had put Stan on third. In the third McCullough tripled after Dallesandro, who walked, had been knocked off in a double play when Herman hit to Bob Kennedy.

Kennedy singled with one out in the third, and the Sox felt a bit depressed when they failed to score in the fourth after Moose Solters led off with a triple. The American leaguers missed another big chance in the fifth after Mike Kreevich opened with a double and advanced on Smith's sacrifice. Kennedy and George Dickey couldn't get Mike home.

HALEY POMMELS SPARMATES IN INTER-CITY DRILL

Coaches' Rebuke Brings on Some Lusty Punching.

Haley, had all he could do to carry on despite the fact that he was picking up the struggle fresh after Hudson had attempted to take the edge off the featherweight champion's furious punches. For two more rounds they slugged away, and at the finish Haley was red-faced, but breathing easily.

"It's lucky for Charley Davis that he wasn't in there with Haley this afternoon," ringside observers remarked.

Davis is the New York featherweight champion whom Haley will oppose in the intercity bouts. In winning his title against the best boxers on the Atlantic seaboard, Davis showed an all around boxing and hitting ability that reminded observers of Ray Robinson, New York's intercity featherweight champion in 1939 and lightweight winner last year. But judging by the way Haley looked yesterday, Chicago fans are confident that he'll be able to take care of any situation next Wednesday night.

Corona, Burns Renew Feud.

After Haley and Brown had cleared out of the ring and gone on to their floorwork, the other members of the squad took up where they had left off. Dick Menchaca and Ray Brown pounded one another with the same gusto they showed when the Golden Gloves championship was at stake. For all these boys are just as anxious to prove their fitness to fight on the Intercity team as they were to earn a Golden Glove.

Morris Corona and Bob Burns, who have been putting up a whale of a battle for places in the welterweight division, went at their assignment yesterday as tho they were a couple of lumberjacks celebrating a day off. They hit each other with every variety of punch in the books and each kept coming up for more. They stayed in for two rounds against each other and in addition each had another round against different opponents.

At the close of the workout Behr and his assistants, Paddy Kane, Fred Caserio, and Bob Howard, agreed that they might have been a bit hasty in their critical comment about some of the boys' lack of vim. There wasn't a youngster in the gym yesterday who held back with a single punch or a single skip of the rope.

Three More Rounds Today.

Yesterday was the first afternoon the boys were asked to box three rounds. They'll do another three today and four tomorrow, after which they will go coasting in toward their intercity engagement.

The spirit which the squad displayed yesterday indicated that every boy will be ready to carry on the tradition of victory established by previous Chicago Intercity squads.

NEW RECORD SET IN 200 YARD SWIM BY INDIANA GIRL

Buffalo, N. Y., March 19 (AP).—Patty Aspinall of Indianapolis swam to a new American record tonight in the 220 yard breast stroke final of the women's national AAU senior swimming meet. The Riviera club entrant retained her title with a time of 3:07.8 to clip 1.2 seconds from the former record of 3:09 set June 19, 1940.

Anne Ross, St. George Dragon club, Brooklyn, won the low board diving crown with 119.91 points. Barbara Ramser, Shawnee Country club, Wilmette, Ill., finished second and Martha Blair, Battle Creek Sanitarium Swimming club, Battle Creek, Mich., third.

DUCKS UNLIMITED TO PLAN WORK IN ANNUAL MEETING

BY BOB BECKER.

Representatives of the country's duck hunters from California to Massachusetts and from as far south as Texas will meet in Chicago tomorrow and Saturday for the annual meeting of Ducks Unlimited, Inc., which last year received the annual award of newspaper sports writers for the outstanding accomplishment in game restoration.

Attending will be sportsmen-business men from more than 35 state branches of the national organization as well as from Ducks Unlimited in Canada.

Budget to Be Adopted.

On the program for the meeting are election of national officers and adoption of a budget for field work in duck breeding areas of Canada, where the organization already has developed over 880,000 acres of water fowl nesting refuges.

All of the development work has been financed by membership contributions of American sportsmen, who provided more than $300,000 for the purpose during the last three years. Canada has contributed practically all lands without cost.

Dams Built in Canada.

The principal activity has been the building of dams to create reservoirs for wild ducks in drought districts of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta. More than a million crows, which steal eggs from duck nests, have been destroyed in predatory control campaigns sponsored by Ducks Unlimited and coöperating provincial governments.

Louis H. Barkhausen of Chicago, chairman of the board of Ducks Unlimited, will preside at the two-day session. Other representatives of Illinois sportsmen to attend are Dexter Cummings, Stuart Logan, and William A. O'Donnell of Chicago, and Ferris F. Hamilton, Springfield.

Joe DiMaggio Given Class 3 Rating by Board

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (AP).—Allaying any fears that Uncle Sam may beckon Joe DiMaggio, too, as he threatens to do to Phil Rizzuto, the Yankee outfielder today received notice from his home draft board in San Francisco that he had been placed in class 3. This removes him from selective service call until well in the future, if at all. He is married and will be a father this fall.

Detroit Beats Oshkosh 39-37 for Pro Crown

The Detroit Eagles last night won the world professional basketball championship by defeating the Oshkosh All-Stars, 39 to 37, in the final game of the third annual tournament in the International amphitheater before 12,000 fans. The New York Rams took third place by upsetting Toledo, 57 to 42.

Chuck Chuckovits of Toledo increased his point total for the tournament to 821 for a new record. The old mark of 65 was set by Wibs Kautz of the Chicago Bruins last year.

In the championship contest, Detroit got away to a 5 to 0 lead and never was in arrears. The Eagles led 14 to 6 at the quarter, 26 to 16 at the half, and 35 to 23 at the three quarters. Lineups:

PRINCETON POLO TEAM VICTORIOUS OVER YALE, 8 TO 7

West Point, N. Y., March 19 (AP).—Princeton's defending champions scored an 8 to 7 victory over Yale today to earn the right to meet Army on Saturday for the eastern intercollegiate indoor polo championship. With the Elis showing surprising strength, the teams were tied at 6-all going into the final chukker. Bob Osmun, Princeton No. 3 man, scored on a setup shot in front of the goal midway in the period. Ed Rose, who had accounted for four earlier scores, followed this up with a penalty shot to insure the victory.

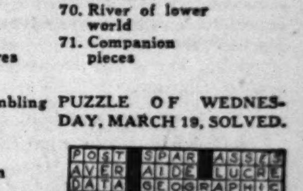
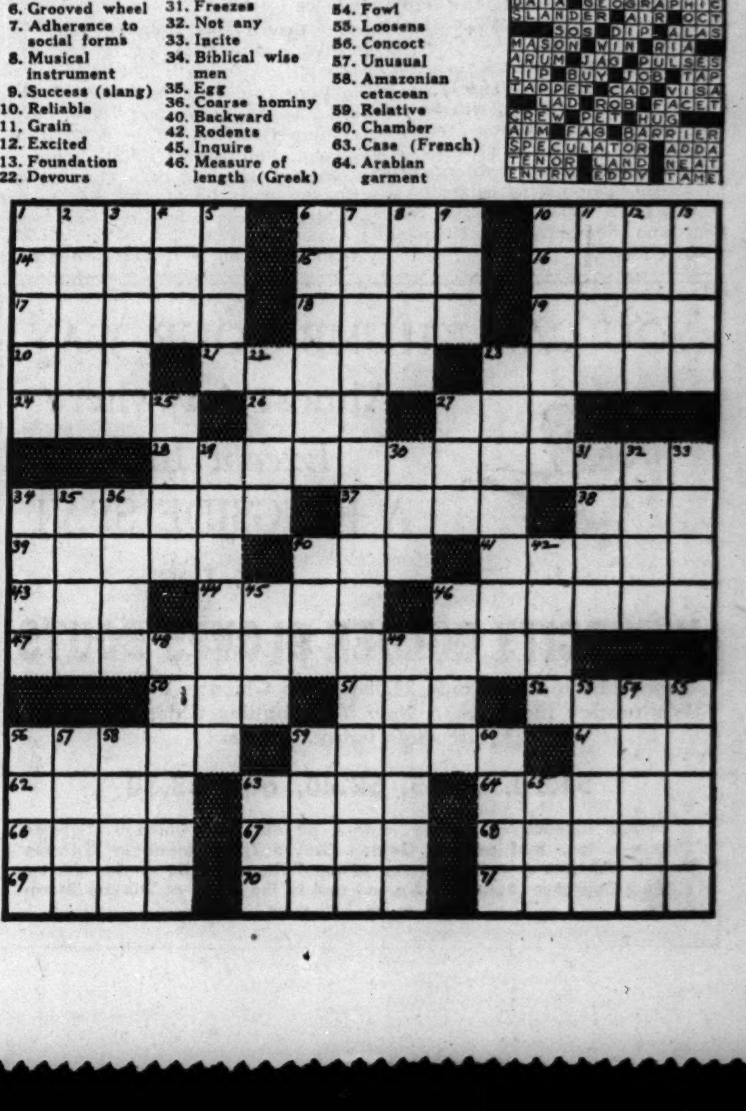
PUZZLE OF WEDNESDAY, MARCH 19, SOLVED.





ROOKIE PITCHERS HOLD CARDINALS AS REDS WIN, 6-2

Logan, Hutchings Keep 9 Hits Scattered.

Tampa, Fla., March 19 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals found the Cincinnati Reds too tough today and lost to the world champions, 6 to 2. Bob Logan, 32 year old rookie southpaw, and Johnny Hutchings, another rookie, kept the Cardinals' nine hits well distributed, while the Reds scored all their runs in the first and sixth innings.

With Ernie Lombardi, regular catcher, and Dick West, second stringer, out because of injuries, the Reds today acquired Johnny Riddle, 34 year old Kansas City catcher. Riddle, who hit .280 for Kansas City last year, is a brother of Elmer Riddle, Reds rookie pitcher. Score:

St. Louis [N. L.]...000 100 100—2 9 1
Cincinnati ....200 004 00x—6 10 0

Batteries—Lyons, Surkont, Krist and Mancuso; Logan, Hutchings and Baker.

INDIANS, 7; COLONELS, 0.

Bradenton, Fla., March 19 (AP).—Jim Bagby and Lefty Al Smith pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 7 to 0 victory over Louisville today by holding the Colonels to two singles.

Bagby, acquired from the Boston Red Sox, yielded both hits in the fifth inning. Smith, who hurled the last four stanzas, retired in order all 12 of the American association club's batters who faced him.

The victory gave the Indians five victories and five defeats in their 1941 exhibition contests. Score:

Cleveland [A. L.].....220 011 100—7 10 1
Louisville [A. A.]....000 000 000—0 2 4

Batteries—Bagby, Smith, and Hemsley, Hegan; Harris, Heflin, Scheets, and Walters, Lacy.

RED SOX, 6; NEWARK, 5.

Sarasota, Fla., March 19 (AP).—Skeeter Newsome's two bagger drove in the run that gave the Boston Red Sox a 10 inning victory over the Newark Bears of the International league today, 6 to 5.

Ted Williams of the Red Sox injured his right ankle sliding into second base early in the game. He probably will be out of action for a week. Score:

Newark [I. L.]....000 001 022 0—5 13 3
Boston [A. L.] ..002 100 110 1—6 11 1

Batteries—Bianco, Queen, Reid and Fallon, Intrabartola; Rich, Fleming, H. Newsome and Peacock.

PHILS LOSE AGAIN.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 19 (AP).—Weakness at the plate again caused the Philadelphia Phillies' downfall at the hands of a minor league team today. The National leaguers collected only five safeties from the offerings of two Rochester international league pitchers and lost, 2 to 1. Score:

Rochester [I. L.] ....000 020 000—2 6 1
Philadelphia [N. L.]..001 000 000—1 5 1

Batteries—Yarewick, Brumbeloe, Wentz and R. Mueller, Robinson; Crouch, Bruner, Wilson and Warren.

GIANTS, 10; DODGERS, 6.

Clearwater, Fla., March 19 (AP).—The New York Giants turned on the Brooklyn Dodgers today and administered a 10 to 6 defeat with two big innings.

Harry Gumbert and Luke Hamlin engaged in a scoreless pitching duel for five innings, but in the sixth the Giants jumped on Hamlin for six runs and added four more off Rookie Ed Head in the seventh before Brooklyn ever scored.

Gumbert yielded only two hits in the six frames he worked and shared the spotlight with Johnny McCarthy, whose three run homer in the seventh climaxed New York's 13 hit bombardment. Score:

New York [N. L.]..000 006 400—10 13 2
Brooklyn ....000 000 240— 6 6 3

Batteries—Gumbert, Carpenter, Brown and Hartnett, O'Dea; Hamlin, Head and Owen, Franks.

YANKEES, 8; KANSAS CITY, 0.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 19 (AP).—The New York Yankees trounced their Kansas City farm club, 8 to 0, today. John Lindell yielded his former Kansas City teammates three hits in five innings and Hank Borowy gave two in four. Charley Keller's homer paced the Yanks' 10 hit offensive. Score:

Kansas City [A. A.]..000 000 000—0 4 6
New York [A. L.]..220 011 11x—8 10 0

Batteries—Gill, Volpi, Candini, Karpel and Kearse, Robinson; Lindell, Borowy and Dickey.

PIRATES, 4; A.'S, 0.

Hollywood, Cal., March 19 (AP).—Aldon [Duke] Wilkie, Bill Clemensen, and Oadis Swigart blanked the Philadelphia Athletics today, the Pittsburgh Pirates winning, 4 to 0, as they pounded Johnny Babich and Chubby Dean for 12 safeties.

Frankie Gustine made three hits, including a double, and drove in two runs. Score:

Pittsburgh ....010 100 110—4 12 2
Philadelphia [A. L.].000 000 000—0 4 1

Batteries—Wilkie, Clemenson, Swigart and Davis, Schultz; Babich, Dean and Hayes.

PABSTS SWEEP 3 GAMES AND CLING TO CLASSIC LEAD

The Pabst Blue Ribbons last night won three games from the Michelobs in the Classic bowling league on the Legion alleys. The Pabsts were unable to increase their one game lead in the standings, however, because the second place Monarch Beers also won three, from the Schlitz Beers. The Blatz Beers tied Michelob for fourth place by winning two from the Knickerbockers. The Koenig Braus took two from Ambrosia Beers.

Emil Landman shot 242, 277, 210 for 729 for the Rupperts and Joe Sinke bowled 211, 244, and 270 for 725.

BY RICHARD RAMEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., March 19.—Centralia against a field of 853! That was the boast as long ago as January. Today this claim is two steps from being fact and the odds are much, much lower. It's a scant three against Centralia for the state prep basketball championship.

Tomorrow this trio gathers here with a common objective—to break the greatest single season winning streak in Illinois athletic history. On Friday night, one of them will accept the challenge. If that is repulsed, one of the other two will have the last chance at the trail's end Saturday night.

Never before in the 34 year history of the Illinois tournament has a team been established a favorite over so long a stretch and retained its rank with increasing potency. This Centralia team lost the second game of its grueling schedule in early December, and since has won 42 in succession.

Eddleman—What a Lad!

Never has an Illinois prep player approached the scoring wizardry of Dwight Eddleman, Centralia center. Altho its reserves played thruout one contest, Centralia has averaged 52.09 points per game. And Eddleman, appearing in 43 contests, averaged 21.6 to establish a state record individual total of 930 points.

Is there a defense for Eddleman? Can Centralia be beaten? These are the questions asked. Next to attempt an answer will be Morton High school of Cicero and Berwyn. That will be in the first semi-final game Friday night. If Morton fails, either Canton or Urbana will pick up the gauntlet on Saturday, depending upon which wins the second semi-final.

Canton's No Newcomer.

Canton has placed first, second, or third in the state tourney eight times. It is sending a team to the state meet for the 14th year since 1912. Its coach, Willard O. Larson, produced sectional champions at Collinsville in 1931 and 1937 in addition to those at Canton in 1939 and 1941. Morton has appeared on the University of Illinois court in three tournaments, winning the state title in 1932, all during the coaching régime of Norman Ziebell. Lewis Stephens took his 1934 Urbana team to the quarter-finals.

These fellows, tho, are mere fledglings compared to Arthur Trout, now coaching at Centralia for the 27th season. All of them had best forget about coaching tricks and hope their players can shoot straight. Trout's team won state titles in 1918 and 1922 and placed fourth in 1939 when Eddleman was a freshman.

Centralia Has Versatile Attack.

When Morton attempts to set up a defense Friday, it should be prepared to cope with a revolving offense in which none of the Centralia quintet plays an established position. Eddleman, for instance, can shoot well from all five positions. Centralia uses a shifting man-to-man defense which has limited opponents to 23.43 points a game.

Canton rates second best defensively, having yielded only 26.27 points a game, to 26.60 for Morton and 32.45 for Urbana. Behind Centralia's 52.09 offensive average comes Canton's 39.58, Urbana's 37.13, and Morton's 35.96.

Three of the semi-finalists are conference champions. Centralia was undefeated in the Big 12, Morton took 10 straight, after losing the first two, to lead Chicago's suburban league. Canton clinched the Illini conference title by winning five straight, altho losing the final to Peoria Manual. Urbana finished in a four way tie for fourth in the Big 12.

While Centralia and Canton have been undefeated since the start of the tourneys, Morton and Urbana lost in regional finals and carried on only because runners-up also advanced to the sectionals. Urbana then avenged two conference defeats by whipping Champaign, the Big 12 champion.

Ready for All-Stars, Sid?

George Halas, dropping into Brooklyn yesterday, looked over Sid Luckman's arm, found it full of touchdown passes and immediately signed the quarter back star to his third Chicago Bear contract. After that they talked plans for the All-Star game in August. [Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Luckman Signs

New York, March 19 (AP).—Sid Luckman, former Columbia star and quarter back for the Chicago Bears, world's football champions, today signed his third one year contract with the Bears, assuring his appearance in the Chicago Tribune's All-Star game next August.

George Halas, owner of the club, did not disclose the terms of the contract, but said: "You can call Luckman the perfect quarter back. When he does anything wrong it's news."

Luckman is spending the off season helping his brother run a trucking business in Brooklyn. He now weighs 203 pounds, three less than he carried thru the early games last fall and only five over his best playing weight. It was at 198 pounds late last season that he compiled most of his record of 45 completions in 105 attempted passes to lead the league.

LUISETTI SCORES 28 POINTS; SETS NEW AAU MARK

Denver, Colo., March 19 (AP).—Hank Luisetti set a new scoring high for the current AAU basketball tournament as his San Francisco Olympic club team and the defending champion Phillips 66 Oilers roared thru the third round tonight.

The former Stanford ace, competing in his first tournament, scored 28 points in the San Franciscans' 67 to 47 triumph over Colorado Springs before 5,000. Other third round scores:

Marshall Five Beats Manley Juniors, 62-36

Marshall's junior basketball team defeated Manley yesterday, 62 to 36, on the Lane Tech court to reach the final for the city high school league championship. Marshall will meet Waller, probably Saturday.

The winners took a 19 to 10 lead at the quarter and were ahead, 37 to 15, at the half.

Alex Eisenstein, guard, and Israel Acker, forward, led the scoring with 24 and 22 points, respectively. The latter brought his total to 417 points for 22 games this season as the league leader. Lineups:

Leo Juniors Meet De Paul.

Leo High school's junior basketball team will meet De Paul academy tonight in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th street and Michigan avenue, for the Catholic league junior championship. De Paul, winner of the north section title in a play-off last week, will be playing the contest without its coach, Bob Neu, who was inducted into the army last Monday.

Leo's juniors are undefeated in 31 contests. They will attempt to add the championship to the crown won last week by the Leo seniors, who triumphed over St. George of Evanston, 40 to 32.

Leo Seniors Beat Calumet.

Leo High school's senior basketball team, champion of the Catholic league, scored its 33d victory of the season last night by defeating Calumet, semi-finalist in the Public School league race, 49 to 29, in St. Sabina community center. Bill Lundy led Leo with six field goals and two free throws. Leo held a 21 to 5 advantage at the end of the first quarter and 26 to 10 at the half.

16 C. Y. O. TEAMS MEET TONIGHT IN QUARTER-FINALS

Sixteen teams—eight in the senior and eight in the junior division—will clash in the quarter-final games of the 1941 Catholic Youth organization basketball tournament title playoffs tonight in four gymnasiums in the north, west, and south sides. These teams are the survivors of a three month tourney which saw 200 other teams fall by the wayside in the race for the C. Y. O. titles.

Tonight's games will get under way at 8 o'clock. The four gyms are Queen of Angels, 4420 North Western avenue; St. Mel's, 1 North Kildare; St. Bernard's, 6650 Harvard, and St. Sabina's, 78th and Racine. Semi-finals will be played Sunday in Queen of Angels and St. Sabina gyms. The championships will be decided March 30 in the 132d Regiment armory.

Setting the pace in the playoffs have been Annunciation and St. Columbanus seniors and St. Sylvester and Queen of Angels juniors. The latter two meet tonight. The schedule for tonight follows:

Queen of Angels Gym.
St. Sylvester vs. Queen of Angels [Juniors].
St. Cornelius vs. Annunciation [Seniors].
St. Mel's Gym.
St. Stanislaus Kostka vs. St. Margaret Mary [Juniors].
Queen of Angels vs. St. Mel's [Seniors].
St. Bernard Gym.
St. Barbara vs. Blessed Sacrament [Juniors].
St. Philip Neri vs. St. Bernard [Seniors].
St. Sabina Gym.
St. Francis de Paula vs. St. Cyril [Juniors].
Sacred Heart vs. St. Columbanus [Seniors].

All America prefers PHILLIES

From coast to coast, smokers, themselves, have proved that Phillies is the cigar that gives you better tobacco, finer taste, more enjoyment.

That's why smokers walk up to cigar counters day after day and put down more money for Phillies than for any other brand. That's why, when men switch to Phillies, they stay switched.

No other cigar comes to you with an assurance of value like Phillies. It's guaranteed exactly the same fine cigar, for only 5¢, that was good enough to become the biggest-selling brand at 10¢. Switch to Phillies, yourself, and you'll stay switched.

FRANK CARSON, NOTED EDITOR, DIES AT TUCSON

N. Y. News Executive Is Heart Attack Victim.

Tucson, Ariz., March 19 [Special].—Frank Wesley Carson, 60 years old, former assistant managing editor of the New York News and for a third of a century regarded as one of the most colorful figures in American journalism, died at his home near here at 9 a. m. today.

Carson was stricken by a heart ailment five years ago. His failing health forced his retirement last October. He had been here since last November, hoping to find in the dry air and sunshine the relief he could not attain on the seaboard.

Jests with His Wife.

His physician had believed for the last two weeks that Carson was showing improvement. This morning Carson awakened early and demanded his coffee.

Jocularly, he commanded his wife: "Make it good and strong, too, not that weak stuff like the maid has been turning out."

Shortly after taking his coffee he collapsed. He still insisted, almost with his last breath, that he was "feeling fine—just lost my balance a bit."

With the help of a neighbor, Mrs. Carson assisted him to his bed. He was dead when his physician arrived a few minutes afterward.

First Work in Chicago.

Carson was born in Chicago. In his high school days he published a neighborhood newspaper which attained a circulation of 6,000. His first major league newspaper work was with the City Press association, Chicago, when in 1903 he helped cover the Iroquois theater fire in which 591 persons perished.

His first job on a daily newspaper was with the old Chicago Chronicle. Then, about 1905, he joined THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and eventually became assistant city editor.

Later he served as managing editor on the Chicago Herald and Examiner, and for several years held executive positions on Hearst newspapers. In 1928 he went to the New York News.

Had Wide Acquaintance.

Carson's exploits are legendary whenever and wherever newspaper men gather. Presidents and gangsters, politicians, and clergymen—they all were in Carson's book. His slogan was that news is "human beings and what they do," and that getting that news, fully and completely, is the newspaper man's job.

Carson will be buried in South Norwalk, Conn., near his country home. The body is en route east, accompanied by Mrs. Carson. Time of the funeral has not been fixed.

WALL COLLAPSES; BOY HURT.

Frank Lewnesky, 14 years old, 1920 Crystal street, suffered a fractured leg yesterday when the wall of a wooden shack collapsed in the rear of 1935 Crystal street.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

March 19, 1941.

37 Southdowns Lamb

THIRTY-SEVEN of the 51 grade Southdown ewes at the Fox River farm have lambed. The lamb crop totals 48, only a fair return. The workers are just as glad to see single lambs as twins, however, as they have found single lambs generally do better. There also are 28 yearling ewes from last year's crop that will be bred next fall.

The lambs have been coming easily as a result of the good care the mothers have had. There have been twins and triplets, along with the single lambs, and only a few have been lost in spite of cold weather. The ewes are being fed oats, clover, and timothy hay, and soy bean hay which was cut when the pods had just begun to form. The oats are rationed but the sheep are allowed as much hay as they want. Ewes that have not lambed also are getting a little grain to keep them fit.

Fifty-nine head of Hereford cattle are on feed in the lot behind the barn. To the practiced eye 19 head stand out from the others. They are blockier, straighter backed, and conform to type better than the others. They are part of the herd at the Du Page county farm that was sent to Fox river last May when they were bought.

19 Roughed on Pasture.

The 19 cattle were roughed on pasture with a little silage until the middle of January, when they went into the stalk fields a while and then went into the feed lot. They now weigh around 925 pounds apiece.

The other 40 white faces were bought on the Chicago market the latter part of October. Weighing on an average of 760 pounds each, they cost $9.85 a hundred. The farm manager bought them with an eye to running them with the 19 head. Consequently he got them at a weight that would enable them eventually to go into the feed lot on a par with the others. Altho they are good feeder steers, they lack the high quality shown by the 19 head. When they all go to market the buyer undoubtedly will cut the herd in two and the two bunches will go at different prices.

The 40 head were put on fall clover pasture for 30 days after they arrived and then were put in the feed lot. Thru proper management the two parcels of cattle now are in the lot on full feed and all weigh approximately the same. In this way the cattle can be fed, handled, and shipped together, altho they were purchased at different weights at different times.

Oil Meal in Ration.

Their ration consists of 16 pounds of shelled corn, 10 pounds of corn silage, all the clover and timothy hay they can clean up, and a pound of oil meal each a day.

Following the cattle are 25 fall pigs that weigh from 90 to 100 pounds. As this is a rather small number for 59 cattle, the pigs are getting plenty to eat and are putting on weight rapidly. The steers probably will be fed for another 60 or 90 days, and by the time they go to market the hogs also should be ready.

Next month should see the start of the new pig crop. There are 54 sows ready to farrow. They are being watched closely by the workers. The sows are Hampshires and spotted Poland Chinas, all bred to a Berkshire boar. The farm hands have found that the hybred vigor of the cross makes an excellent market hog.

MILLIONS PAID OF BUCKINGHAM WILL BEQUESTS

All except two of the bequests set up in the will of Miss Kate S. Buckingham, art patron who left an estate of more than 4 million dollars when she died in 1937, have been made, according to an accounting filed yesterday by the executors with Clarence P. Wagner, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell.

The report disclosed that the Art institute, chief beneficiary of the will, has received $861,000 in bonds, five parcels of real estate, and stocks worth $1,423,017.

In addition to bequests to relatives and friends, Miss Buckingham's will provided 1 million dollars for the establishment of a memorial to Alexander Hamilton, and $50,000 for the construction of a playground. These provisions have not been fulfilled.

The will stipulated the Hamilton memorial must be completed before 1947, but no time limit was set on the playground construction.

Cash disbursements and distributions of the estate have totaled $1,888,950, according to the report, out of a liquidation total of $2,128,053. A balance of $119,000 has been reserved for contingent expenses.

A PARTLY CLOUDY DAY IS PROMISED SPRING FOR DEBUT

This is the first day of spring, but Forecaster A. J. Knarr regrets to say it will not be the kind of a day the first day of spring should be. The forecast is for partly cloudy, followed by occasional rain or snow tonight, with not much change in temperature.

Winter will depart and spring will arrive at 6:21 p. m., which is the time the sun crosses the equator on its way back north. The sun's crossing is known as the vernal equinox.

Altho the calendar and the almanac call this the first day of spring, the season began on March 1 for the weather bureau, which considers winter to be the months of December, January and February.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Emma L. Johnson.

Mrs. Emma L. Johnson, for 37 years a resident of Wilmette, died yesterday in Sycamore, De Kalb county, where she recently had made her home with a daughter, Mrs. John Lindgren. Mrs. Johnson was the widow of Justus Johnson, a carpenter contractor. She leaves two other daughters, Mrs. Alfred Heerens and Mrs. George H. Larsen of Wilmette, and a son, Paul Johnson of Villa Park. Funeral services will be held in the English Lutheran church, Wilmette, at 3 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Mary E. Sever.

Services for Mrs. May E. Sever will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue. Mrs. Sever died yesterday in Little Company of Mary hospital of injuries suffered March 9 in a fall on the porch of the South Shore Country club, where she made her home. She was 74 years old. Her husband, Henry Edwin Sever, former president of the Riverside Publishing company and general manager of the Western Newspaper association, survives.

Edward E. Taylor.

Friends of Edward E. Taylor, 5029 North Lawndale avenue, learned yesterday that he died Monday in Monterey, Mexico. Mr. Taylor, who had been an instructor in mechanical drawing and woodwork in the public schools for 25 years, was on a sabbatical leave from Lane Technical High school. His widow, Mrs. Kamilla Taylor, who accompanied him to Mexico, survives.

Edward Readey.

Edward Readey, 66 years old, a bailiff in Cook county courts for 30 years, died of a heart attack yesterday in an elevator in the County building. Mr. Readey, who was a bachelor and lived at 5210 South May street, recently had been assigned to Judge Robert C. O'Connell in Superior court.

Claude B. Hudspeth.

San Antonio, Tex., March 19 (AP).—Claude B. Hudspeth, 64, former congressman from El Paso, died today. He retired from politics in 1931.

Willis Stose Hilpert.

Willis Stose Hilpert, for 25 years assistant director of the Miner Laboratories, Chicago, and a chemist in the laboratories of the American Medical association, died yesterday in his home at 455 Chestnut street, Winnetka. He was 60 years old. He leaves his widow, Harriet; a daughter, Marion, and a son, Frank. The funeral will be held at 4 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 1567 Maple avenue, Evanston, with burial in Rosehill cemetery.

Archibald S. Morphett.

Archibald S. Morphett, a member of the firm of Milman and Morphett, architects, died yesterday in Evanston hospital. He was born in Bristol, England, 49 years ago, and came to Chicago in 1908. His home was at 964 Tower road, Winnetka. Mr. Morphett was formerly associated with the late Howard Shaw. His widow, Mabel, survives. The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in children's chapel of the Congregational church, Winnetka, at Pine and Lincoln streets.

William L. Winship.

William L. Winship, head of the estate tax division in the Chicago internal revenue bureau, died yesterday in his home at 5725 North Christiana avenue. He was born in Sedalia, Mo., 63 years ago. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Bernarr Bates of Hamden, Conn., and Mrs. Paul Jones of Elmhurst. Services will be at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 4559 Milwaukee avenue. Burial will be in Kansas City, Kas.

Wilbur P. Thiele.

Services for Wilbur P. Thiele of the Talman & Thiele Realty association, will be held at 3 p. m. today in the chapel at 1567 Maple avenue, Evanston, with burial in Memorial Park cemetery. Mr. Thiele, a Chicago real estate man for more than 30 years, died Tuesday in his home at 625 Hill road, Winnetka. He was 55 years old. Surviving are his widow, Grace, and a son, Sherwin C.

Thomas Hill McKay.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 19 (AP).—Thomas Hill McKay, 66, whose landscape and marine paintings hang in galleries here and abroad, died last night.

3 MEN SAVE BOY AND GIRL FROM BUILDING BLAZE

A city policeman, a county highway police lieutenant, and a traveling salesman coöperated early yesterday to save a boy and girl from a burning building at 3244-46 Roosevelt road.

Lieut. Morton Levitan of the highway police, off duty, was in a restaurant with Robert Rittinger, 3418 Douglas boulevard, the salesman, when a milkman told them of the fire. They ran out and were joined by Policeman Mike Bonfield of the Fillmore station, also off duty, who was passing.

Informed by Ben Schechter, owner of the building, that his wife and four children were upstairs in the living quarters, Bonfield ran up to the second floor to investigate and returned, choking and nearly overcome. Levitan and Rittinger went up and found Mrs. Schechter being helped down by two sons. In nearby rooms they found David, 14, and Charlotte, 9, asleep, and carried them to safety.

The flames, fed by lacquers in a first floor sign shop, caused damage of about $1,300.

FIREWORKS SHOW STIRS ALARM IN WEST SUBURBS

For 20 minutes last night fireworks flamed and boomed at the home of Thomas Naples, a trucker, at North and 5th avenues in Melrose Park. The display was given by the Naples family in celebration of St. Joseph's day, a feast day of the Roman Catholic church.

More than 500 persons watched the fireworks. At least as many more, alarmed by the blasts of pyrotechnical bombs, telephoned suburban and city police and the Tribune office to learn the cause of the explosions.

Festivities in observance of the feast day were held in many Chicago homes in Italian-American neighborhoods.

285 Measles Cases Boost Total for Month to 5,172

The board of health reported yesterday that 285 cases of measles were reported Tuesday, bringing the total for the month to 5,172 and for the year to 15,014. The corresponding figures for 1938, the last epidemic year, were: 435 cases reported on March 18; 8,694 for the month, and 24,813 for the year. The disease has caused 11 deaths since last Jan. 1, compared with 22 in the corresponding 1938 period.

TEAR GAS BOMBS FROM PLANE FAIL TO AVERT SUICIDE

Missoula, Mont., March 19 (AP).—Tear gas bombs dropped from an airplane routed a would-be suicide from a tin can fort near the airport today but failed to prevent him from taking his life.

Officers told that William Rehmer, 55 years old, a piano tuner, had threatened to kill himself, followed him to an open field. There Rehmer barricaded himself behind a pile of tin cans and for three hours thwarted attempts to disarm him.

The officers finally sent Pilot Bob Johnson aloft with tear gas. As the bombs exploded Rehmer ran into the open and turned his revolver on himself.

AURORA COUNCIL FAVORS BILL FOR FOX RIVER DAMS

A proposal for a series of dams across the Fox river below Aurora was indorsed yesterday in a resolution sent by the Aurora city council to members of the general assembly from the 14th [Aurora] senatorial district.

The proposal is sponsored by the Kane County Sportsmen's league and health officers of numerous communities along the river. The dams are intended to prevent the river from becoming too low in the summer. The sponsors say that keeping the water level up would benefit the health conditions of the valley and save the fish from dying.

INDUSTRY TOLD PLANS TO SPEED ARMING EFFORT

Mehornay Asks Aid of Small Plants.

How the government plans to speed up the armament program by spreading production to smaller plants thruout the nation and how the entire program will affect the individual industries was outlined yesterday at a meeting in the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Eric Nicol tells Chicago to keep "pegging away."

Robert L. Mehornay, director of the defense contract service, Washington, and several members of his staff explained the plan to a group of about 50 regional officials from five federal reserve districts. Army and navy representatives also spoke.

Says Chicago Will Share.

Meanwhile, Eric Nicol from the Office of Production Management, Washington, told Chicago to keep "pegging away" in its efforts to obtain more armament business. If the city has the labor supply and the proper facilities, the contracts will come, he assured the Chicago Committe on National Defense in Mayor Kelly's office.

Edward E. Brown, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, asked whether the commission is able to help in protecting contractors from labor disturbances. Nicol replied that it is the "rôle of the commission to see that the proper facts are gathered and the situation faced realistically. We are determined that the rearming program shall be first."

Emphasizing the need of speed and the magnitude of the armament job, Mehornay explained that the defense contract service will establish 36 regional offices in federal reserve banks and their branches thruout the country. These offices will advise manufacturers on the armament needs of the army and navy and how both large and small plants can obtain primary contracts and subcontracts.

Cannot Wait for Delivery.

The country "for the first time is recognizing that we are engaged in an 'all out' effort," he said.

"The time has come when we cannot wait for delivery 8, 10, or 12 months away. The situation needs the support of every man, woman, and child."

The magnitude of the job is difficult to estimate, Mehornay said. The program, he added, is more than nine times as large as the three billion dollar automobile industry output last year.

Contracts have already been placed for $2,132,000,000 in armament business in the five federal reserve districts represented at the meeting, he said. In the Chicago district alone, ordnance orders total $276,000,000. The 20 year average annual ordnance business for the whole country up to recent years, he said, was $25,000,000.

Would Ease Housing.

In addition to speeding up the program, Mehornay said that the plan of decentralization of work by subcontracting—"bringing work to the machines"—would help solve the social problems such as inadequate housing in boom areas and migratory workers.

The shortage of management is becoming acute among plants today, Mehornay warned. This problem "has to be solved by spreading the management ability in thinner layers as we go along."

John H. Martin of the division of priorities of the OPM, indicated a curtailment in the production of automobiles because of the limitation on materials. In answer to a question, he said that the country has approached a point where the very large industries cannot expect to expand or maintain the same volume.

He added, however, that it is "surprising what has been done in substitutes in the last few months." Industries will have to substitute or go down in the scale of production, he said.

Says Half of Tools Are Idle.

Of the number of machine tools in this country, 50 per cent are idle or working less than 8 hours a day despite the present urgency, Francis J. Trecker, chief of the subcontracting section of the defense contract service, said. Many of these are the older machines in out of the way places which would produce only 10 or 20 per cent of the total armament output, he said, but it is important to get them working full time.

Trecker said that 13,000 of the nation's 186,000 manufacturers received the first 10 billion dollars of armament contracts. Of the 10 billion, moreover, 90 per cent went to 500 establishments.

This concentration of orders was necessary, however, he declared, because these companies were the only ones capable of converting rapidly enough from a peacetime to a wartime economy.

Urges More Subcontracting.

Trecker urged the primary contractors to subcontract work in order to speed up production and to treat the subcontracting companies as branches of their own business, giving all the necessary technical advice and supervision necessary.

He asserted that primary contractors do not deserve a normal profit on subcontracts because they do not have the overhead or the production problems involved in making those items "farmed out." A royalty is sufficient, he said.

Where Steel Mills' Output Is Used

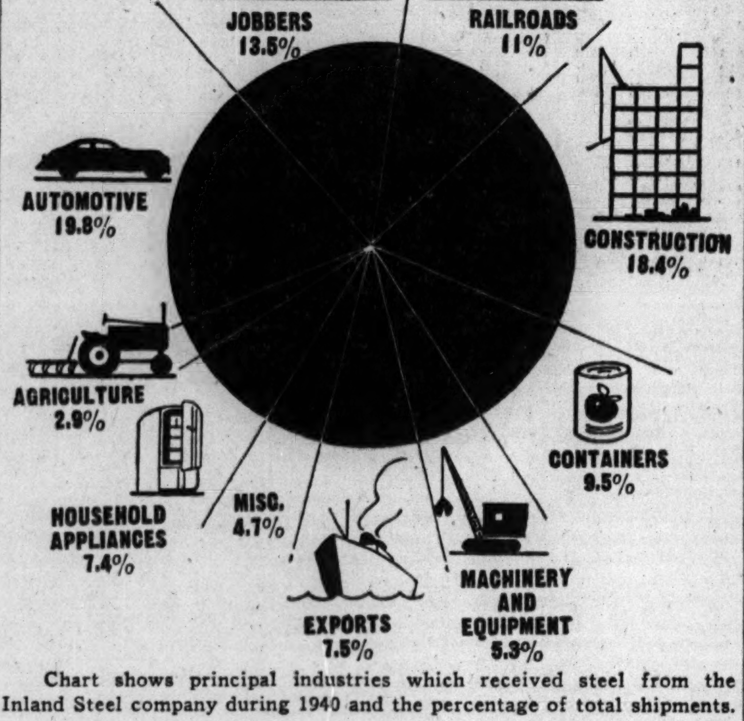

Chart shows principal industries which received steel from the Inland Steel company during 1940 and the percentage of total shipments.

Inland Report Shows Where It Sells Steel

A breakdown of the proportionate distribution of a steel company's products among its major consumers was shown yesterday in the annual report of the Inland Steel company, Chicago's largest independent steel producer.

E. L. Ryerson.

Edward L. Ryerson, chairman and Philip D. Block, president, reported to stockholders that the company in 1940 set new records for sales, production and employment, while net income registered a substantial gain. They also predicted that the steel industry would have "no serious difficulty" in taking care of current demands without further major expansion programs.

Auto Makers Get 19.8 Per Cent.

The automotive industry drew heavier upon the company's output than any other single industry, the report showed. During the year 19.8 per cent of the company's products went to this industry.

The next largest item on the distribution list was construction work, which took 18.4 per cent of the company's output. Other distribution outlets were: Jobbers, 13.5 per cent; railroads, 11 per cent; containers, 9.5 per cent; exports [mostly to Great Britain, Canada, and South America], 7.5 per cent; household appliances, 7.4 per cent; machinery and equipment, 5.3 per cent; miscellaneous, 4.7 per cent, and agriculture, 2.9 per cent.

Ryerson and Block noted that exports still accounted for only a small portion of the company's sales. In 1939 they amounted to only 1.4 per cent of the total output.

Sales Total 142 Millions.

Sales totaled $142,173,338, for a gain of 23 per cent over 1939 sales of $115,346,665. With ingot steel production on an average operation rate of 93.7 per cent, shipments of finished and semi-finished steel products totaled 2,137,997 tons, compared with 1,758,039 tons in 1939.

Average employment for the year was 19,863 persons, against 17,278 employés in 1939. The total pay roll rose to $36,616,229 from $32,281,261. As previously reported, net income was $14,450,385, equal to $8.87 a share, compared with $10,931,016, or $6.73 a share, in 1939.

The report also showed how taxes have increased in the following table:

	1940.	1939.
State and local taxes	$ 963,124	$ 978,461
Federal capital stock taxes	259,679	182,082
Normal income taxes	4,611,199	2,551,680
Excess profits tax	1,750,013	....
Social security taxes	1,352,687	1,258,238
Miscellaneous taxes	272,757	188,179
Total	$9,209,459	$5,158,640

STATE CONTROLS TO MAINTAIN FAIR RENTS URGED

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The national defense advisory commission today suggested state legislation to maintain fair rents in armament production areas.

Miss Harriet Elliott, consumer commissioner, said in a report that "it has become increasingly apparent that legal machinery is necessary in certain congested localities where rents are reported to be skyrocketing."

The suggested legislation calls for the creation of a state rent commission with power to investigate rental conditions and to designate areas in the state as emergency regions. Actual rent control measures would be applied in these regions.

Chicago Companies Share in Army and Navy Orders

The navy and war departments yesterday announced the award of a number of contracts to Chicago companies. Navy awards included: Automatic Transportation company, division of Yale and Towne Manufacturing company, electric truck, $5,200; Chicago Metal Hose company, fuel oil hose, $5,020, and National Gas Cylinder company, acetylene cylinders, $7,044. War department awards included: Eugene Dietzgen company, compasses, $105,125, and Bauer and Black, first aid packets, $193,600.

PRODUCERS INCREASE HIGH POWERED PLANE ENGINE DELIVERIES

Washington, D. C., March 19 [Special].—American manufacturers in February delivered 3,470 high powered airplane engines, an increase of 343 over the January total, William S. Knudsen, director general of the Office of Production Management, announced today.

Of this number 2,767 went to the army, the navy and the British, Knudsen said, citing the record in this category of manufacture as characteristic of a general stepping up of rearmament production all along the line.

When asked about armament production in general, Knudsen showed reporters a large map of the United States speckled with big headed pins.

"Every one of those dots is a project started or expanded since last July," he said. "You see, we are gradually shoving the dots in this direction [motioning toward the west]. That's what everybody asked us to do so that is what we are doing."

Knudsen said that the shortage of machine tools remained the biggest problem in the program, and that the labor situation, with continued outbreaks of strikes, was becoming acute.

2 FIRMS SELECT SITES TO EXPAND PLANT FACILITIES

Two companies moved yesterday to increase the supply of essential materials for use in rearmament and in normal commercial production. The Reynolds Metal company announced that it had selected a site for a huge aluminum producing plant and the Electro Metallurgical company, a unit of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, announced that it is expanding its special materials facilities.

Reynolds Metals selected a 400 acre site at Longview, Wash., on the Columbia river, for the construction of a plant which will use power from the Bonneville-Grand Coulee dams. The plant will have an annual production capacity of about 60,000,000 pounds of aluminum ingots. The first of three units is expected to be produced by June.

Electro Metallurgical announced that it had acquired a site near Portland, Ore., for a plant to manufacture calcium carbide and ferrosilicon. Calcium carbide is used mainly as a source of acetylene, a combustible gas used in welding and the cutting of metals, and in the manufacture of certain chemicals. Ferrosilicon is used as an alloy in the manufacture of stainless steel.

BUTTER AND EGG FUTURES SPURT IN ACTIVE TRADE

Butter for November delivery reached its highest March price level in 11 years yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange as active demand expanded trading. The delivery rose 0.80 cent a pound and closed on its high of 32.55 cents.

The March contract also was strong and gained ¼ cent net after establishing a 10 week high. Advances of ¼ to ½ cent in the cash market and favorable storage withdrawals were major influences.

Egg futures closed ¼ cent a dozen higher, March reaching a 1941 top of 20.15 cents and October rallying after an early decline.

Consolidated Edison Will Quit Edison Institute

New York, March 19 [Special].—The Consolidated Edison company, New York, the largest single operating utility system with membership in the Edison Electric institute, has decided to withdraw from active participation in the affairs of the institute, it was disclosed today. The institute recently decided to register with the Securities and Exchange commission under the provisions of the public utility holding company act.

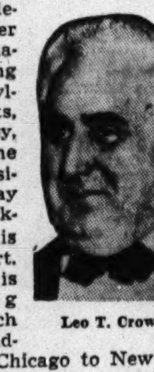
Income Tax Payments Run Far Ahead of Last Year's

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The treasury said today that in the first 17 days of this month income tax payments amounted to $602,668,606, compared with $319,090,247 in the similar period last year. Secretary Henry Morgenthau Jr. has predicted the month's income tax collection will exceed $1,000,000,000.

STANDARD GAS TO SELL MIDDLE WEST HOLDINGS

Acts to Comply with Holding Law.

The Standard Gas and Electric company plans to give up its holdings in the middlewest and other parts of the nation, retaining only its Pennsylvania interests, Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the board and president, yesterday informed stockholders in his annual report. Standard Gas is a big holding company which moved its headquarters from Chicago to New York because of the personal property tax situation here.



Leo T. Crowley.

Crowley, who still retains his post as chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, outlined the company's program designed to comply with provisions of the public utility holding company act of 1935.

In a plan of reorganization filed with the Securities and Exchange commission last June, Standard Gas proposed retention of properties in Pennsylvania and the middlewest, and planned the sale of other holdings.

Most Substantial Property.

"The Philadelphia company unit is the most substantial property in the Standard system," Crowley told stockholders, "and it has been determined definitely to establish it as the basic integrated system. Of itself, Philadelphia company is a holding company owning all the equity of Duquesne Light company, all of the securities of Pittsburgh and West Virginia Gas company, and certain other interests.

"The latter two companies serve a populous industrial area comprising the city of Pittsburgh and its surrounding municipalities. Future possibilities in this area are considered excellent."

In achieving its goal of reducing its indebtedness and reaching a point where only the eastern holdings would be retained, Standard Gas would sell its equities in various utilities scattered thruout the country.

Plan Sale of Holdings.

Crowley said that holdings of Standard Gas in Northern States Power company [Delaware] have ceased to represent sufficient voting interest to make that company a part of the Standard system. A plan is being prepared for making Standard's holding of common stock in that company more salable, he said. The SEC plan provided for the retention of Northern States Power.

One of the last steps in the program of disposing of its holdings would be use of Standard's equity in the Wisconsin Public Service corporation to eliminate Standard's debt entirely, he said.

Included in the problems facing Standard Gas, Crowley said, are: 1. a $64,000,000 debt in notes and debenture. 2. A capitalization which includes outstanding cumulative prior preference and preferred stocks having an aggregate priority over common stock of approximately $131,000,000 in capital and accrued dividends. 3. Priority over the common stocks of subsidiaries of approximately $406,000,000 of bonds, debentures and preferred stocks of majority owned subsidiaries.

Duplications Are Costly.

Holdings in the many utilities now in the Standard system, Crowley said, create many other problems. Among these are duplications in income taxes and administrative expenses and necessities for meeting the rules of numerous utility regulatory bodies which adversely affect earnings.

Preliminary figures placed income of Standard Gas and subsidiaries for 1940 at $4,584,719, against $3,250,155 in 1939. Net income of Standard Gas alone was $987,605, compared with $823,358 for 1939.

HEARINGS UNDER STATE TRUCK ACT WILL BE MONDAY

Chicago hearings on applications filed by truckers under provisions of the Illinois Truck act will be held next Monday, the division of motor carriers of the department of public works and buildings announced yesterday.

They will be a part of a statewide series of such hearings conducted in the various state highway police districts. The Chicago hearings, which will be held at 10 North Clark street, will take in applicants in the third district.

The Chicago docket at present calls for the consideration of 14 applications for various classifications of truckers in this district.

Scrap Dealers Told Military Program Role

Stressing the importance of scrap, or waste, materials to America's armament program, W. L. Finger, consultant in the Office of Production Management, yesterday outlined what the government expects of scrap dealers. He spoke before several hundred dealers in scrap of all kinds at the convention of the National Association of Waste Dealers in the Hotel Sherman.

Finger said that scrap dealers, on the average, provide about 50 per cent of all raw materials for the steel industry, 20 to 25 per cent for rubber, 20 to 25 per cent for aluminum, and large proportions for many other important industries.

Urges Rapid Turnover.

He listed the following points as essential to the production of the many materials required in rearmament:

1. Scrap should be kept moving. The rate of turnover is important. Where a shortage exists or is in prospect, collection efforts should be intensified in order to step up volume.

2. Prices should be kept within reasonable bounds. The most effective way of accomplishing this is to increase volume to keep scrap moving and to avoid speculation. Originators of scrap should recognize that it has value only when it is actually brought back into industrial use.

4. Materials should be properly sorted and graded according to specifications.

Will Use Present Facilities.

Finger said that it is the intention of the government to use so far as possible the existing machinery for the supply of scrap, altho it may be necessary to supplement it in some areas where scrap gathering facilities are inadequate or nonexistent.

The belligerent nations are making every effort to utilize their scrap to the fullest in their respective war machines, he continued. Britain, for example, last year collected 40 shiploads of waste paper, enough metal for the building of 16,000 tanks, and kitchen waste for the feeding of 100,000 pigs, with much better results possible now.

Finger said that at this time there is no need for a general appeal to the public for waste materials.

FARMER STRIKE IS SUGGESTED BY 2 U. S. SENATORS

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—President Roosevelt and his agricultural assistants faced a revolt today by several senators over crop loan proposals.

Senators John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.] and Ellison D. Smith [D., S. C.] suggested that it might be wise for farmers "to strike" for a year after Secretary of Agriculture Claude H. Wickard refused to support a bill for "price pegging" government loans fixed at 100 per cent of parity, instead of 52 to 75 per cent as at present.

Parity is a term used to describe prices which would give farm products purchasing power equal to that which they possessed in a base period, such as the preworld war years of 1909-'14.

At one point Smith, who is chairman of the agriculture committee, said that the "government has put us in this fix and it's up to them to get us out."

"Wouldn't you like to see the farmers strike for a year?" asked Bankhead.

"I certainly would," Smith agreed.

OUTPUT OF STEEL EXCEEDS ITS USE, SURVEY REVEALS

Output of steel this week is exceeding all records and it is being produced at a rate faster than it is being consumed, Iron Age said yesterday. While the percentage rate of production was exceeded in 1929, capacity then was much less than now so that actual production is larger.

In the Chicago district the output has increased to 101½ per cent of rated capacity and is at 101 per cent in the Pittsburgh district, according to the trade publication. In St. Louis production has been stepped up 5½ points to 111 per cent.

Since a survey just completed indicates production is ahead of consumption, the magazine said this "means that inventories are still being accumulated by many users."

NAME SPRAGUE HEAD OF LEGISLATIVE GROUP TO STUDY SLUM BILLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—Representative Arthur W. Sprague [R., La Grange] today was named chairman of a subcommittee to study the slum clearance bills pending before the legislature. The group is to make a report on the bills to the house judiciary committee by April 1.

Rep. Arthur Sprague.

Sprague's selection was announced by Representative David I. Swanson [R., Chicago], chairman of the judiciary committee which is handling the bills. Other members of the subcommittee are Representatives Edward P. Saltiel, Robert M. Woodward, and Charles J. Jenkins, all Chicago Republicans. The Democrats named are Joseph Sam Perry, Wheaton; Roland V. Libonati, Chicago, and Homer Kasserman, Newton.

Doughton Hits 'Threat' Plea for Coal Law

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.], asserted today the house ways and means committee had been "asked under whip and spur, under threats of strikes and chaos," to act "blindly" and extend the life of the bituminous coal act for two years.

Rep. R. L. Doughton.

His statement came after Howard Gray, director of the interior department's bituminous coal division, advised against consideration of any amendments to the coal law now, but said some changes might be required later.

Doughton, whose committee has conducted hearings for a week on a resolution to continue operation of the coal law after its expiration date April 26, declared the act had brought "more complaints than anything reported by this committee."

Applies to Extension.

"You say," he continued, addressing Gray, "that amendments are too controversial to consider now. Wouldn't the same reason apply for not extending this act."

Gray replied that any amendments would be "so controversial that if you started to hold hearings the act would fall" next month. He said that additional time to study operation of minimum prices—effective last October—should be accorded before attempting to make changes in the law.

Gray's reference to a need for speed in approving the extension brought comment from Doughton that "you ask us under whip and spur, under threats of strikes and chaos to extend this act blindly overnight."

The director had urged that the committee act "speedily," saying a lapse in operation of the law might interrupt the national preparedness program.

Dodges Cincinnati Fight.

Asked about suggestions yesterday by D. J. Schuh, general manager of the Cincinnati Board of Trade, that amendments be made to fix minimum prices "without regard to transportation costs," Gray said the Cincinnati case was "a fight between two groups of retailers."

Under the coal act the division fixes minimum prices at the average cost of production plus transportation. River shippers in Cincinnati had asked that their lower transportation costs be used instead of rail shipment figures.

"I am taking no sides," Gray told the committee. "I have told them that if they can solve the problem so both can live, to give me their views and I will hold a hearing on the question."

He added: "The division had no dictate from congress to tear up the coal business and put it together on a new theory, but does have a mandate to raise the level of prices to the cost level and maintain the flow of coal."

PLAN TO REVAMP SOO LINE FILED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 19 (AP).—A plan for the reorganization of the Soo Line railway, which would terminate the bankruptcy of the 3,224 mile road dating back to Dec. 31, 1937, was filed today with the Interstate Commerce commission in Washington and the United States District court here.

The plan was filed by G. W. Webster and Joseph Chapman, trustees of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway company since July 1, 1938.

The proposal would cut the annual fixed interest charges from $6,577,907 to $322,065. General creditors and stockholders are not afforded any participation in the reorganization plan.

Paris Bourse, Closed Nine Months, Resumes Trading

BERLIN, March 19 (AP).—DNB, official German news agency, reported that limited trading was resumed on the Paris bourse today after a shutdown of nine months. Trading was restricted to registered stocks and government securities. All foreign issues and securities of French companies whose most important plants are abroad are excluded under the new rules. This regulation excluded about 20 companies, the best known being the Suez Canal company.

MASTER RULES FOR ODLUM IN UTILITY BATTLE

Urges Court Denial of Lewis Plea.

The battle for control of a million dollar utility system yesterday turned in favor of Floyd B. Odlum, New York financier, and against Frank J. Lewis, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, when a special master who is acting as referee in the dispute issued his tentative report.

The conflict is an outgrowth of a contract drawn up on Dec. 18, 1939, between Lewis and the trustee of the Utilities Power and Light corporation. This provided for Lewis' purchase of the securities and control of the subsidiary Central States Utilities and Central States Power and Light corporations for $1,600,000.

Recommends Plea's Denial.

In his report John R. Heath, the master, recommended that the federal court deny Lewis permission to file a petition asking the court to impound the Central States securities or appoint a trustee to take them over from Ogden corporation, successor to the bankrupt U. P. & L., and carry out the purchase contract. A. B. Manion, attorney for Lewis, had sought to file the petition on Feb. 11. The master's hearing followed.

Manion said last night that he will file objections to the tentative report by March 25, when another hearing will be held.

Upholds Ogden Corporation.

Heath upheld the Ogden corporation, which is controled by Odlum, in its contention that it did not fraudulently prevent the necessary approval of the contract by the Securities and Exchange commission or the court. Heath also sustained Ogden in the claim that the contract expiration date of Aug. 19, 1940, was not waived.

"The petition [of Lewis] does not show any ground for the intervention of this court on the theory that Ogden corporation had waived the condition of the contract by preventing either the court or the SEC from approving or exempting it prior to its termination date," Heath said.

ILLINOIS WAGES AND JOBS RISE DESPITE STRIKES

Altho records of several manufacturing plants were marred by strikes, employment and pay rolls in Illinois increased 0.3 per cent and 1.8 per cent, respectively, from January to February, Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, reported yesterday.

The survey took in 6,418 manufacturing and nonmanufacturing establishments in the state and covered 686,961 wage earners.

Durkin said that the relative gains in both employment and pay rolls fell slightly below the increases usually expected for this period. The average percentage increases from January to February for the last 18 years amounted to 0.7 per cent for employment and 2 per cent for pay rolls, he said.

Manufacturing establishments reported an upturn in employment and pay rolls, while non-manufacturing companies in general suffered declines.

MINE OPERATORS TO HEAR REPORT ON WAGE DISPUTE

New York, March 20 (AP).—Operators of soft coal mines in the eight state Appalachian area were summoned today to receive a report on the progress of negotiations with the United Mine Workers of America [CIO] on wage and employment conditions in the bituminous industry.

A four man subcommittee, representing operators in the joint negotiations with a similar group for the miners, notified operators to assemble tomorrow to review the dispute. Operators last week rejected miners' demands for a $1 a day wage increase, paid vacations, 200 guaranteed work days a year, and other objectives.

Ezra van Horn, Cleveland coal executive and permanent chairman of the joint Appalachian wage conference, said he had notified operators to appear tomorrow for an "interim report."

SACRIFICE ALL BUT ONE UNIT, UTILITY IS TOLD

Willkie's Old Firm Gets SEC Order.

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission announced today a tentative finding that the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, formerly headed by Wendell Willkie, must give up all but one of its major units under the holding company act.

The company controls a billion dollar system comprising 10 operating utility company subsidiaries in 10 states—Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina. In addition the system includes 22 nonutility and holding company subsidiaries.

Willkie resigned as president of Commonwealth and Southern shortly after winning the Republican nomination for President last June. He also resigned as chairman of Consumers Power company, the most profitable unit in the system.

Three Plans Suggested.

Acting on a 350 page outline of the system and recommendations for its integration made by SEC experts, the commission discussed three possible plans for the company and ordered it to reply at a hearing April 3. Under these alternatives the company could choose either Consumers Power company, Georgia Power company, or Alabama Power company as its "single integrated system."

The report also recommended that the SEC begin a corporate simplification proceeding because of indicated "unsound corporate structure" and "inequitable distribution of voting power."

The commission's tentative finding was:

1. If C. & S. chose to keep Consumers Power, it could retain no other properties.

2. If it chose to keep Alabama Power as its "single" system it could retain no other properties with the possible exception of those in Mississippi and Florida.

May Choose Third Firm.

3. If it chose to keep Georgia Power as its "single" system, no other properties could be retained with the possible exception of those in South Carolina.

In any event, the commission said, C. & S. will not be able to retain its nonutility interests which include eight transportation companies, an ice company, three land companies, a water company, a mutual service company, and some miscellaneous units.

The SEC said that there also was a question whether the three largest subsidiaries could properly be found to fit the integration section of the law because of their size.

The report said that C. & S. had dividend arrearages on its preferred stock of nearly $27,000,000 and that "the underlying property accounts of its subsidiary companies contain very substantial sums representing write-ups or other inflationary items."

"Little Value" for Common.

Considering those factors, the SEC reached a conclusion that "there appears to be little if any value for the common stock," but that "nevertheless, almost all of the voting rights are now vested in the common stockholders."

The staff asserted that there appeared to be "no economic justification" for more than one class of stock for C. & S. and that if it continued in its present form it must reduce its corporate structure to a single class of common stock.

In making its tentative findings, the SEC acted on a request of the corporation as to how it could comply with integration provisions of the holding company law.

SEC SETS PUBLIC HEARING ON OPEN END TRUST RULE

Washington, D. C., March 19 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission today called a public conference for March 28 on a proposed rule of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., relating to the distribution and redemption of securities issued by open-end management investment companies.

An open-end trust is one without a fixed capitalization which sells participating shares to the public.

The proposed rule, scheduled to become effective June 1, would put the pricing of shares of open-end trusts on a twice-a-day basis, instead of once-a-day; limit the selling commission, and eliminate undisclosed profits by underwriters and dealers.

STOCKS DECLINE UNDER A GENTLE WAVE OF SELLING

Lose Early Gains Prompted by 'Inflation Buying.'

New York, March 19 (AP).—Gains chalked up in an early stock market rally today were erased in the final half hour of trading under a gentle wave of selling. Steel, rail, and sugar stocks had shown the way in a morning rise accompanying an upsurge in several commodities.

A new advance in the federal reserve board's index of industrial activity to a new high and hints there would be a widened movement of goods and materials to Britain contributed to the early buying. "War inflation" talk was revived in board-rooms.

Volume failed to develop, however, and in the final 30 minutes, offerings increased and losses in many issues ranged from fractions to 1 or more points at the close.

Price Average Declines.

The Associated Press average of 60 representative issues eased .1 of a point at 41.7.

Dealings at 540,440 shares were substantially above Tuesday's 404,450.

The exchange approved member firm participation in these over the counter sales: By E. F. Hutton & Co., 28,412 shares of General Foods common at 36⅝; by Union Securities corporation, 15,000 shares of North American company at 15¼. The source of the shares offered was not identified.

CHICAGO PRICES UNEVEN.

Closing prices on the Chicago Stock exchange showed a mixture of gains and losses yesterday as volume of trading increased slightly to 21,000 shares. North American Car led other issues in volume and advanced ⅝ point to a new high for the year at 8. Williams Oil-O-Matic reached a new high of 3⅛, moving up ¼ point. Commonwealth Edison was a small fraction lower and Armour and Midland United preferred were fractionally higher.

PROFIT SELLING SLOWS ADVANCE OF COMMODITIES

Some Marts Most Active of Recent Years.

Commodities for future delivery continued their swift rise yesterday but heavy profit selling left final prices irregular and erased many of the earlier gains. Consumers and speculators joined in one of the broadest buying movements since 1937 as they considered possible reduction of surpluses thru materials sent overseas and shipping shortages.

Domestic sugar, Santos coffee, cocoa, and cottonseed oil again reached peak 1941 prices, but only the latter two staples, along with rubber, copper, and silk, were able to retain their gains. Hides and lead declined and wool tops were uneven.

Cottonseed Oil at 2½ Year High.

Cottonseed oil futures, advancing .16 to 0.21 cent a pound, sold at the highest levels since October, 1938 while sales were the largest since February, 1937. The May delivery was 7.75 cents bid. With cash raw sugar tending higher and refined the highest in 18 months, domestic futures advanced firmly, the May contract reaching 2.41 cents a pound. Profit taking, however, left closing prices mixed within a range of 0.01 cent.

Rubber jumped 0.15 to 0.55 cent a pound to 22.25 cents bid in the may position and the cash price added ¼ cent at 22.37 cents. Hides fell 0.03 to 0.14 cent after the June delivery had equaled its year's high of 14.10 cents. Cash hides gained ½ cent at 13½ cents. Copper advanced 0.07 to 0.14 cent a pound to 11.80 in May futures.

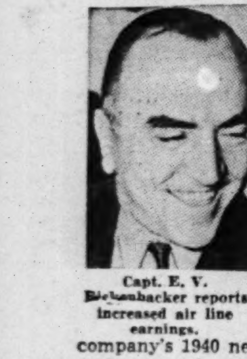
INCREASED PULP OUTPUT TERMED WAR NECESSITY

Calder Cites Blockade of European Supplies.



Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker reports increased air line earnings.

The necessity for increased operations of pulp mills in this country to offset losses in the supply of wood pulp from Scandinavian and other sources because of the war blockade was emphasized yesterday by Alexander Calder, president of the Union Bag and Paper corporation, in his annual report.

He told stockholders that the company's 1940 net income was twice as large as in 1939 despite the fact that federal taxes increased more than 800 per cent.

"Altho the bag and paper markets have not yet felt any material effects from the war, the rapidly diminishing stocks of foreign pulp would have seriously affected the company during 1940 had the Savannah [Ga.] mill not been operating," Calder said.

Prevents Plant Shutdown.

"In addition to producing pulp for its own paper and board machines, the Savannah mill supplies pulp for the company's Hudson Falls mills. Without this, the company's northern mills would have been forced to shut down."

Calder reminded stockholders that the "acute situation in world affairs," the armament program and mounting taxes would present the company with numerous new problems this year.

"At no time has ability and flexibility of action on the part of business management been of greater significance," he said.

Net income for 1940, which in a previous report was tentatively set at $2,129,946, totaled $2,134,391, equal to $1.68 a share, compared with $965,532, or 76 cents a share, in 1939.

Federal income and excess profits taxes rose to $1,562,000, from $168,000 in income taxes paid in 1939. The total 1940 tax bill amounted to $2,025,171, equivalent to $1.59 a share.

Eastern Air Lines Gains.

Eastern Air Lines, Inc., of which Captain E. V. Rickenbacker is president, reported 1940 net income of $1,575,456, equal to $2.80 a share, compared with $883,824, or $2.06 a share, in 1939. Federal taxes rose to $535,000 from $230,000 the year before.

Passenger revenue totaled $8,371,485, a gain of 51.5 per cent over 1939. Planes of the company carried 346,593 revenue passengers during the year, an increase of 49.9 per cent.

The company's revenue from the postoffice department was 16.9 per cent of the total revenue, or considerably less than the average for air carriers during the year. No line operating within continental United States received a lower proportion of air mail revenue than Eastern Air Lines, according to the report.

As a result of new planes placed in service during the last 14 months, the company's equipment has an average age of less than two years, it is stated.

Personnel Increased.

Personnel increased during the year from 1,378 to 1,964. The company pay roll increased 43.2 per cent to $3,961,353 in 1940 from $2,765,349 in 1939.

The H. W. Gossard company, Chicago, reported consolidated net income of $55,014, equal to 25 cents a share, for the quarter ended Feb. 28, compared with $56,998, or 26 cents a share, for the corresponding quarter a year ago. The company manufactures women's foundation garments.

The United States Smelting, Refining, and Mining company, producer of nonferrous base metals, reported estimated net income of $370,344, equal to 18 cents a share, in the two months ended Feb. 28, compared with $605,867, or 63 cents a share, in the corresponding period of 1940. Its preliminary report for 1940 showed net income of $5,950,175, equal to $8.16 a share, against $5,215,908, or $6.77 a share, in 1939. General offices are in Boston, Mass.

The Air Reduction company reported 1940 net income of $6,446,680, equal to $2.38 a share, compared with $5,076,825, or $1.98 a share, in 1939. Net sales, which were the largest in the company's history, totaled $36,387,716, against $27,613,420 in 1939. The company is engaged principally in the manufacture of oxygen and acetylene gases.

NEW U. S. LOAN INCREASES BOND MARKET ACTION

New York, March 19 (AP).—The new United States government $1,000,000,000 financing and activity in railroad bonds gave the investment market its busiest day in weeks today.

The new treasury program was well received in Wall street. Government bonds maintained a steady undertone thruout the day. A large collection of rail and other corporate bonds were well on the way to a sizable rally when selling appeared in the afternoon.

The day's business of $12,587,800 face value, was the biggest bond turnover in the stock exchange since early in January. A large part of the volume was in low priced rails.

Government bond dealers predicted that the $500,000,000 cash part of the financing, involving 2½ per cent bonds, would be oversubscribed. Main trading interest centered in the "rights" involved in the 1⅜ per cent notes. The issue held steadily around 101 5-32ds to 101 8-32ds. As the notes will be considered at par, or 100, for exchange purposes, the premium over that figure represented the valuation placed on the "rights" to convert into the new bonds.

COTTON

Buying of cotton futures attributed to mills was largely responsible yesterday for a further upturn in prices which lifted a majority of the active deliveries to new seasonal highs. Profit taking and hedging sales increased in later trading and part of the upturn was lost. Closing sales were .09 cent higher to .01 cent a pound lower.

Cash cotton closed .04 to .06 cent higher, with New York, 11.14 cents; New Orleans, 10.91 cents, and Galveston and Houston at 10.60 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

GRAINS AND LARD SHOOT UP TO NEW SEASONAL PEAKS

Export Possibility Stirs Market to Action.

[Grain tables on page 28.]

Grain, soy bean, and lard prices advanced yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade on buying attributed in part to a statement credited to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard that there might be exports of domestic wheat and corn to Europe if steamers were available.

Prices climbed steadily in the face of heavy profit taking sales with July and September wheat, September corn, the new deliveries of oats and rye, and all soy bean and lard futures selling at new seasonal highs. Soy beans for May delivery reached $1.09⅛ a bushel at one time, the highest price quoted for any future since last May. Lard futures were highest since September, 1939.

Gains Trimmed at Close.

Closing trades were slightly below the best prices. Wheat gained ⅞ to 1¼ cents with the new crop months leading, while corn was 1 cent higher. Oats advanced ⅜ to ⅝ cent and rye ½ to 1 cent. Soy beans finished 2⅞ to 3¼ cents higher, with strength in lard and competing vegetable oils a factor.

Lard futures closed 15 to 17½ cents ahead. It was reported that the government had asked for tenders of an undisclosed amount of lard.

Trading in grain futures yesterday was broader than on Tuesday, brokers said, indicating wider public interest in the market. Mills were said to have been good buyers of wheat and increased domestic flour business was reported.

May Wheat Lags.

May wheat lost ground in relation to the July delivery as the result of scattered selling induced by reports that farmers were redeeming small lots of cash grain at terminal markets and disposing of the wheat to elevator interests.

Withdrawal of government offers to sell cash corn at 69 cents a bushel at Chicago was regarded as having removed the ceiling over that market. Old crop government owned corn held in Chicago elevators was still quoted at 6 cents a bushel above the May future, or about 71¼ cents a bushel at the close.

LEVERAGE TRUST.

I would like to know the nature of a leverage investment trust. The term is unfamiliar to me.—R. B.

Answer: The term "leverage" has been applied only recently to investment companies to describe the effect of senior securities which cause a percentage change in the equity of the common stock out of proportion to the change in asset value.

A leverage investment trust or company has outstanding one or more issues of bonds, debentures, preferred stocks or other senior securities in addition to the common stock. Most investment companies which do not have the power to issue unlimited amounts of common stock are in the leverage class.

Because the participation of the senior securities is fixed and has precedence over the common stock, any change in asset value falls first on the common stock.

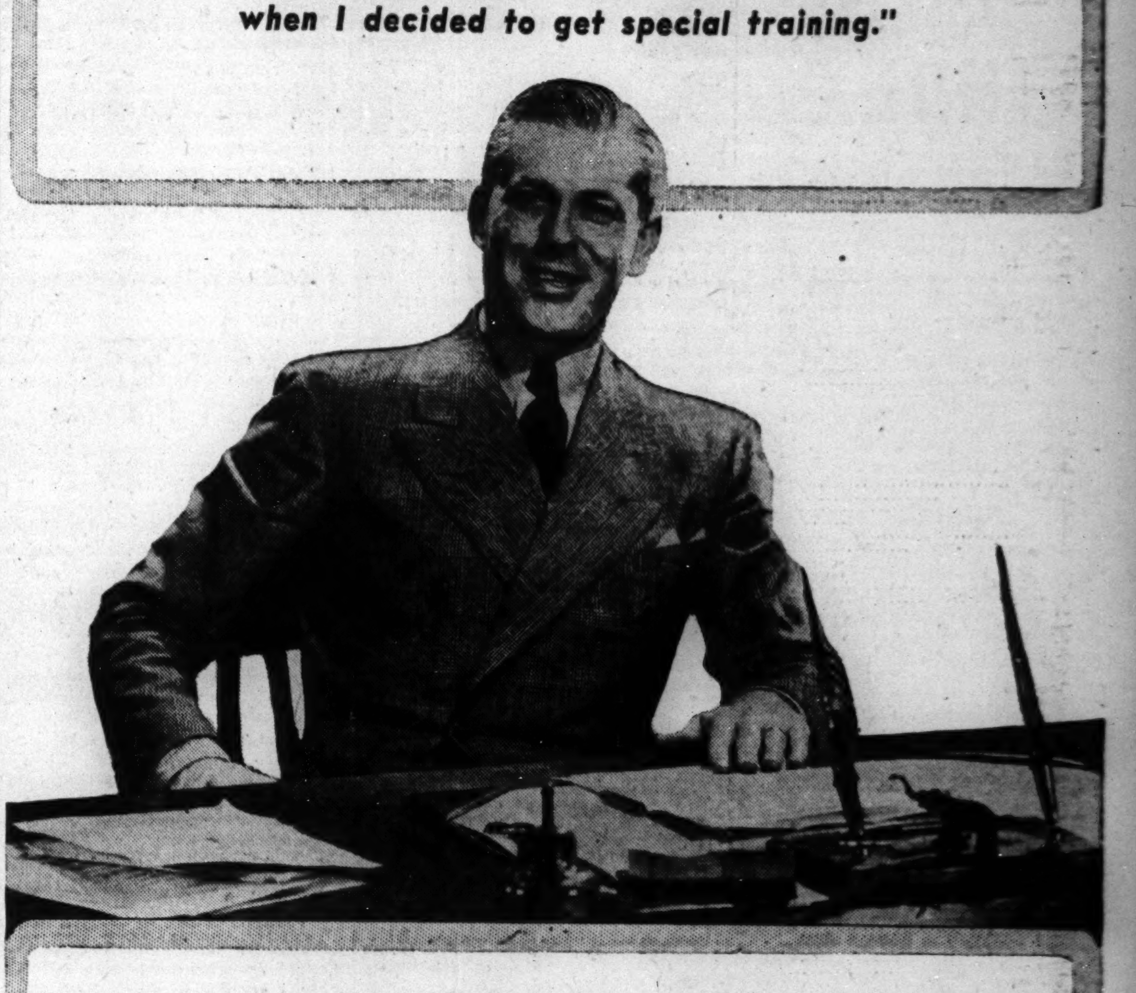
For example the asset value of an investment trust is $500,000 and the preferred stock is entitled to a fixed $100,000, the remainder representing the equity of the common stockholders. If the asset value rises 20 per cent to $600,000 the common stock equity would advance 25 per cent to $500,000. On the other hand, if the asset value drops 50 per cent to $250,000, the common stock equity would fall 62½ per cent to $150,000.

Leverage—as borrowed from the science of physics—implies that the effect of a given force is amplified. Thus, the effect of a fluctuation in asset value is amplified, in the presence of prior issues, upon the value of the common stock equity.

FORCING A DIVIDEND.

I own stock in a company which has not paid any dividends for several years altho it has earned substantial profits applicable to the stock. Is there any way I can force the directors to declare a dividend instead of plowing the profits back into surplus?—T. V.

Answer: If the directors are withholding dividends fraudulently or for purposes inimical to all the stockholders, you may be able to obtain a court decree compelling the board to declare a dividend. If no fraud is involved the stockholders usually have no legal right to demand a dividend, because profits become the property of the corporation and not of the individual stockholders. However, in some rare instances, the courts have ordered a dividend payment when they decided that the directors were not acting in the best interests of the stockholders.



"I made a wise decision"

"The turning point in my career came when I decided to get special training."

DO YOU want to earn more money and enjoy more of the good things in life? Have you thought of training yourself for a better paying job? Regardless of the training you need to start you on the road to greater success in your field, you can find schools and private instructors to help you by consulting the Instruction, Trade Schools, Musical and Dramatic and Dressmaking and Millinery Schools columns in the Tribune want ad section.

Because want ad users get better results, they place more want advertising in the Tribune than they place in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

BRITISH 'SOCIAL REVOLUTION' PUT CLOSER TO GOAL

Government Acts to Ease Hardship of Debt.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 19.—The government announced today that its wartime liabilities adjustment bill will become operative on July 1. In the opinion of many observers, this is another move in a series forecasting a social revolution as far reaching as this country has ever known.

The bill provides new protection for people financially hit by the war conditions. It covers rents, mortgages, time payment purchases, and other debts. It is designed particularly to aid the small businessman.

Government officials will be nominated to courts as soon as the bill is passed and any one unable to pay his debts or meet future liabilities will be able to apply to the courts for relief in scaling down his commitments.

Not Ranked as Bankruptcy.

Any settlement ordered between a debtor and creditor under the new scheme will not rank as bankruptcy, it was announced.

As the war continues thousands are expected to be affected by the bill, which further extends the government's hold on national life. Since the outbreak of the blitz last September the government has enforced sweeping measures controlling commerce, industry, and man power.

With the application of labor conscription and expansion of the fighting and civil defense services, more people are directly or indirectly on the government pay rolls than ever before. The stock markets have been almost entirely under government control. The closing of all factories not essential to the war effort renders industry entirely dependent on the government. Railroad systems have been taken over.

Strict Control of Farmers.

Farmers are subject to strict regulations concerning the production and marketing of produce. By means of special licenses, the government completely controls all imports and exports. It is the sole buyer and distributor of many vital commodities.

As the result of government action, the Liverpool cotton market will be closed down completely at the end of this month. Many hundreds of brokers and their staffs will be out of jobs. They will join the thousands of factory workers temporarily unemployed because of the compulsory curtailment of production pending their transfer into munitions work.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

An unexpectedly large run of hogs at the stockyards yesterday reversed the trend of the market. The supply was the largest for any day in nine weeks and the biggest Wednesday run in three months. Market men blamed the talk of a possible strike of handlers and killers for the abrupt increase in shipments.

Top loads sold off 15 cents at $8.15 a hundred pounds, but this price still showed 10 cents gain over last week's close. The day's average, at $7.70, off 10 cents, also stood 10 cents above Saturday.

Farmers shipped in 10,000 cattle, largest Wednesday supply in four weeks. Prices held about steady. Sheep men marketed 9,000 head, the biggest Wednesday total in seven weeks, but prices were steady.

Hog receipts, 28,000; shipments, 400.
Cattle receipts, 10,000; shipments, 2,500.
Sheep receipts, 9,000; shipments, 2,000.

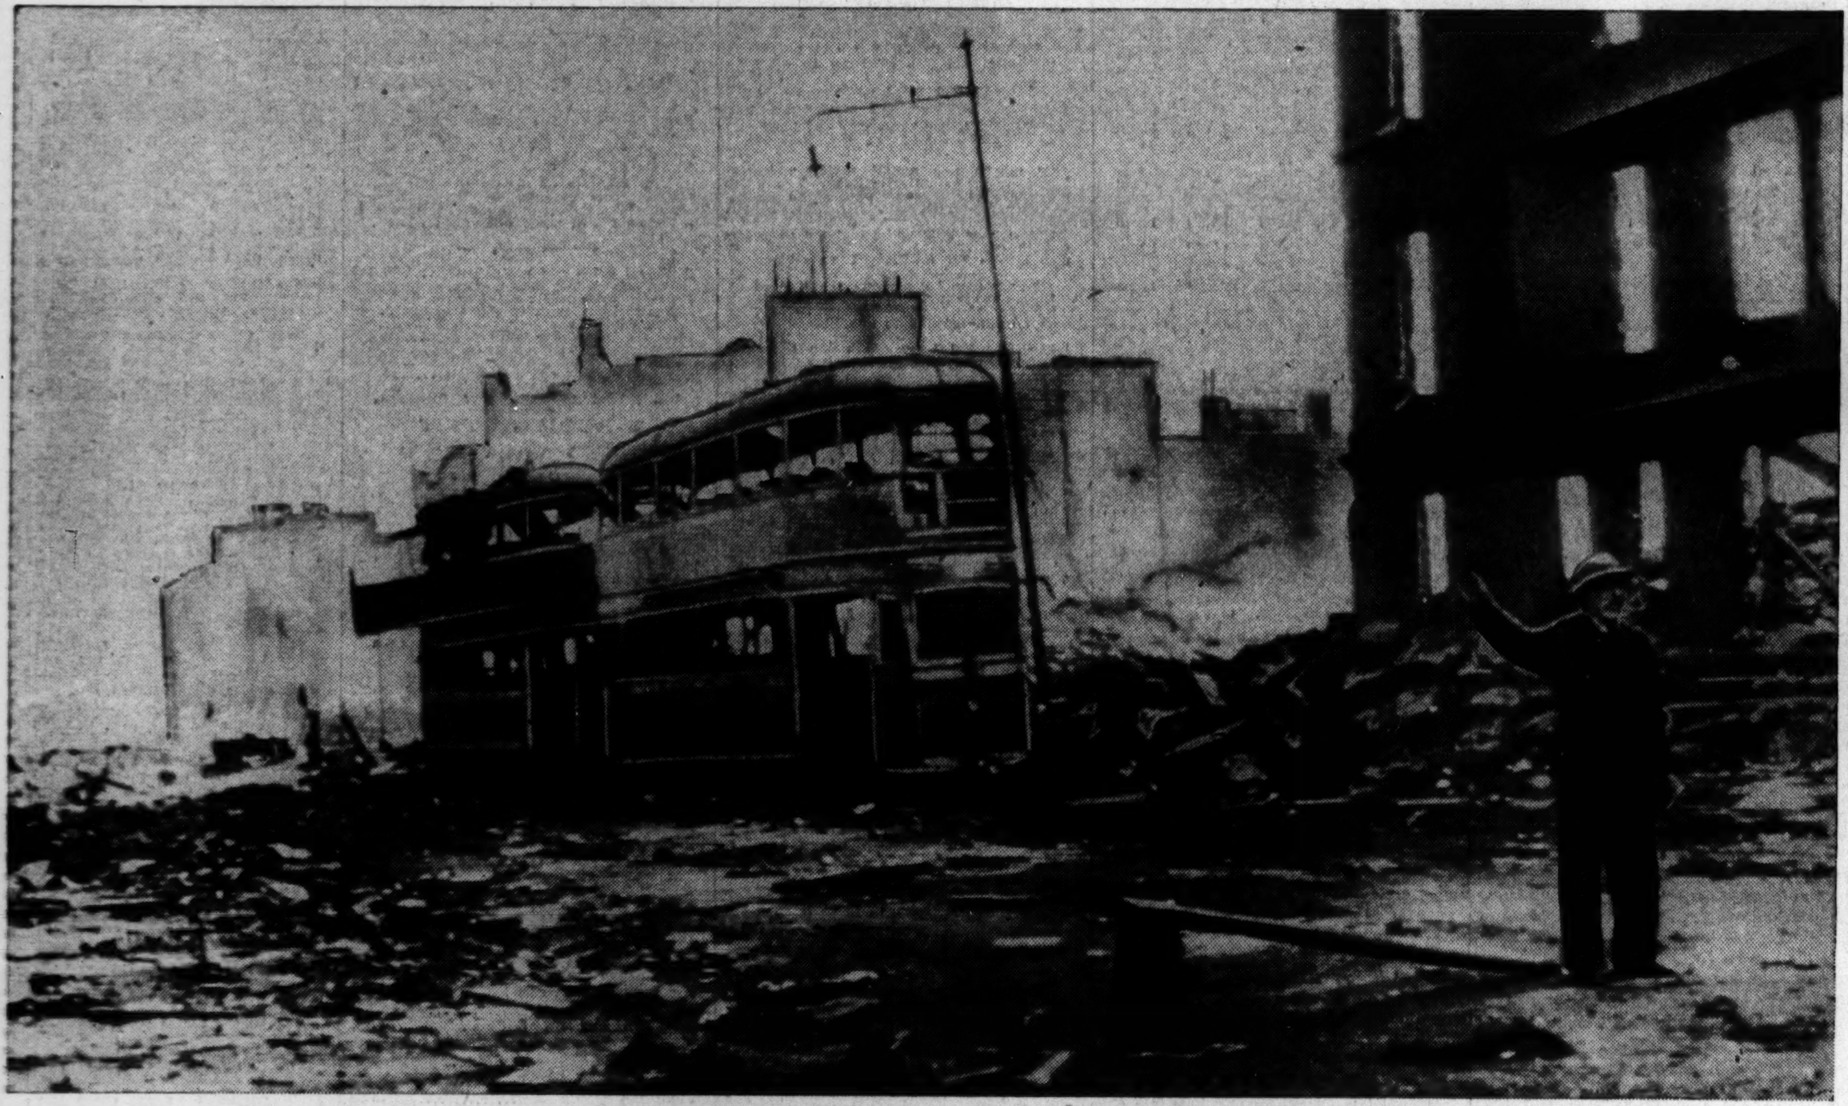
British Forces Advancing on Ethiopian Capital from All Sides—Germans Drop Tons of Bombs on England



[Associated Press Wirephoto: Sent yesterday from London by radio.]

Two wrecked double decked streetcars standing in a debris littered street in the Clydeside, Scotland, area after bombing by German raiders late last week. The British reported 500 killed in Glasgow district. Masses of German bombers loosed a furious attack on London last night.
